

REFLECTOR 197A

EVERYTHING YOU ALWAYS WANTED TO KNOW ABOUT TEACHERS

8 WAYS TO LICK
THE 8-3 ROUTINE

ALICE DISCOVERS GRIFFITHLAND

HOW TO BEAT THE SYSTEM

INSIDEOUTSIDEINSIDEOUTSIDE

What makes a Griffith student what he is? What motivates him, why does he do what he does? What are his views on three years of his life that mold his future? What do students think about the changes that affect his daily routine?

TRENDS CHANGE, STUDENTS SAME

Nostalgia freaks long for the good old days, when school spirit instead of apathy characterized student attitudes.

How much have students changed since the days when girls wore bobby socks and boys were greasers? Opinions vary greatly according to perspective.

"Kids talk of doing their own thing, but students of today are no more individual than in the past. Only the trends they follow have changed," asserted junior Dan Heggi.

Involved with students for over 16 years, Mr. Robert G. Kurtz, superintendent of schools, has seen the rise and demise of many trends.

"Today, students have a tendency to be more individual than they were before.

I don't think it's any accident. I think schools in general and society as a whole have encouraged youngsters to be more individual."

TO JOIN OR NOT?

Joiner versus the Noninvolved. Comparable to Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, the compulsive joiner and the nonjoiner occupy ends of a spectrum. Why do some students participate in clubs and organizations while others go home and watch the Early Show?

Why would a student stick with a losing team or a club that accomplishes nothing? "I compete in sports because it involves competition, discipline and accomplishment," commented a senior member of the Panther football squad.

"Most of the clubs I'm in don't do anything, but I stay in them so I'll be there just in case something does happen," stated one joiner.

"The main reason I don't get involved in clubs or go out for a sport is because I feel I can use my time better outside the school community. Instead of spending my time sitting on the bench and watching the other guys play, I'm working, saving money for a car."

Agreeing with the majority, a senior said, "since you're only in high school for three years, you might as well get as much from it as possible. After school, you'll be working for the rest of your life."

INSIDE OUTSIDE INSIDE OUTS

phase elective roulette

PHASES — 'GREAT IDEA'

Phase Elective — Involves the topic for 10 different students and 10 different resources will be used. ranging from, "The Best Thing that ever happened to English" to "what I love."

Basically, the Phase Elective program consists of a series of nine work sheets offered to bring up English while providing a solid English background.

With a structure, it provides options for work that would never bring under the old program.

The ultimate winners in something like this are the students — Kurtz said Mr. Robert G. Kurtz (Superintendent of Schools)

A student offering his views on phase elective — "The system is good if you're interested in a class and if you can talk enough to get involved then."

"I think phase elective is a good idea. For the most part, you are grouped with kids who progress at the same rate you do. Also, since a wide variety of courses is offered, it is easy to get into something you like." another student noted.

110] another student commented: "English is not English. They get tired to make it a tedious experience with their assignments."

Students received a pamphlet explaining phase elective. The cover is designed to show the student an instructor who will provide him with a sound understanding of the examination of English 101. It also lists the following: a voice in classroom activities comparable with his ability and interests. If he plans, why he should enjoy a more experience than is possible in the traditional program.

REFLECTOR 1974

Griffith High School
Griffith, Indiana Vol. 33

INSIDE 2-69

OUTSIDE 70-147

PEOPLE 148-189

ALICE DISCOVERS GRIFFITHLAND

Tumbled, tossed and trembling, Alice cried out in anguish as she felt herself falling through a cloud of darkness. Smack! She landed before a brick building with glass doors and windows.

"Where am I," she wondered to herself. To her surprise, a Voice from beyond boomed, "Griffithland."

Her eyes glimpsed an inscription on the wall which read "Griffith Senior High School." With all the kids sitting outside the building, Alice realized that she should have guessed that this was some type of youth establishment.

Baffled by the Voice and forced on by some mysterious power, Alice stepped into the wide lobby.

A list of 51 faculty members on a wall near her right side caught Alice's attention.

"I wonder what they do here?" The question flashed in her brain and again the Voice answered in its computer-like monotone.

"Teachers are present from 7:45 a.m. to 3:10 p.m. as required by the administration. This does not include the time given by teachers who stay after to help students with classwork, homework, special problems and clubs or teams."

Alice, both pleased and annoyed by the Voice that could read her thoughts, peered up and down the corridor. It seemed as if dozens of kids lined a narrow ledge and hundreds more wandered through the hall. Alice was lured by the constant motion of the 1,040 students.

"This place must look like a ghost town in the summer." Again the Voice read her thoughts.

"After the 38 weeks of the regular school session, summer school opens, lasting from six to eight weeks. The six credit courses, ranging from typing and health to driver's education and government, furnish knowledge to 400 students, 300 of which enroll in driver's ed. The courses are not only for the student who has failed a class necessary for graduation, but also the one who wants to get enough credits to graduate early. The driver's ed class can help students get driving benefits and insurance breaks if . . ."

"Stop! What's that room over there used for?"

Alice's attention focused on a small room with the word "Guidance" above the door. A woman looked up and smiled at Alice. Inside, the room was orderly and the neat office's friendliness agreed with her. Heartened by the impression, Alice's curiosity overcame her fear and drove her to turn to the Voice.

"Hey, Voice, tell me how this friendly place fits in with the school and if there's other places like it hidden here."

"Guidance department members help students with class schedules, future careers and disciplinary problems. Yes, Alice, we have many special places like this in the building. Some are the audio-visual department, the Resource Center, the library and the cafeteria."

"Wait. You're going too fast; tell me more about this career business."

"A special career center is available for use by all students. Material on variety of careers from sanitation workers to lawyers is provided. Students may visit the career center during class or after school. The school also has a Career Day when over 30 persons from various occupations come to speak to students.

"The audio-visual department," the Voice continued, "services both the senior and junior high. It prints much of the mimeographed classroom material including student handbooks and final exams. The Resource Center helps students who can't carry the full academic load by cutting classroom size and providing extra attention for the student who needs it."

"This all sounds good, Voice but I hear students moving and think if I don't start moving, too, I'm going to miss something."

Students at the Hammond High School, Hammond, Indiana, are learning how to type on a typewriter.

As the cafeteria served a steady supply of pizza and fish patties, many students escape from routine by becoming brown-baggers.

With one class over and another just ahead, students find time during the class break to share an inside joke.

USE YOUR HAND!

Want car repairs done quickly? Want them done right? Without paying an arm and a leg. Save money by doing it yourself with parts from Allied.
— Allied Auto Supply, Hammond, Highland, and Lansing.

SCHOOL UNFOLDS STORY OF ITS SERVICES; CONFUSION DIMINISHES

Roaming the halls, Alice gazed at the 41 classrooms. They looked pleasant with their posters and displays. Alice fell into step with a group but discovered that she was out of shape and needed exercise.

The Force directed her through a tour of the school's two gyms, football field, basketball and tennis courts. Narration, provided by the Voice, filled her with awe.

"The olympic size pool is 4 to 12 feet deep. Students of all grades from elementary to high school use the facility. Three diving boards and six lanes make the pool a place of competition with about 20 meets a year. In addition to varsity meets, a family free swim makes sure adults can enjoy the facilities. Swim club uses the area six hours a week; total hours of use are 59 a week."

The Voice continued, "The community has access to the gyms one night a week. Upstairs and downstairs gyms are in use five nights a week. Dance-time arrives at least twice a year and the basketball back boards and rims disappear behind a camouflage of crepe paper for Prom and Turnabout."

"With 10 games a season," the voice droned on, "the football field furnishes a meeting place for players, fans and foes. The track around the football field's gravel gives runners the needed traction as they participate in six meets a season. Wrestlers use the upstairs gym for their 12 meets while the tennis team has 14 meets outside on the courts. The two baseball teams swing away in their 25 games, while girls participate in GIA sports like volleyball."

"Wow! What else does the school offer students?"

The impelling force guided her down a narrow hall into a large quiet room, filled with books.

"The library offers 17,000 volumes, ranging from cooking to today's science fiction."

"That sounds like a goodly supply," Alice said.

Following her nose to the school's kitchen, Alice pilfered some cookies and milk.

"What happens here?"

"Over 21,600 hamburgers and 27,000 fish filets are served here and 83,900 students buy hot lunches yearly. The cafeteria is also used for pom pon squad practice, testing and as a meeting place."

The force pulled Alice into an area where students sat chatting.

"This patio is a favorite gathering place during lunch."

Back in the school, Alice found herself in a huge, dimly-lit room filled with seats and a stage.

"The site of school and local presentations, this auditorium serves both educational and entertainment purposes."

After walking all that way, Alice's feet hurt. She started to ease herself into one of the comfortable chairs when the force jerked her to her feet.

"Oh no. Now where to?" she moaned to herself.

Equipment, an integral part of lab work, enabled science students to experiment and discover previous unknowns.

Not only providing a place for students to refuel, the cafeteria serves as a gathering spot for conversation.

Ecology-minded students beat the energy and clean air crises. Bike racks overflowed during a fall gas shortage.

or Social Studies Department."

"That's fine but what about students who enjoy music? You probably haven't developed a Mick Jagger or Elton John but you must have something."

"Right, Alice. We have three chorus classes and two concert bands. Talent is present here, though we don't boast any million-dollar singers. You might be interested to know that there are classes here preparing students for coping with life. Preparation for adult living is one such class. Foods help students learn the basics and economics of cooking.

"Is that all?"

"No, there're others. Distributive education class helps students learn the skills of a business trade while receiving credit. Work-study system . . ."

Alice heard a bell ring and noticed a different sound from what she'd heard during the day. Students were rushing out but a few stayed.

"Are they being punished?"

Do they have to stay?"

"No, Alice," the man laughed.

These kids are staying to participate in school organizations. About 40 per cent of the student body belongs to at least one club. Clubs range from the Antique, Chess and Booster Clubs to ones that provide examples of governmental structure like Student Council."

Alice then felt the Voice force her to her feet and said, "Well, thanks. Hope I see you again."

She started walking down that empty hall.

"This place sure sounds better than where I came from! Griffithland . . . Think I'll stay."

Clothes to suit you!

What's the best dressed student wearing this year? Ken Buzea and Ken Galik find that the fashion conscious guy goes to Falvey's for the latest styles in pants, shirts, and ties. — Falvey's Clothing Store, 134 Broad, Griffith 838-1912

K-E

SPECTRA

BUSINESS BOOMS & DEPRESSIONS

✓

To peer into the economic future of the country amid an energy crisis and Watergate, junior Dave Hallowell bases his observations on a graph of past peaks and pits of big business.

Filling every niche of his classroom, Mr. Harold Mack, world history teacher prizes memorabilia students have given him throughout his teaching years.

IMPEACHMENT WATERGATE, BRING FIRST-HAND HISTORY TO STUDENTS

What did our ancestors read in their newspapers? What games did they play as children? What customs did they practice? A complete story of the past includes not only the contents of old newspapers, but also the kind of food they ate. History students examined the concept that man's ability to solve problems today depends on his familiarity with the past. Studying battles of early civilizations, world history classes compared their techniques of war with the atomic energy of today. The effectiveness of communism and democracy as forms of government were contrasted and compared. Students learned what made or broke a government and how the same problem could be prevented or solved in the future. Watergate brought a significant meaning to the word "impeachment" in U.S. history classes. Hearings on TV helped students understand the basis for indictment, but some didn't consider it fair to forfeit their favorite soap operas for political issues. Written reports on the energy crisis and discussions on President Nixon's foreign policies outlined the current events course. Government students sympathized with the perplexing jobs of state congressmen as they redraw congressional districts of one state, while economics classes experienced and studied the problems of rising costs when filling up the gas tank in the car, or taking a date out for a hamburger. Through the use of a finger maze, blindfolded psychology students proved manual dexterity has little to do with intelligence. By creating ink blots, students traced behavior patterns among each other and compared them with emotionally unstable people. Levels on which social standings are based were covered in sociology. Habits, emotions and how they combine with mental health served as basic topics for the course.

On your mark! Set! Slippery Rock, Tuscaloosa, Elephant Forks. In order to become more aware of the country, Tom Paulauski and Barb Carder race to locate cities on the U.S. map.

Pick One —

Watergate A. a gate or valve controlling the flow of water. B. a posh hotel, housing many Washington notables, including the Democratic Party headquarters. C. a term symbolizing the system for political trickery and backstabbing prevalent in the United States today. D. all of the above.

On October 10, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew became the second vice president in history to resign his office. Agnew quit after pleading no contest to a single count of federal income tax evasion.

Many class discussions focused on the decaying political scene in America, but some teachers encountered the same type of apathy that prompted housewives to complain about the senate Watergate hearings pre-empting their favorite soap operas.

Instead of falling asleep while studying about the Revolutionary War or how a bill is passed, students participated in classes as history unfolded on television and in newspapers on a day-to-day basis.

President Richard Nixon, felt by many to be inviting impeachment, refused to yield the controversial

WATERGATE: COUNTRY FUMES AS BUG-ER VS. BUG-EE

Watergate tapes until public opinion forced him to capitulate. The tapes allegedly contained conversation between Nixon and his aides concerning Watergate and the subsequent cover-up. Many people hoped the releasing of the tapes would prove at what point in time Nixon first learned of the activities of his aides.

Nixon separated from his see no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil status and had special Prosecutor Archibald Cox dumped when Cox put the pressure on Nixon in the courts to release the tapes.

With each new disclosure that alternately furthered and squashed impeachment plans, students wondered where it would all end.

In order to get the story behind the news, the public subscribed to weekly news magazines such as Time.

FRIENDS OR ENEMIES? LEFT TO RIGHT — Spiro T. Agnew, Richard M. Nixon, Sam Ervin, Archibald Cox.

Current meat prices chopping up your food budget? Beat the freeze by stocking up on groceries from Burgers. Before the prices begin soaring sky high.

Nada Jandrich loaded her shopping cart up with bargains from Burgers.

— Burgers, 1803 45th, Munster.

KIDS' APATHY

ACCOUNTS FOR SHORTAGE IN COUNCILS

"This is Floyd Kalber with the ten o'clock news. The subject making headlines today is Watergate. President Nixon has denied . . ."

"Do we have to listen to this again? I can't stand to hear another word about Watergate," Mrs. Smith exclaimed to her husband.

"Good morning. Here are today's announcements. There is a large shortage of candidates for Student and Executive Councils. If more people do not run, there will be no need to vote."

Groans escaped from many classrooms.

"Are they going to start on that apathy bit again?" said one student. "I'm so sick of hearing about it."

Just as citizens were turned off by Watergate, students became apathetic about participating in the school government. When the time came to select representatives, 85 ran for 78 positions, guaranteeing victories for all but 7. By the end of the first nine weeks, one-fourth of these people were replaced because they missed more than three meetings. Although low interest hampered the offices' abilities to function successfully, they adjusted and worked toward their main goals. Governing each class, the three executive councils created unity through projects such as float construction, bake and magazine sales and car washes. Student Council, which represents the entire student body, attended school board meetings to learn how the administration made decisions. They also planned such things as a talent show, clean-up drive and a Christmas party for underprivileged children at the Carmelite home.

SOPHOMORE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL — back row: Edie Baxter, Rita Gerrity, Laura Kolpin, Kathy Holevinsky; second row: Betty Henderson, Jeanne Gillis, Pam Garastik, Lu Loomis, Denise Hill; front row: Emily Tgrovich, secretary; Betty Konopasek, treasurer; Sue Galambos, vice president; Missy Summers, president.

STUDENT COUNCIL — back row: Dan Marren, Terese Reitz, Curt Hunt, Lee Ann Terpstra, Roger Ford, Dave Richards, Chris Brown, Hesta Smith; fourth row: Jack Thomas, Dick Sohn, Laura Kolin, Sheila Glover, Kathy Holevinsky, Kim Kospelke, Sue Jeremiah, Cinde Giffin; third row:

Joyce Pierscinski, Lou Ann Gates, Denise Hill, Nancy Holmgren, Karol Wegrzyn, Janice Slupski, Carol Ciorianu, Judy Hooks; second row: Lu Loomis, Chris Donovan, Cindi Leistikow, Ann McCabe, Lorene Murray, Jeanne Gillis, Pam Garastik, Dawn Malik; front row: Trish Kolarik, Brad Belush, president; Joe Rygas, vice president; Bill Konopasek, secretary; Harolene Willerman, treasurer; Becky Randolph, Betty Henderson.

JUNIOR EXECUTIVE COUNCIL — back row: Tom Trinosky, Dan Marren, Dave Hallowell, Dave Richards, Dave Pavuk; second row: Gina Carroll, Susan Buikema, Carol Ciorianu, Dawn Malik, Greta Longoria; front row: Debbie Glass, president; Becky Randolph, vice president; Carolyn Hoshaw, secretary; Sherry Fulkerson, treasurer.

SENIOR EXECUTIVE COUNCIL — back row: Chris Brown, Curt Hunt, Lee Ann Terpstra, Greg Allman, Roger Ford; second row: Kim Kospelke, Chelsa Nowak, Sheryl Smiedzinski, Judy Barenie, Sheila Glover, June Aldrin, front row: Janice Slupski, Sue Jeremiah, treasurer; Bill Konopasek, vice president; Carolyn Tziz, secretary; John Lindsey, president.

Mind Over Matter

Money matters preying on your mind? Get your head together like Ken Kus with a loan from the Bank of Indiana. They don't mind lending you money — Bank of Indiana, 9600 Cline, 835-7392.

LEADERS: DESIRE PLUS GUTS EQUALS PLANNERS, DECISION-MAKERS

Apathy, apathy, apathy.
Again and again the cry echoed throughout the school until the very mention of the word brought disgust.

Apathy . . . bleah!

"We must DO something about this problem," the students roared at election time. "We must vote in officers that will DO something."

The election passed and nobody ran. No one wanted to organize Prom or run
Student Council.

Each was afraid to be blamed if a class float fell apart at its judging or the graduation announcements were a tacky color.

Since there were no officers, activities like Homecoming disappeared because nobody had organized them.

Although such a fairy tale exists only as a whim, it does possess a germ of truth: fewer students do run for offices.

Last year's Student Council treasurer and secretary candidates went unopposed while this year's Student Council representative race proved an election in

*"We must DO something about this problem.
We must vote in officers that will DO something."*

name alone as 39 students tried out for 45 openings and automatically received the positions.

Those who hoped to fill the sophomore and senior executive council seats turned their names into the office and presto, they

Up Up and away with the expert operators at G & N runway Fly across the sky and discover the best kind of high.
— G & N Airport, 1701 East Main St.,
Griffith, 838-7110.

became instant members. Only juniors voted for their governing body because 29 signed up for the 15 slots, enough for an election.

Gone were the petitions, the hand-lettered signs proclaiming "Mary Smith for Student Council treasurer" and the elaborate campaign speeches of years' past. Even elections were passé.

In an atmosphere of such overwhelming disinterest, why would anyone want to run for office? Over and over the same answers appear like clichés.

"I ran because the experience would be helpful to me," Brad Belush, Student Council president, said. "Being Student Council president shows me me responsibility

please turn to page 16

Students who run for offices find themselves in the limelight as the silent majority who wishes they had the nerve to run fade into the background.

When you're a leader you gain a sense of self-confidence. The "I have to make a speech jitters" disappear for Debbie Glass as she addresses Junior Executive Council.

Fly Away with G&N

LEADERS: WHY DO THEY RUN? QUEST FOR POPULARITY, POWER MOTIVATES OFFICE-SEEKERS

Although a class office often brings prestige and self-pride, it also means sacrifice. Nights spent laboring in damp garages make Sue Jeremiah wonder if it's worth it.

and leadership."

Just as the bright lights of Hollywood beckon a would-be starlet, a position in student government appeals to some. Whatever magic the idea of an office conjures, it attracts both a person who keeps on winning year after year and one who loses every election.

"I just like to be involved. That's the only reason I keep running."

Serving as a class officer for three years, Senior Class vice president, Bill Konopasek said, "I just like to be involved. That's the only reason I keep running."

Greg Allman pursued an

A FRIEND IN NEED IS A FRIEND IN DEED

In times of sorrow don't distress. You can always get a little help from a friend at Royce's — Royce Funeral Home, 242 Griffith Blvd., Griffith, 838-6548.

office throughout his high school career but it always eluded him.

"Even though I kept losing, I didn't feel I had the right to complain if I didn't have the guts to try," Greg stated.

However, like society's silent majority, students prefer to gripe that "The same people run the class" but few challenge "those same people."

One student said, "I would never run for anything because I don't feel like being laughed at. I wouldn't win against the rahs."

And the cry resounded throughout the school, "Let's elect officers that will DO something."

With leadership goes responsibility. Executive Council members find themselves still in the classroom discussing float ideas while others raid the "fridge".

TEIBEL'S
The ideal Family Restaurant
Famous for Fried Chicken, Steak and Perch Banquet Facilities
On U.S. 30 & 41 Schererville, Indiana
Phone 865-2000

Because of 35-minute lunch breaks, students rush to their cars in order to get food at nearby drive-ins and be back in class before the tardy bell rang.

Tired of fighting the crowd and waiting in the long line for lunch, Sue Bulkema and Chris Barta find a solution by eating at home. Open lunch provides variety for many.

Lunch period is not only for eating, as junior Jill Konopasek finds it a good time to finish an assignment for her next class and catch up on some reading for Current Events.

WHAT'S NEW IN THE LUNCH ROOM?

The quest for women's suffrage. The fight to repeal prohibition. The bout for integration. The struggle for an open lunch.

While the first three subjects denote famous causes in America's history, the last one portrays a noted goal in the annals of Student Council.

Seeking to alleviate the cafeteria's overcrowding, 1971-72 Student Council suggested an open lunch where students could remove their cars from the school parking lot.

In a battle of semantics, the administration stated that since students could leave school grounds at noon, the lunch was open and driving cars would only cause accidents. Principal T. J. White vetoed the proposal.

Undaunted by their predecessors failure, the 1972-73 council argued for an open lunch. Their petition met a similar fate.

However, during the summer, Mr. White and Superintendent of Schools Robert Kurtz reconsidered and granted the proposal.

Get on your mark. Get set. Go. As the buzzer sounded, announcing the 35-minute lunch period's arrival, students treaked toward the parking lot, leaped in cars and headed toward McDonald's in lieu of sneaking toward autos illegally parked on side streets.

Others who preferred to remain at school or weren't blessed with friends who drove, gobbled sack lunches, grabbed a bite in the short line or ate cafeteria grub. Since open lunch, were these people as scarce as an honest politician?

Not according to the cafeteria's head cook Mrs. Barbara Brill. "We only serve about 60 less lunches now and the ones who leave school are never here anyway," she commented.

Those fleeing school lunches raced against the clock and faced the danger of tarrying too long in Tastee Freeze or McDonald's.

I don't have any exact figure on it but tardies have increased an awful lot since the open lunch started," Director of Pupil Personnel, Mr. Charles O'Rourke stated. Prohibition. Open lunch. People. fought for these causes and won.

Open lunch has its disadvantages. Sophomore Laura Bolla discovers that staying for lunch over the 35 minutes means getting locked out till someone notices her.

Lack of a car sometimes meant staying in the cafeteria. Brian Boris and Jim Terpstra find themselves confined to hum drum school food.

variety offered; english takes on a

NEW FORM

"Why do I have to read this book? I'm not interested in colonial history. For all I care the pilgrims could have landed on the North Pole. This is one book that's going to rot in my locker."

"Aren't you interested in anything?"

"Sure, just the other day I was reading a book on the Civil War. Did you know that the rebel prison Andersonville was one of the worst in..."

E 13 — Civil War Literature

"I don't believe I flunked another grammar test. I listen but I guess I need more time than other people. Two weeks of grammar just wasn't enough. What am I going to do in college? If I don't do well once I get down to Purdue, my dad said..."

E 23 — Advanced Grammar for the College Bound

"I hate the long books we have to read in here. By the time I finish one, I've completely forgotten what happened at the beginning of the book. And that's only when I'm lucky enough to

Please turn to page 23

In Great American Classics II, Bob Rastovski finds that "An American Tragedy," although a serious book, contains some humorous lines.

SPEECH CLUB — back row: Dave Richards, Terese Reitz, John Young, front row: Joyce Pierscinski, Cindy Valentine.

The many moods of drama class are reflected in the faces of Nada Jandrich, John Young, Terese Reitz and Jo Marie Churilla.

Peewee starts in deference to newly developed products. Mass media student Kurt Sanders discovers this with his new cereal.

All work and no play makes Reflectorites dull on deadline day. Pepsi provides a pleasant break from preparing pages. You've got a lot to live and Pepsi's got a lot to live. — Pepsi Cola Bottlers Inc., 9300 Calumet, Munster, 836-1800.

PEPSI

Sophomores couldn't participate in phase electives until they had one semester of English. Debbie Riggs awaits drama classes while suffering through nouns and verbs.

The importance of Charles Darwin's Origin of Species in Inherit the Wind is pointed out to Lori Shepkowski in a phase elective class taught by Mr. Charles Hartkin.

menagerie of classes extracted from basic english, form PHASE ELECTIVES finish the book. Why don't they have a class . . ."

E 16 — Development of the American Short Story

The subject is as old as man himself. Ever since the first teacher taught his students grammar or reading, groans of "I already know how to talk so why do I have to learn this?" resounded.

Teachers attempted to make their subject more interesting with the use of audio-visual aids, games or acting out play, but still found that students' interest soon flagged.

Finally the English Department came up with a solution — Phase Electives. For the first time over 35 courses were offered, allowing the student to choose subjects of his interest without losing the essentials of the language. Ranging from Family Circle to Highlights of English Literature, the courses lasted for nine weeks and were geared to the students' learning rate.

Students could now take as many as 12 English courses in three years and read books as widely different as Mr. and Mrs. Bo Jo Jones and The Scarlet Letter.

But even with the new system complaints still existed.

"How am I supposed to decide which courses to take? You know I can't ever make up my mind."

Others who enjoyed the spoken rather than the written word, displayed their talents in Speech Club competition. Five students braved early morning rising and scratchy voices to compete with over 1,000 Calumet Regionites in events such as Extemporaneous Speaking.

SACRIFICE

HOME FOOD, WARM BEDS; PRODUCE REFLECTOR

As the deadline approaches, copy editor Donna LaRue checks captions, copy and headlines for opening editor Dan Marren.

As each deadline is completed, editor-in-chief Chris Patterson marks off the finished pages on the production chart.

When a person thinks of staying up till four o'clock in the morning he thinks of Prom, slumber parties and New Year's Eve. But when a staffer thinks of staying up till four in the morning he thinks of all-night work sessions, triplicating copy, writing captions and designing layouts.

"What's a colorful verb to replace this dull one?" "Aren't you done with that typewriter?" or "Help me think of a lead for my story," were never-ending cries as a staffer hurried to complete layouts so they could leave damp basements and go home to warm beds.

To prevent work from piling up, Reflectorites took turns grabbing a bit of dinner at McDonalds or Burger King to hush their growling stomachs.

Hounding teachers, custodians and students for needed facts, staffers turned the school inside out to present the student's point of view through the theme INSIDE-OUTSIDE.

The Herff Jones Medal of Citation awarded to the 1973 Reflector as one of the top four yearbooks in the nation. The book also merited the Ingelhart Award for best yearbook during the second week at the Ball State Journalism Workshop.

BUSINESS STAFFERS — Kim Adams, subscriptions; Cheryl Welch, advertising; Tyann Alger, business.

"Who is it?" An unfamiliar face causes problems for editor-in-chief, Chris Patterson, advertising editor, Sheila Burnett, layout editor, Judy Hunt as they try to identify a student.

SECTION EDITORS — back row: Nancy Joyce, co-organizations; Nancy Idukovich, co-organizations; Laura Bolla, co-academics; Brenna Brown, co-index; second row: Denise Hill, contributing editor; Mary Sufak, underclass; Ray Sanders, sports; Jeanne Gillis, assistant activities; front row: Janice Slupski, indepth reporter; Pam Garastik, co-academics; Laura Piehl, co-organizations; Sue Catchur, activities.

"What's happening tomorrow?" Photography editor, John Trumbull, keeps abreast of upcoming events by looking at the calendar.

Always looking for an interesting news occurrence, reporters roam the halls, armed with pencil and paper in quest of a page one story.
REPORTERS — back row: Joyce Pierscinski,

Linda Rogowski, Carolyn Hoshaw, Mary Su-fak, front row: Ray Saunders, Harolene Willern, David Richards.

Pondering his next story, sports editor Don Lewis wonders whether he will miss mom's spaghetti and meatballs in order to finish his copy by deadline.

'I CAN'T READ MY HISTORY BOOK WITHOUT THINKING I COULD HAVE WRITTEN THIS BETTER'

"Panther Press is more a way of life than a class. I can't read my history book without thinking, 'I could have written this better.' When I browse through the Sears catalogue, I don't just look at the clothes, I notice the layout," a staffer stated.

These were feelings that carried the Panther Press beyond the realm of "just a high school newspaper."

Although the paper showed changes like a layout featuring broken boxes and a new flag, it revealed something deeper: the staff's ability to work together.

Putting the Panther Press before oneself meant sacrifices. A business manager who sold ads during her lunch time often expanded the usual four-page weekly into six and eight pages. Editors that looked beyond the news' surface brought in-depth stories on boredom, divorce and dating.

Occasional thoughts of quitting disappeared as a student opened the paper, found his story and declared, "That's what I wrote."

Business staffers Kathy Holvevinsky circulation manager; Brenna Brown, subscription manager; and Mary Popyk, business-advertising manager; work together to bring their record books up-to-date.

"None of us is as smart as all of us." Panther Press editors, Carolyn Hoshaw and Harolene Willerman followed this maxim in planning story ideas.

Editor-in-chief Trish Kolarik duties go beyond writing stories and making sure the paper meets its deadline; she also keeps peace on staff.

Before going to the printers, managing editor Janice Slupski checks a late news story with copy editor Linda Rogowski.

Root helps you to remember . . .
 ROOT photographers
 1131 W. Sheridan - Chicago

Photography is more than snapping a button. Photographers Larry Briski, Greg Allman and Ken Kus prepare to process the negatives.

Making last — minutes changes on the staff's copy, Lee Ann Terpstra, News Bureau Chief, looks for any errors before sending it into THE TIMES.

digging, delving in student activities, newsbureau tells WHAT IT'S ABOUT

It's 3:30 p.m. on a cold, rainy Thursday afternoon. Most students have just plopped their books on the kitchen table and are now scrounging around in the refrigerator for last night's leftover fried chicken.

Back at school, however, a few kids remain. From the J-room, the clacking of typewriters fills the air as students hurry to finish copy.

Striving to meet weekly Thursday deadlines, News Bureau kept the community abreast of school happenings.

While the average reporter wrote articles for only one newspaper, News Bureau staffers found their stories in five area papers.

Instead of words, photographers used pictures to relate their ideas for Panther Press and Reflector.

NEWS BUREAU — back row: Nancy Frailley, TIMES corres.; Jill Rieder, associate chief; Kim Racz, news editor; Carrie Blythe, TIMES corres.; front row: Lee Ann Terpstra, Chief; Terry Patton, features; Don Lewis, sports.

"Hey I made it, I'm finally a letterman. But I guess I really do deserve it. After all, I suffered a dislocated shoulder and twisted ankle in one game. They even had to carry me off the field on a stretcher and take me to the hospital in an ambulance. The least they could do is make me a member. Maybe I'll even run for president."

"A letter for me? I wonder what it says — 'Congratulations, you are now a member of National Honor Society.' — Wow, I knew I was smart, but I never dreamed of this. Those long hours of memorizing geometry theorems and practicing French dialogues paid off."

"Quill and Scroll taps" — Joe Schmoe. I belong to Quill and Scroll! I always thought those stories and captions I wrote for the Panther Press were good, but I never knew anyone else did."

Honorary clubs are goals which students strive to reach with effort and determination. They serve as a means of recognizing students who fulfill requirements of leadership, citizenship and sportsmanship.

Honor Society took part in National Education Week by helping lost parents find classrooms on Open House night. They also sponsored the annual Honors Day program.

Electing queen candidates and sponsoring the Homecoming dance were major duties of Letterman's Club. Minor tasks included ushering at games and selling programs.

Quill and Scroll planned the journalism banquet where new staffers were named and old ones honored. Anxious students sat nervously in their seats while the envelopes holding new positions were opened.

"I'm a letterman! I finally made it! After all those hours of practice and keeping in shape. Maybe if I study harder I can qualify for National Honor Society. If I make that, I could even try for Quill and Scroll. There's no stopping me!"

"Mr. White, faculty and student body or was the 'fellow students?' Jumbled phrases fill John Cygan's head as he waits to speak for Jeri Sanders."

LETTERMEN'S CLUB — back row: Greg Allman, Ken Rutledge, Leo Kalembo, Paul Bjelich, John Galambos, Bob Erickson, John Feeney, Ken Galik. fifth row: Gary Korzeniewski, Tom Paulauske, Vince Lawrence, Bob Wagman, Rick Lloyd, Kevin Fleck, Jan Helfen. fourth row: Dave Baran, Bob Sexton, Rick Konoposek, Jeff Chappell, Jay Thomas, Mike Trinks, Perry Key. third

row: Dave Hallowell Kurt Sanders, Keen Buzea, Randy Mageira, Don Deedrick, Craig Collet, Larry Hoffman. second row: Joe Rogowski, Steve Trinks, Jeff Ciesco, Ken Kus, Mark Spitz, Jeff Tuley, Jeff Evans. front row: Dave Hanson, Roger Ford, secretary; Dean Duncan, president; Les Blythe, vice president; Larry Perotti, treasurer; Ted Jarmakowicz.

HONOR SOCIETY — back row: Rick Lloyd, John Fitzgerald, Lonny Alger, Bob Wright, Dick Sohn, Dave Baran. third row: Terese Reitz, Ray Sanders, Les Blythe, Dean Duncan, Dan Marren, Laurie Van Dyke. second row:

Kathy Ballah, Kim Adams, Steve Sporinsky, Janice Slupski, Carol Johnson. front row: Trish Kolarik, Greg Allman, secretary, Chris Patterson, treasurer; Donna LaRue, vice pres.; Carolyn Tzitz, pres.

Solemnly holding the traditional candle which is part of the Quill and Scroll induction, new members listen as the club pledge is recited at the annual journalism banquet.

QUILL AND SCROLL — back row: Trish Kolarik, vice-president; Janice Slupski, president; Chris Patterson, secretary; Donna LaRue, treasurer. second row: Mary Popik, Linda Rogowski, Carolyn Hoshaw, Sheila Currutt. front row: Lee Ann Terpstra, Judy Hunt, Tyann Alger, Larry Briski.

mosaics, macrame, realism, romantic languages forms of SELF-EXPRESSION

Neanderthal, Cro-Magnon and Java man. Although these prehistoric men have been extinct for over 25,000 years, they were revived by art students as sculptured statues molded out of clay then fire baked at 1800°.

Objects lying around the house, otherwise thought of as useless, provided ideas and materials for projects. Picture postcards, albums and magazines supplied ideas as students searched for landscapes with intricate details. Mothers even found their good silverware used for fashionable spoon rings.

7-Up bottles and Skippy

Playing in the mud isn't restricted to the younger set. Art students use clay as a medium to express their creativity.

Those who think art is an easy class don't realize that one painting can take weeks. Tootsie David adds final touches to her portrait.

Displays from the art classes helped liven the halls, transforming the showcase into a mini-museum of modern art for students.

Peanut Butter jars replaced traditional models as students experimented with three dimensional pop art.

In English or history classes notes and tests are usually thrown away. In art, projects such as sand candles or ceramic vases were saved to decorate a bedroom or give as a present.

Through slides and films, art appreciation students recognized the progression of art from the first cave man drawing to Picasso abstract paintings.

Games such as Flute, a French version of bingo, helped students learn vocabulary in a new way instead of through worksheets.

Escaping from the routine of reading texts or conjugating verbs, Spanish students found seeking a 3-day movie entitled "A moment of Truth" cleared up questions about the heritage of the Spanish natives.

"Oops, too much red. Add a little bit more yellow." Seeking that specific shade of tangerine orange paint means careful mixing.

Tapes help Spanish students gain an authentic foreign accent by imitating the natives. Mr. Ray Weaver, Spanish teacher, prepares a new dictation.

Let Cinima I & II entertain you with movies everyday of the week. The people at Cinima feel there's no business like show business. — Ridge Plaza Cinima, 5900 Ridge Road, Griffith, 923-9100.

Mirror, mirror on the wall, which coat looks the best of all? Les Blythe finds that Zandstra's reflects the latest in men's fashion. — Zandstra's, 2629 Highway, 923-3545

Biology student Pat Shaadi breaks away from routine classroom work to the greenhouse where she studies the growth pattern of plants.

"OOPS! I JUST SAT ON MY AMEOWBA."

Worms, Formaldehyde, theorems, proofs, Avogadro's number, quadratic equations, Quantum mechanics. When would they ever stop?

After weeks of endless drilling by science and math teachers, terms that once boggled students' minds soon became everyday words.

Squeamish biology students balked at investigating the

Please turn to page 37

Trying to decide if her equation, using the angle addition theorem is correct, Carol Wegrzyn studies measurements in geometry.

Years ago, a man would laugh at the idea of wearing anything except straight-leg pants and loafers. Today, however, Brad Belush is right in style with cuffed highwastes and clunky shoes from Minas'. — Edward C. Minas, 460 State, Hammond, 923-1500.

To buy or not to buy, that is the question Margie Canham faces as she looks over frozen foods at Plaza — Plaza Food Mart, 511 45th, Griffith, 923-3045.

A doubtful glance towards Brad Govert shows that his lab partner Sherry Fulkerson questions the outcome of their experiment with Electroplating Cells.

"Do we really get penicillin from this?" questions junior Mark Spitz as he prepares a slide to inspect the compositions of bread mold for an upcoming biology lab.

Carefully trying to focus her microscope on the blob under the lens, senior Kim Adams works to see the ameba in proper perspective during biology class.

Accidents will happen! When they do, be sure you're covered with insurance from the Hammond National Company. — Hammond National Company, 5245 Hohman Ave., Hammond, 831-4000.

EQUATIONS, WORMS, NaCl INVESTIGATED

interiors of an earth worm, but soon learned to distinguish a crop from a gizzard.

Amateur Einsteins investigated curious concoctions in qualitative analysis.

Math students who formerly had trouble multiplying and dividing, couldn't believe it when they mastered quadratic equations.

Solving proofs was like unravelling a mystery as geometry students painstakingly worked out problems step-by-step.

Parabolas, points and parallelograms provided challenges as students translated the language of math.

GETTING OUT: EIGHT WAYS TO LICK THE EIGHT-TO-THREE ROUTINE

"Congress has power to pass uniform laws on the subject of ..."

"Yawn" "How many more seconds until 3 p.m.?"

"... bankruptcies throughout the United States."

"I wish I were anywhere but here."

Bored with teachers' lectures students' thoughts like prisoners' focused on one word: escape. Dropouts and Ditchers fled the standard "in by eight, but by three" school routine for a taste of freedom.

However, via seven half-day programs, a senior could work within the system and still break away from high school.

Signed release forms, guidance approval and parental consent mean reams of red tape but yielded a shortened schedule for 72 students.

While their peers memorized the Pythagorean Theorem and dissected worms, students operated cranes or drew blueprints to learn a skilled trade.

Financial setbacks transformed some into premature breadwinners to help support their families. Health problems kept others from a six-period day.

Seniors who spent afternoons in psychology and English Comp. classes at Purdue Calumet Campus or I.U. Northwest received a head start on their college diploma while still working toward their 44 high school credits.

Fulfilling the whim of earning wages while meeting graduation requirements, Distributive Education Club of America members gained on-the-job training.

Proceeds from the club's candy and hot dog sales provided funds for a spring employer-employee banquets.

In DECA competition, students sold their abilities in window display, job interviews and debate instead of their boss' products.

"Congress also has the power to ..."

"Thank God. I leave for work next period."

DECA — back row: Kevin Fleck, Pat Colby, Rick Alexander, Mark Lang, Scott Pierce, Dave Davis, Joe Kras; sixth row: Bob Ortiz, Mariann Kelleman, Laura Bulla, Cinde Griffin, John Ramirez, Sandy Good, Cheryl Wilson, Patti Smith, Rick Ward; fifth row: Donna Carpenter, Ann Lesniak, Linda Norris, Sue Brown, Mary Popyk, Diane Roberts, Rozalind Reeves, Kathe Howard; fourth row: Ann McCabe, Kim Shuts, Therese Benjamin, Tina Wilkey, Cinde Williams, Rose Ruesken, Karen

Bozetarnik, Kathi Carlson; third row: Richard Gardow, Martin Combs, Robin Sexton, Vicky Shea, Debbie Parrish, Marlene Ippolito, Michalene McFarland, Mary Grant; second row: Jeri Donosky, Nancy Meny, Pam Griffith, Jim Long, Toni Nicol, Darlene Wease, Roger Seitzinger, front row: Nancy Eaton, Debi Walley, Patti Winters, Joni Scoville, Linda Graun, Lori Shepkowski, Sharon Stas, Annette Maglish.

While some seniors used weekday afternoons to work, others such as Fredna Holmgren got a head start on their college education.

Punching time cards and carrying out groceries replace dissecting frogs and proving theorems as students chose to work half days instead of taking all six classes.

"$1 of regular please," becomes a familiar request to senior Jerry Tubbs as he works as a gas station attendant.

FUN VS. FINANCES: WHY STUDENTS CHOOSE JOBS OVER SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Ring! Once again the cash register snaps shut and Sue, awaiting the arrival of the next customer, slumps over the counter. Her feet and back ache from sitting in school all day and now standing on a cement floor. It's a slow evening. Everyone is probably out having fun, after all it is Friday night. Sue can picture all her friends at a party while she sits in confinement. She could even be watching "My Fair Lady" at home on T.V. Sue asks herself if these few sacrificed hours are worth it. Thinking of her independence and extra spending money, she decides they definitely are worthwhile. Since Sue isn't saving her money for college and doesn't have a car to spend it on, she will be able to buy that white midi coat with rabbit trim she saw at Marshall Field's for $86. More and more students, like Sue, turned to jobs as a way to pay for their expenses and establish independence. Although some still relied on regular allowances and jobs around the house, job seekers increased. Babysitting and paper routes top the list of jobs most students first obtained.

The road to success isn't an easy one, as Jeff Fetla finds you must start at the bottom scrubbing floors before becoming manager.

In order to keep the high spirited kids occupied, reading fairy tales is just one of many duties for babysitter Chris Donovan.

"Reading bedtime stories and changing diapers helped me experience what it's like to be a mother," sophomore Maribeth Holom commented on her job as a babysitter.

As students grew older, pumping gas at gas stations and becoming a waitress or saleslady took the place of previous jobs. Carry-outs at Thrif-T-Mart and Strack & Van Til didn't mind over 150 monotonous trips to cars when they think of buying that tape player for their car. Sue found herself buying many necessities without having to ask her parents for money. Although she wearily dons her coat and leaves for home after a hard night's work, Sue smiles. She is thinking of buying that new coat.

Neither rain nor sleet nor snow or gloom of night keeps carry-out John Young from trudging to his customer's automobile.

Some students work just for spending money, but Linda Graun hopes to gain vital experience for future jobs.

FINANCES: STUDENT WORKER, SPENDER, SAVER EXPERIENCE PINCH OF TIGHT MONEY MARKET

In exchange for the pay check, the teller slid a crisp $50 bill across the bank counter and into an eager hand.

Stuffed into a worn cowhide wallet, the bill represented 23 hours of lugging groceries at the local supermarket. Like vultures circling an intended victim, merchants would soon pounce on this fraction of the 43 billion-dollar youth market.

A myriad of expenses plaguing its teenage spender would soon split every penny of the $50 into entertainment and essentials, wishes and wants.

Abruptly, the hand dug into the wallet and the bill emerged to land in McDonald's cash register. Big Mac — 65 cents

Students who owned cars found keeping them in working order a major expense. Gas seemed to disappear at an amazing rate and repairs, new parts, or tune-ups were constantly using up money.

Prom could sometimes cost one couple over two hundred dollars. Girls needed a gown, boutonniere, hairdo and shoes. Guys paid for flowers, pictures, tickets, a tux and dinner at a fancy restaurant.

CHUCK GARD

111 S. Broad St.

Griffith

838-1020

A.P. BONAVENTURA, M.D.

2914 Highway Avenue

Highland

838-9333

Fries — 24 cents
Coke — 20 cents
Good-bye, $50.

Eating out sliced a sizeable chunk from a teen's income as so-called fast-food chains upped their prices due to spiraling meat costs.

When a student tasted home-cooked meals only once a week, each Tastee Freeze shake and Burger King Whopper nibbled away at a rapidly dwindling budget.

School expenses also beckoned and the billfold became lighter as its owner somewhat reluctantly doled out $2 for a week of cafeteria lunches, $6.50 to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test, $12.98 for senior announcements.

Club dues, college application costs, book bills and test fees proved that even education wasn't entirely free.

In the struggle to stretch a paycheck a thousand different ways, $50 for a class ring or a minimal 12 cents for an overdue library book annoyed a youthful employee who would rather use the money for less practical items.

Again the hand pulled the wallet from the torn jeans pocket. This time it grudgingly offered $4 to a cashier at Cinema II.

Dates were luxuries that whittled at a guy's funds.

Whether a Saturday night basketball game and a coke afterwards or a high-priced evening at Prom and post-Prom, entertainment costs tapped a student's pocket and left nothing tangible behind except enjoyment.

Because he possessed a limited income, a young spender sometimes chose between wants and needs, deciding whether a Sherwood Club dance took priority over a necessary trip to the dentist or an old pair of shoes would last one more month so he could attend the musical "Grease" in Chicago.

While the clerk at Just Jeans waited expectantly, $15 appeared from the billfold and paid for the
please turn to page 44. ➡

GENIS REALTY CO.

402 N. Broad

Griffith

838-9200

SLUMBER SHOP

2833 Jewett St.

Highland

923-8484

No matter what your game is, you'll find as Mike Hillman does that Blythe's can supply all your sporting equipment needs.
— Blythe's Sport Shop, 145 Broad, Griffith, 838-2203.

Get on the ball at Blythes

JOHN BYRD'S GOLF RANGE

U.S. 41 & U.S. 30

Shereville

865-9812

TONY'S PIZZA

3032 45th Avenue

Highland

923-5466

When illness strikes, don't rely on those old home remedies of your grandmother. Go to Shakulas like Cheryl Kasmark where trained pharmacists prepare medicine just right for you. Shakulas Pharmacy, 100 W. 4th St., 865-2303.

FINANCES: STUDENTS FIGHT TO KEEP AHEAD

pair of high-waisted baggies.

Although a teen wore jeans with patches over patches, he still faced clothing expenses as he strived to assemble a wardrobe that was cheap yet still in vogue.

Those with high earnings rushed out to buy the latest fads while others shopped for bargains to increase their dollar's buying power.

With only a few bills left in the wallet its owner still confronted car costs. Mounting gas prices made the phrase "fill 'er up" almost obsolete as a student bought one dollar's worth of gas at a time. The expense of a new muffler or carburetor also dealt blows to extra pocket money.

To pay for the latest Elton John album, the hand rummaged through the wallet's dollar compartment.

It was empty.

"Where did the money go?" the teen wondered.

In days of higher prices and more expense, Sophomore Class members face the decision of buying class rings. As prices sky-rocket, the search for money for their purchase, sometimes fails.

Stereo components of a student's dream can cost four-weeks pay while other expenses of gas, clothes and dates still nag him and empty his wallet.

Examining a shirt for quality, senior Kim Anderson looks at the store's selection before she makes her purchase.

After a movie or a date students often patronize local drive-ins because of prices that are more in the range of their budgets.

MEDICAL BUILDING

1212 N. Broad

Griffith

838-7542

R.A. Lundenburg, M.D.

E. Carpenter R.N.

J. Lohse, Recp.

LEDGERS: THE ERA OF THE HASSLE COMES TO GRIFFITH HIGH

Monkey see, monkey do. Where one goes others follow. Although the Ledgers started as just a few guys sitting on the window ledge before school and after lunch, it became an organization complete with sponsor, uniforms and spirit.

Cries of "fruiter, fruiter" filled the gym as Ledgers formed a male cheering section at basketball games. Kazoos, hard hats and decaled sweatshirts distinguished them from other Panther fans.

Radio Free Hassle, an underground newspaper put out by the Ledgers, gave students a source of humor and entertainment.

The uniqueness of the Ledgers resulted in added school spirit as girls as well as boys got in the act.

Equipped with kazoos and hard hats, Ledgers form a male cheering section at Basketball games.

Maneuvering his rook in an attempt to capture the opponent's king in checkmate, Jack Thomas contemplates his next move.

CLUBS PROVIDE INTEREST, EXPANSION

Want to be a doctor? Interested in helping others? Is Bobby Fischer your chess idol? Do antiques turn you on?

While the main purpose of a school is to provide an education, extra-curricular activities are needed to complement the learning process. Interest clubs furnished students with an opportunity to investigate subjects not covered in the classroom.

Medical Careers Club hosted Careers Day with the Guidance Department. Radio announcers, X-ray technicians and conservationists supplied students with information for future jobs. Members also performed a puppet show for the handicapped at Beiriger School and sold taffy apples at football games to raise money for scholarships.

Collecting canned goods for needy families and planning a Christmas party at the Carmelite Home for Girls comprised Y-Teens activities. Teachers arriving at school on the last day before Christmas vacation found corsages, coffee and desserts furnished by Y-Teens awaiting them in the lounge.

CHESS CLUB — back row: Mark Lasher, Greg Allman, Fred Metcalf, Mark Edwards, John Leffel. third row: Phil Haight, Dave Wilcox, Bill Slankard, Dave Pavuk. second row: Jack Thomas, Steve Spornsky, John Young, Rick Yardon. front row: James Leffel, Marty Combs, Ray Sanders, David LaRue.

MEDICAL CAREERS — back row: Pier, Slusher, Mark Edwards, Deb Slaney, Renee Schaumburg, Rich Szafarz, Deb Gilland, Grace Nance, Jane Richwalski; fourth row: Bonnie Butler, Brenda Koselke, Ardith Szafarz, Mark Schaad, Deb Ka-

lemba, Lori Malone, Sheila McGhee; third row: Julie Sanders, Laura Pielh, Deb Rahmstorf, Valerie Hall, Nancy Broettes, Kathy Hall, Judy Knobler, Ruth Black; second row: Karen Swets, Sue Gall, Sharon Whitehead, Kathy Ballah, Barb Rigo, Karen Sunny, Stephanie Trinks, Pam Fatter; front row: Mrs. Mary Earp, sponsor; Deb Cuppett, Mary Popyk, president; Sue Thomas, Secretary; Steve Spornsky, treasurer; Dave Richard, Rob Shinabarger.

Y-TEENS — back row: Lori Maloone, Beth Reiss, Laura Pielh, Laura Neil, Deb Slaney, Pat Textor, Karen Burriss. fourth row: Sue Gall, Barb Dudek, Deb Rahmstorf, Jill Rieder, Trish Botkin, Becky Brasel, Brenda Koselke. third row: Peg Sipos, Sue

Catcher, Kathy Ballah, Pam Kubacki, Bonnie Butler, Karen Kapitan, Pam Haight. second row: Pam Griffith, Toni Nicol, Sue Thomas, Peir Slusher, Cindy Valentine, Tina Short, Mary Sufak. front row: Pat Jarrard, Judy Barenie, treasurer; Laurie

Hopp, secretary; Nancy Engle, vice president; Sandy Slankard, president; Mrs. Lamfulsi, sponsor; Mrs. Karlowicz, sponsor.

Reverting to the good old days of roaring fires, senior Mary Miller throws another log on the fireplace and dials down.

Service station owners felt the pinch of the fuel shortage when they ran out of gas before the end of the month.

Stations who broke the "don't open on Sunday directive" found they had to cope with bumper-to-bumper customers.

If you're steaming over wrinkled clothes, like Greg Allman, but too pressed for time to iron the, stop at Vogue Cleaners for all your dry cleaning needs. — Vogue Cleaners, 110 Main, Griffith, 838-1343.

Water, water everywhere for all the plants to drink. Make your home an indoor garden, like Barb Rusk, with potted plants from Brumm's. — Brumm's Bloomin' Barn, 2450 45th, 923-1000.

THE CRISIS: STUDENTS BUNDLE UP FOR CLASS; FAMILY CAR STAYS HOME

Simon said dial down to 68 degrees. Simon said to slow down to 55 m.p.h. Simon said to limit gasoline purchases to 10 gallons.

Even with Johnny Cash and his words of wisdom to ease the message, teachers and students alike soon tired of the game as William Simon, Federal Energy Administrator, placed the skids on the United States' fuel consumption.

Students who celebrated when open lunch was finally legalized, found the trip to McDonalds expensive as gas prices soared to near 50 cents a gallon by mid-January. With the printing of gas-rationing coupons and further cutbacks on fuel allocations, some students became aware that the country really was in trouble.

No longer did students have to endure parents' cries of, "You don't know what it's like to have to do without, as we did in the Depression."

Contrasting those who became concerned, skeptical students put as much stock in the energy crisis as they did in Santa Claus. Some thought it was just a plot to take the public's mind off of Watergate while others reasoned it was the oil companies' way of hiking profits.

Real or imagined, the crisis affected students in many ways.

Students who were normally fashion-conscious disregarded their attire's appearance for warmth. Coats proliferated in class as the thermostat dipped.

After school and on weekends, students felt the gas pinch when they settled for old John Wayne flicks on TV in lieu of taking to the road in the family gas guzzler.

Chemical problems got you burning the midnight bunsen? If you're no Einstein, call the skilled workers at American Chemical Co. to help you balance your equations. — American Chemical Company, Colfax Ave., Griffith, 838-4370.

WORKSHOPPERS SURVIVE DESPITE LACK OF GRUB, CLOTHES FROM HOME

Blisters, sweat, aching muscles. Lost room keys, dirty underwear, long lectures. How could anyone survive life at a summer workshop? Like soliders leaving for the front, students bade goodbyes to parents and readied for the harrowing experience of living away from home for the first time since Brownie camp. Fears of not being able to make friends were soon dissipated and after two weeks, workshopers cried at the thought of breaking the ties that had formed. Girls adjusted to watching a roommate dry a short shag in 10 minutes while they labored two hours over waist-length hair. Guys coped with the roommate who didn't change his socks for two weeks. Close association triumphed as Calumet Regionites noticed southern "ya'lls" slipping into northern dialect and Rebel speech took on an occasional Yankee twang.

PANTHERETTE CAMP — back row: Kathy Hansen, Cheri Holme, Carolyn Tzitz, June Aldrin. front row: Nancy Frailley, Terry Patton, Carol Ciorinau.

BOY'S AND GIRL'S STATE — Carol Johnson, Pat Malone, Bonnie Butler, Dean Duncan.

Besides adjusting to varied people, instituters found an opportunity for growing. Pantherettes practiced dance and pom pon routines and prepared skits for evening rallies.

Girls' and Boys' Staters assisted in organizing committees and conventions. Varsity cheerleaders tested lungs, tumbling talents and abilities to make a crowd react.

Faced with the challenge of writing the workshop newspaper, journalists discussed new approaches to producing publications. Awards added a tangible conclusion to the institutes as cheerleaders earned three commendations and journalists merited six.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS — back row: Cindy Jansen, Kim Adams, Karen Konopasek. front row: Chris Barta, Chris Patterson.

JOURNALISM STAFFERS WHO ATTENDED INSTITUTE — back row: Harolene Willerman, Mary Sufak, Trish Kolarik, Linda Rogowski, Janice Slupski. front row: Judy Hunt, Tyann Alger, Chris Patterson, Carolyn Hoshaw, Jill Reider.

FTA — back row: Carol Johnson, Sheila Glover, president; Lou Ann Gates, treasurer; Becky Grimm, secretary. second row: Debbie Ingram, Patti Evans, vice president; Linda Farris. front row: Tammy Muller, Brenna Brown, Chris Patterson, Debbie Wampler.

"Our custard curdled," exclaim two of Becky Grimm's students. Cadet teachers must be prepared to cope with unexpected situations.

Teaching civic classes two hours a day, Chris Patterson discovers how it feels to be on the other side of the desk.

Through independent research in physical education, John Cygan teaches a junior high student the basics of the crawl.

As part of their English project, Victor Schmell and Bob Erickson research the origin of basketball.

stacks of ungraded papers, 30 pairs of eyes confront

CADET TEACHING

Childhood games of playing school or being a teacher became reality for students who took part in cadet teaching. During a six-week orientation session, eight students learned to make up tests, design bulletin boards and speak in front of a group.

After spending two hours a day answering a myriad of questions, wiping running noses or grading workbooks, cadet teachers resumed their normal places as students, perhaps more sympathetic toward their own teacher.

Bake sales and movies provided money for scholarships awarded by Future Teachers of America to two senior members.

In addition to assisting teachers in grading assignments and tests, FTA'ers organized parties for elementary students and invited speakers to explain the various facets of education.

Individual projects gave Independent Research students a chance to gain responsibility and extra credits without taking a formal class.

Hours which were normally spent listening to a teacher's lecture were redirected into teaching younger children to swim or producing a play within nine weeks. After building sets for "Mousetrap" and "Guys and Dolls," IR students traveled to different schools to see their productions.

TYPEWRITERS,

COMPUTATIONS

BEWLDER NOVICE BUSINESS STUDENTS

While most students dreamed of boyfriends or new cars, business students had visions of buzzing adding machines and dancing shorthand symbols. After weeks of repeated drills, the sounds of clicking typewriters haunted students even after they left the room. Jumping keys and floating computer cards interrupted pleasant thoughts of parties and dancing.

After continuous practice, students soon began to feel at east behind their typewriters. Errors started to decrease as speed increased. Personal and business letters, memos and manuscripts soon became routine for typists.

A new shorthand lab took the place of a teacher in dictation practice. Consisting of taped dictations which could be played at four different speeds, the lab made it possible for individuals to take shorthand at their own rate and progress on their own.

Students assumed the role of secretaries in clerical procedures, as they became familiar with filing, personal financing and use of different office machines.

Bookkeeping students found endless numbers and symbols swimming before their eyes as they balanced accounts. As students got the knack of calculating numbers, maintaining payroll ledgers proved less difficult. Others in Data Processing discovered that programming a computer wasn't as easy as it looked.

With eyes glued on copy, junior Barb Vargo keeps speed and accuracy in mind as she prepares for a flawless timed writing.

A close-up, sepia-toned photograph showing a person's hand holding a pen and writing in an open notebook. The notebook is resting on a surface, and the background is a plain, light-colored wall. The lighting is soft, creating a warm, intimate atmosphere. The text on the wall is faint and illegible.

Due to misplaced folders, filing in alphabetical order proved futile for some business students.

PREP, FOODS PATTERN ADULT LIFE

"Hi Honey. I'm home. Is dinner ready yet. I'm starved."

"Hello, Dear. No, I thought maybe we could go out to eat tonight. How about it?"

"We went out last night."

"I know, but I didn't feel like cooking tonight."

"You never feel like cooking. Do you think I'm made of money? You know I have to work hard for it and you use it to feed your face."

A clip from a movie? No, an argument in preparation for adult living class. In order to prepare for later lives, students paired off and practiced the art of discussion, argument, and devising a budget. Advancing to the stage of adulthood for sixty minutes a day, students learned to entertain guests and play the role of parent.

"Press open seam, clip curves along neck facing and inner collar." These and a myriad of other instructions presented problems for many experienced sewers. Closets filled with newly sewn skirts, pants and jackets as girls built up their wardrobes in clothing classes.

Students in foods classes coupled together in kitchens to bake a cake, prepare well-balanced nutritional meals, and learn proper table manners.

"Hi honey. Is dinner ready?"

"Hello dear. Are you hungry? I made your favorite — crepe suzette."

All arguments require a certain amount of self-control. Bob Maglish practices this during a demonstration in Prep class.

Keeping pace with changing fashions, Cindy Medsker discovers sewing as one way of keeping an up-to-date wardrobe.

A perfect pizza star's with the dough. Amateur cook, Kathy Ward tries to make a pizza that any Italian would be proud of.

Little girls always say "I want to be just like Mom". Foods class prepare seniors Debbie Rowe and Lynn Lukmann for making meals on their own.

BUZZZZZZZZZZ

PUTT PUTT

MUSIC OF SHOP ROOMS DETERMINES WORKING PACE

Buzzzzzzzzzz. Clank. Tap. Ouch!
Thud. Grind. Brrrrrrrr. Putt, Putt, Clunk. Bang. Thump. Bash.

Noises that may sound like clatter to the average student didn't seem out of place in shop classes. Visitors wondered how anything could get done in the constant din but shop students accepted the noise as part of the atmosphere.

There's more to a car than what's seen from the top. Frank Bokodi takes advantage of some extra time in shop class to make some bottom-side adjustments.

Discovering that four hands are better than two, Rueben Rocha and Dave Price pool their talents to install hinges on their project.

One area that was quiet, drafting, provided the only respite from the noise as students labored over drawings, attempting blueprints for homes or offices or just copying a pattern to scale.

"Keep your grubby fingers off my drawings" became almost a rallying cry as students strived for a neat plate while maintaining accuracy.

Amateur mechanics learned the workings of automobiles firsthand as they gained practical experience by rebuilding motors and disassembling and reassembling parts of cars.

Wood shoppers studied the basics of the various tools including the lathe and the sander before starting on a jewelry box or a clock cabinet. When finished, the project offered students a useful end-product instead of just a grade.

To the uninitiated, it appeared to be almost magic when students transformed a hunk of metal into a screw driver in machine shop.

For those students not planning for college, shop offered an alternative by teaching them a skill they could use in the post-graduation job hunt.

Cleanliness is important to the operation of many things. Jay Thomas chooses steam to clean his engine for proper use.

In addition to a grade, wood shop offers students tangible, useful rewards. Dennis Schwader puts the finishing touches on his project.

Line thickness, neatness, precision and positioning. Allen Sunny keeps all of these factors in mind while doing a drawing for drafting class.

Physical Education — This class meant 10 different things to 10 people. To some it was a chance to ace a tumbling routine for successfully doing the stunts with poise and grace. To others it meant flunking the same routine for falling flat on their faces off the beam. As some students were swimming 10 lengths of the pool, others were drowning. Scoring 25 points in a basketball game wasn't unusual for some, but others couldn't figure out whether they were playing basketball or volleyball.

How many parts of the eye, ear and brain do you know? Health taught students the difference between an

With smashed toes, tousled hair and aching muscles, sophomores Dianne Stewart and Cindy Ross try to master the polka.

Being handicapped is no fun, but health classes come in handy when small emergencies befall. Junior Joda Ringer aids in assisting sophomore Esther Pena.

EVANS OIL

201 Main Street

Griffith

838-0100

VFW POST 9982

301 Broad Street

Griffith

838-9738

eardrum and a cerebrum, while also offering them an opportunity to play Florence Nightengale when bandaging a fellow student.

"First tie a rag above the wounded area. Slice the area with a sterile knife in a criss-cross manner. Put your mouth over the cut and extract as much of the poison as possible without swallowing any yourself."

Through practice drills, students learned the correct procedure for treating snake bites.

While health class taught the functions of organs in the body, P.E. taught, through experience, a student how to keep those organs physically fit.

CLUTZES COMBINE WITH COORDINATED TO GAIN P.E. SKILLS

DR. PURCELL

109 Lake Street

Griffith

838-9000

Keep it clean with John's Clark

This is the way to wash your car at John's Clark Service Station. With community needs in mind, John's Clark provides low priced gas, repair service, and facilities for club car washes — John's Clark Service Station, 303 Ridge Rd., Griffith, 844-5458.

HANG-UPS: "I DON'T KNOW WHERE SHE GETS THE GRASS BUT I CAN'T WAIT TO BE A PART OF THAT GROUP"

Monday, September 17

Sue gave me a joint today. I wasn't sure if it was the right thing to do, but she convinced me. Really, it's about the same as a cigarette, and everybody smokes those all the time in the johns. I guess the teachers are supposed to patrol the johns during class breaks, but hardly anyone ever does. It's probably because we can ditch our cigarettes faster than they can catch us. They wouldn't be able to make us admit we were smoking anyway. Most of the time kids who are sent to the office don't get any hassle except from the teacher who brought them in. I imagine it's too much trouble for them to bother with every kid in the school who gets caught smoking, so they seldom bother at all.

I don't know yet where Sue gets the grass, but she said she'd take me with her tomorrow. I can't wait to be a part of that group!
Tuesday, September 18

I couldn't get out of the house tonight. I just talked to Sue on the phone and she said not to worry about it, because I can go next time. I think she gets her supply from someone at the park. The group is always there with a bunch of kids from out-of-town. From what I hear, there's a lot of drugs floating around there. Sue has been hanging around the park more and more lately. I wonder if she has tried anything harder than weed. Well, I'm meeting her before lunch tomorrow, because she said she bought the grass for us.

Sue says marijuana is sold by nickel bags, costing $5; dime bags, selling for $10; and lids, which run around $20. A lid is one ounce, usually wrapped in a plastic baggie. Since nickel bags are not as popular as they used to be, she said she'd buy a dime bag and we could split it. I couldn't afford anything more anyway. I have to borrow five bucks from a friend as it is.

There are so many names to learn for every kind of drug, and they're always changing. I heard they change them all the time so the cops won't catch on.
Wednesday, September 19

Sitting informally amidst a relaxing atmosphere became a popular pastime. Beer and marijuana are used as media some can relate to.

Sue never did get the stuff to me today. She got busted. It was just like something on TV. The cop was there and everything. Man, was I scared. They caught her with the grass right before she was about to give it to me. I heard that one of her "friends" gave a tip to the cops that she had marijuana on her, because of some fight Sue had with her. The cop said something about taking her down to the station, but I didn't catch all of it. I'll have to talk to her at school.

Thursday, September 20

I got the whole story from Sue today. Man, she is really down. The cops took her fingerprints and picture just like a real criminal. Then her parents had to come and get her, which is a bummer in itself. Tonight Sue is supposed to have some sort of hearing with a juvenile officer to decide whether or not to transfer the case to a juvenile court. If the juvenile court thinks it's necessary, then the cop who arrested her signs a document bringing formal charges against her. Otherwise, there still is a record, but she won't be sent to any detention or girl's homes. The cop told her, "Everyday, businesses and industries are writing for records of people who use drugs. We send in the names and they keep them in their reference files.

It's hard to get a decent job with a record of drug use. A survey taken in 1972 showed that approximately 40-45% of the students in the junior-senior high have tried some kind of dangerous drug at least once. Marijuana is labeled as a dangerous narcotic because of the lack of proof in its regards to the effect on the body." But he also said there is not as much concern about marijuana arrests as there was five or ten years ago. The juvenile courts treat marijuana cases similar to alcohol arrests.

I know kids at school who drink an awful lot on weekend nights. There is always a party somewhere. It seems like kid's parents are away from home all the time. A lot of my friends can get booze from their homes whenever they like. It might be nice for them, but I wouldn't want my parents gone most of the time. I'm not going to say anything though, the kids in the group might kick me out.

Sue sure went through a lot today. She says she's sick to death of "You'll be sorry" speeches and "It's bad for your health." But she is beginning to sound like she's sorry. I think there is more to the whole drug problem than any of us ever realize.

Students seeking an escape from reality or feeling the urge to be 'high,' pop pills, snuff or inject powder and smoke weed to find euphoria.

Lonely roads and secluded alleys served as retreats for students seeking a place to drink.

Girls pay little heed to their environment as they relax with a cigarette between classes or during lunch.

Aside from performing at concerts and clubs, Madrigals found time to sing at civic organizations, other high schools and elementary schools. MADRIGALS — back row: John Nelson, Scott Greer, Randy Magiera, Nelson Metcalf, Tom Trinosky, front row: Carolyn Tzitz, Jill Reider, Sherry Fitz, Theresa Rietz, Pat Garrad.

A hush falls over the audience. Lights dim and the curtain opens. A spotlight zeros in on solemn, robed figures. With the lowering of the director's baton, the song begins. But instead of harmony, chaos reigns — 62 voices are all off key.

Practicing scales, breathing exercises and note passages for more than 50 hours in two months eliminated this hypothetical situation.

Madrigals, Concert Choir and Girls' Glee performed at fall and spring concerts. Winter months were highlighted by a Thanksgiving program. At the Northern Indiana School Band and Vocal Contest in January, a barber shop quartet, two mixed ensembles and one girls' ensemble performed.

please turn to Page 67 ➡

GIRLS' GLEE — back row: Celeste Rutherford, Debbie Sharp, Karen Imre, Robin Burhris, Karen Balding, Jackie Kozlica, Nena Huizenga, Susane Thomas, Judy Knobell, Judy Marshall; fifth row: Kathy Doppler, Karen Smith, Sheryl Smiedzinski, Julie Freeman, Laurie Wilcynski, Kathy Schmidt, Karyn Kroslack, Loretta Hurst; fourth row: Michelle Roberts, Michelle Deja, Pam Tapeley, Linda Humble, Jan Brown, Connie Gardenhire, Beth Reiss, Nancy Newell; third row: Toni Nicol, Barb Carder, Rose Ruesken, Belia Klemis, Cindy Williams, Karen Bozeman, Donna Carpenter, Valerie Mauger; second row: Tina Short, Sara Jergens, Jackie Duneay, Audrey Huizenga, Ilene Todd, Sue Bernotus, Vickie Branson, Mr. Greg Spaulding, director; front row: Karen Garmon, Jackie Osborn, Mary Martinez, Patty Hall, Kathy Keelen, Joan Martin.

Tired of those old fashioned garments you've worn year after year? Step in style like Andy Hack with Casual clothes from Connies.
— Connie Casuals, 8907 45th Griffith, 923-5711.

Invest in the Best;

choir members conduct contests,

Appearance plays a part of any performance, just as talent.
After rehearsing, Pam Krum finds a broken zipper a hinderance in lieu of the usual forgotten word or sore throat.

After some sound advice from a helpful clerk, Karen Thiel puts all her pennies into The First Bank of Whiting. — The First Bank of Whiting, 915 West 45th Avenue, Highland, 923-3400.

KEEN CAST COMPANY

East Main

Griffith

838-1920

L. E. Keen, Jr.
D. E. Beiriger
R. D. Lewis
L. E. Keen, III
T. N. Keen

President
Vice President, Sales
Vice President, Finance
Vice President, Manufacturing
Vice President, Purchasing

CONCERT CHOIR — back row: Trish Botkin, Donna Burbin, Mike Baker, Steve Hoshaw, Ken Callendar, John Farley, Tom Kasper, Brian Tureblood, Brad Augustine, Fran Lanigan, sixth row: Beth Newland, Debbie Kroslack, Kim Omen, Tammy Muller; fifth row: Barb Connors, Robin Kleinfeldt, Pam Bauser, Dave Young, Bob Ortiz, Bob Sorewicz, Mark Gregory, Dave Maglish, Kathy Hardin; fourth row: Pam Krum, Pier Slusher, Cherri Holme, Ed Magiera, Jim Banilla, Dan Douthit, Chuck Cole, Jim Long, Diane Cernia, Chris Barta; third row: Gina Carroll, Nancy Frailey, Tom Darnell, Pat Hunt, Kevin Cottingham, Frand Foust, Roddy Howard, Judy Hooks, Nada Jandrich; second row: Sharon Zenak, Lorene Murray, Kathy Hansen, Chelsea Nowak, Wendy Haley, Kathy Hall, Jane Campbell, Terri Deckard, Mr. Greg Spaulding, director; front row: Cindy Valentine, Sherry Kelly, Mary Bartolini, Barb Sanders, Cindy Dolan, Cheryl Laviolette, Ester Pena, Chris Donovan, Debbie Riggs.

'Sing, sing a song.' Verses vex VOCALISTS

In addition to performing at concerts, the 12 members of Madrigals sang for Civic, church organizations and women's clubs.

The accompanist plays the final chord. Singers' mouth close with relief as the song comes to an end. House lights go up and the audience applauds. On the count of three choir members bow in unison.

The next day in class the director complements them for a fine performance and takes out the music for the next concert. Practice starts all over again.

HIGHWAY MOTORS

INC.

Whether you have a 1921 Model T or a 1974 Ford go to Highway Motors. Where they buy and sell new and used cars. — Highway Motors, 8344 Kennedy, Highland, 923-5050.

"BLACK SONGS ARE A SPECIAL PART OF OUR REPERTOIRE," says Sherry Kelly, as Pam Gaydon, Robin Khorsesh and Sherry Kelly look at their music for Concert Choir.

After hours of repeatedly practicing the same song, coronet players achieve the precise notes and pitch factors necessary to perform at band concerts.

Band members, Renee Schaumburg and Belinda Carlson share music while playing during a basketball game.

Nancy Engle, twirler; Pat Shaadt, twirler; Terry Wilson, twirler; Valerie Hall, twirler; Steve Trinks, assistant major; Dan Stanish, major.

BAND — back row: Doug Ford, Dave Maddox, Jim Smith, Perry Key, Kent Maynard, Jeff Hunt, Ed Eanes, Jerry Tubbs, Terry Laudenber, Dan Stanish, Jack Thomas, Mike Trinks, Rob Shinabarger, Jody Mattingly, Mr. Noel Cross, director, Mr. Robert Sohn, director. fifth row: John Miles, Guy Toczek, Steve Bandura, Debbie Gilland, Roger Walters, Bob Welch, Debbie Glass, Richard Laudeman, Dick Sohn, Curt

Hunt, Jeff Ward, Scott Thompson, Bill Cook, John Barenie, Greg Weyhe, John Galambos, Vince Burrios, Kevin Allton, Bill Potts, Mark Shaadt, Ed Wilczynski, Steve Trinks, Jeff Chappell, John Fitzgerald, Ray Sanders. fourth row: Brenna Brown, Missy Summers, Sheila King, Gerri Gragido, Kathy Holeyvinsky, Sue Galambos, Roger Seitzinger, Joni Shinabarger, Nancy Engle, John Finney, William Slankard, SYMPHONIC,

CONCERT BAND MEMBERS BATTLE FOR TOP POSITIONS

"Duel at Diablo." "Gunfight at O-K Corral." "Showdown at Abilene." "Duel in the Band Room."

All of these depict a conflict of some kind and all except one end in death. The last, "Duel in the Band Room" ends not in death but two different bands, the symphonic and the concert.

With membership exceeding 125, the band split into the two sections. Three days of tryouts were held to determine which section a person was to be in. Members who played the same instruments duelled one another for the top positions and played in the symphonic band. Other members made up the concert section.

Days of practice paid off for concert band members who challenged their superiors in the higher band.

The two groups marched together as a unit but gave separate concert shows.

In an effort to distinguish between the two bands, symphonic members wore gold sashes and bows while concert band members changed to black sashes and bows.

There never were any deaths but the duel continued for the top band.

Judy Barenie, Janet Paluch, Debbie Rahms-torf, Rick Lloyd, Cindy Booker, Roger Ford, Dave Price, James Leffel, Kathy Campbell,
Kent Bobas, Jeff Evans, Gasper Hernandez,
Larry Littrell, Gary Hinton, Dave Bokodi, Steve Barovich, Maty Miller, Mark Lasher, third row: Valerie Hall, John Leffel, Mariann Kelemen, John Nelson, Kathy Peters, Karen
Sunny, Lauralyn Leyetern, Barb Rigot, Barb

Raschke, Grance Nance, Sue Musial, Brenda Koselke, Ruth Ann Black, Ted Jarmakowicz,
Dave Hunter, Cathy Key, Lynn Paluch, Debbie Graun, Kathy Brandley, Pat Shaadt, Jackie Allsbury, Terri Wilson, Tina Land, second row: Pam Fatter, Donna Kregel, Don Lewis, Lorraine Brown, Debbie Cuppett, Nelson
Metcal, Sue Curry, Laura Bolla, Judy Fortner, Sharon Whitehead, Missy Glover, Lu Loomis,

Trudy Smith, Belinda Carlson, Doris Zablo, Mary Hart, Mary Popyk, Lynn Mote. front row: Mike Yadron, Sheila Glover, Bob Kurze-ja, Steve Sporinsky, Dawn Malick, John Fitzgerald, Renee Schaumburg, Stephanie Trinks, Sue Thomas, Rita Hoogewerf, Laura Peihl, Carol Cioroianu.

LACK OF DEPTH ACCOUNTS FOR 3-7 SEASON

"Okay, you guys, third and seven. This is a big down," the quarterback barks in the huddle before calling the play. The team breaks for the scrimmage line, determined to get the yardage after its two previous failures. Hovering over the center, the quarterback calls the signals. "Down. Set. Hut One, hut two, hike." With the snap of the ball every player goes into motion. While the receivers and backs run their patterns, the front line blocks out the rushing defense. One person misses a tackle and another fumbles the ball. The play fails.

Fourth down — time to punt, but the offense will be back again.

Despite the dimness of a 3-7 record, 1-6 in conference, good enough for only a cellar tie, the team was only outscored 192-187.

Head Coach Jim Bartlett's solution to the losing record is, "More depth. It hurts us every year, especially in the front line. Most of those guys usually have to

please turn to page 73

Once the offensive linemen spring him into the open, Homer Gatlin combines a head and hip fake with an attempted straight-arm to pick up extra yardage in the open field.

Wind sprints, push ups and cries of "You can't block," are forgotten on game night as Coach Larry Parker offers advice and encouragement for the next play.

Displaying the type of heads-up defense that earned him All-Conference honors, Dave Baran pounces on a fumble to halt a Highland drive. The Trojans triumphed, however, 12-7.

1973 Varsity Football

	GHS	OPP.
Gary Emerson	0	8
So. Bend Clay	20	0
Crown Point	20	22
Highland	7	12
River Forest	48	8
Merrillville	7	38
Calumet	14	20
Lake Central	12	23
Lowell	35	21
Munster	24	40

Get ready! Get set! Go! With shopping carts in hand Debbie Sharp and Sara Jergens get ready to race down the aisles at Emsings for super buys at small prices. — Emsings Super Market, 150 N. Griffith Blvd. 838-0178

Skirting the left end, junior varsity quarterback Tom Hansen picks up a first down to sustain a drive in a victory against arch-rival Highland.

Gary National Bank

WHERE WE CARE ABOUT youth

1974 VARSITY FOOTBALL TEAM — back row: Darrell LaBarge, Scott Thompson, Ted Jarmakowicz, Jeff Ciesco, Brad Govert, Mike Petroski, Mark Spitz, Art Longoria, Tom Hansen, Jeff Gilmore, manager, Gary Hinton, fourth row: Dale Miller, Mark Clark, Larry Miller, Chuck Guerrero, Jim

Pondo, Scott Hood, Doug Ford, Steve Hoshaw, Ken Kraus, John Krupinski, Woody Pinkston, Mark Eminhizer, third row: George Hess, Dave Wright, Henry Schmell, Al Ortiz, Steve McNeill, Bob McElfresh, Brad Walker, Kent Maynard, Ron Shelton, Jim Long, second row: Brian Trueblood, George Konopsek, Roger Ford, Jeff Glass, Les Blythe, Ken Callendar, Mike Anglin, Bob Wagman, Dave Wilcox, manager; Fred Metcalf. front row: Ken Kus, John Galambos, Steve Freeman, Ken Buzea, Curt Hunt, Dean Duncan, Gene Fountain, Dave Baron.

BEFORE

AFTER

If your hair has a bad case of the drabs or those frizzy blues, go where Gina Carroll does. Hair Fashions by Charles. Expert beauty operators will give you hair the professional care it needs. — Hair Fashions by Charles, 124 N. Griffith Blvd., Griffith, 923-6677.

BARAN, GALAMBOS TABBED ALL-CONFERENCE play both offense and defense."

What gives a person the drive to play on a losing team? "Since I was a senior I felt I had to stay. I wanted to play football," Bob Wagman commented.

"Pride," was junior Jeff Ciesco's motivation. "If everybody gave up, we wouldn't have a team at all."

"I think they're very deserving," Coach Bartlett said of All-Conference seniors Dave Baran and John Galambos. "What's nice about it is that other players and coaches had enough respect for the two to put them on the team." Baran was

please turn to page 75 ➡

"Touchdown!" Dave Wilcox finds enthusiasm is contagious as he mimics the referee's signal for six points during the 48-8 win over River Forest.

Like all athletic endeavors, a successful running attack hinges on teamwork. As Jeff Ciesco bursts into the Highland secondary, Lester Blythe moves up to throw a block.

Say Cheeseburger Please

During their lunch break, Jan Davis and Dave Price always stop to get sizzling hot cheeseburgers and ice cold cokes at McDonald's, their kind of place — McDonald's, 3927 Ridge Road, Highland, 923-2960.

JV GOES 3-3-2; BARAN, BLYTHE VOTED MVP

also given an honorable mention to the All State team. The last person to receive an All State rating was Bill Fritz in 1968.

Earning the respect of their fellow players, Baran and senior Lester Blythe, high scorer with 30 points, were selected to share the Most Valuable Player award.

Under the direction of Coach Larry Parker, Junior Varsity compiled an overall record of 3-3-2 and 2-3-2 in conference.

"Griffith's ball, first down and ten on its own 20-yard line," the loudspeaker announced. The offensive unit moves back onto the field, determined to get the first down after its last failure.

T.A. ROKITA DDS

9727 Fran-Line

Munster

838-7726

CURLE SHOPPE

3909 45th Ave.

Highland

923-6450

calumet

CONSTRUCTION CORPORATION

1247 169TH STREET HAMMOND, INDIANA 46324
HAMMOND (219) 844-9420 CHICAGO (312) 731-5800

EARN WHILE YOU LEARN

$326 a month plus room and board is pretty good money for a trainee. Especially when you realize that a raise can be expected within a few weeks. And while you're earning that salary, you'll be learning an Air Force skill. The kind that can keep on working for you in or out of service.

for more information please call

885-6515

Squeezing in one final practice lap before the meet, Gary Korzeniewski and Roger Rhymer explore the lay of the course.

over the river and through the woods, harriers run ACROSS COUNTRY

Run, run, run, as fast as you can. You can't catch me; I'm a cross country man.

In order to prepare for a contest, training is a necessity. Summer running became routine as well as through the September-October season.

Summer morning sleep was sacrificed to get up and run 4-6 miles. Rides around the town are also passed up four nights a week for a practice session.

Rising before sunrise on school mornings, the team sets out for a 5-mile run before checking into school. After putting in their seven hours of lessons, it's back to the track for another 10 miles.

Practice paid off for the team as they gained a season record of 13-3.

Senior Gary Korzeniewski was Most Valuable Player while senior Jon Hendrickson was named Most Improved.

Position and pacing. Senior Jan Helfen keeps both in mind as he moves up to overtake his opponent.

With a lack of a superstar, teamwork accounted for a 13-3 season for the 1973 VARSITY CROSS COUNTRY TEAM — back row: Coach John Collet, Luke Lovich, Bob Rucoba, Kurt Selander, Ed Kegebein, Mark Gregory. front row: Jan Helfen, Gary Korzeniewski, Roger Rhymer, Jon Hendrickson, Rick Konoposek, Rick Lloyd.

1973 VARSITY CROSS COUNTRY

Chesterton	W
Valparaiso	W
Portage	L
Bishop Noll	W
Munster	W-W-W
Crown Point	L
Merrillville	W
Lowell	W-W
Highland	L
Gary Roosevelt	W
LaPorte	W
Highland Inv't	2nd
New Prairie Inv't	3rd
Hobart Inv't	5th
E. Gary Inv't	1st
Patriot Inv't	3rd
Conference	3rd
Sectionals	4th
Regionals	5th

FINISHES SECOND IN STANDINGS; RIGGS-KING MATCH SPURS INTEREST

Please turn to page 80.

Combining individual skill and teamwork, the doubles tandem of Joe Rygas and Bob Sexton converge on the ball, hoping to score match point.

1973 Varsity Tennis

OPP.	GHS
LaPorte	L
Munster	L
Highland	W
Gary Andean	L
Merrillville	W
Hammond Clark	W
Portage	L
Lake Central	W
Crown Point	W
Concord	L
Hammond Morton	W
Sectionals	2nd

DR. GERALD RABE

115 S. Broad

Griffith

838-5500

MAIN STREET BODY SHOP

213 Main Street

Griffith

838-1914

Even though your car is in great condition, your tires can go flat anytime. When this happens, let Mark Govert, attendant at Govert and Bridgmont put miles between you and your trouble.
— Govert and Bridgmont, 444 Broad, Griffith, 923-4332.

Charging the net, Dan Wynn tries to gain the advantage over his opponent by smashing the ball into the back court.

Determined to hold his number one singles position, John Feeney works at smashing the ball to the back-lar corner.

Tennis—the greatest sport ever played—can bring a real winning. Dan Wynn is one of the Sportsman's award.

1973 VARSITY TENNIS TEAM — back row: Coach Gerry Powell, Ed Rubacha, Bob Sexton, Dan Wynn, Joe Rygas, John Feeney, front row: Jeff Evans, Tim Pesut, Brad Allen, Kent Bobos, Don Deedrick.

DEEDRICK IS GOOD SPORT WYNN TAPPED MOST VALUABLE TEAM MEMBER BY NETTERS

man, Dan Wynn garnered the best record, finishing with a 10-6 mark. In doubles play, the first team of Bob Sexton and Joe Rygas claimed a 9-4 season finish.

Selected by his teammates, Dan Wynn netted the Most Valuable Player award for the second consecutive year, and Don Deedrick merited the Sportsman's award.

When the Griffith tennis team challenges an opponent on its home court there aren't quite as many spectators as at the Riggs-King match, but there is still the same satisfaction and self pride gained from a job well done.

GOLFERS GO 18-7 IN 'SOLO' SPORT; WARD TABBED MEDALIST

In an attempt to achieve the perfect drive, Tim Jamison strives to combine both distance and accuracy on his tee shot.

Wack — "Oh no, it looks a little long. Yeah, caught the bunker behind the green."

I wonder how Arnie would've played that one? I don't know why they have to clutter the course with sand and trees anyway."

Unlike team sports where each player shares the responsibility of an error, the golfer absorbs his double-bogey in painful solitude. When one individual falters, the balance of the squad picks up the pace for the team score.

Led by Coach Chuck Ricks, the Panthers amassed an 18-7 overall mark, while chalking up an

please turn to page 82 ➡

Comau's JEWELERS

DOWNTOWN GARY

WOODMAR CENTER

GRIFFITH READY MIX

1108 East Main

Griffith

838-2607

BANK OF HIGHLAND

2621 Highway

Highland

838-9500

MINI-ARNIES SET AIM FOR SUB-PAR

11-4 conference record, good enough for a second place tie with Munster and Highland.

Maintaining the lowest scoring average throughout the season, Jim Ward earned the Medalist title with his 40.8 average, while Doug McCluskey received the Sectional Medalist Award.

Despite dunking three Golden Bear balls at $12.95 a dozen in the same pond and depositing one-half of a favorite iron at the base of a tree, the exhilaration of a sub-par round makes it all worthwhile.

Wack — "Looks good. Charging the green. Left it just six inches short of the pin."

"Arnie would've been proud."

Before progressing to the next hole, Doug McCluskey and Steve Markovich pause to reflect on their previous shots

ENNIS REALTORS

45th and Cline

Griffith

838-6870

GRIFFITH FURNITURE

116 S. Broad St.

Griffith

923-6262

Steve Markovich follows through on a shot during the 1973 Varsity Golf tournament.

1973 VARSITY GOLF

OPP.	GHS
Hammond Gavit	W
Portage	W
Gary Andean	L
Highland	W-W-W
Crown Point	L-W
Hanover	W
Merrillville	L-L
Munster	W-L
Lake Central	W-W
Lowell	W-W
East Gary	W
South Bend La Salle	W
Elkhart	L
Calumet	W-W
Hammond Tech	W
Hammond Clark	W
Hammond High	L
Lake Hills Invitational	11th
Sectionals	4th

1973 VARSITY GOLF
TEAM — Jim Ward, Tim Jamison, Steve Markovich, Doug McCluskey, Bob Kapitan.

Ben's Restaurant and Lounge

DELOCK'S

404 N. Broad Street
Griffith
923-1050

2739 HIGHWAY AVENUE • HIGHLAND, INDIANA

PHONE 838-3100

After concentrating on shooting thousands of baskets Dave Santay finds that his shooting becomes more accurate and automatic.

While the team runs sprints to prepare for an upcoming game, Booster Club collects paper and paint to make a hoop.

GETTING READY: POSTERS, PRACTICE, PEOPLE — ALL PART OF PREPARATIONS

Enter through north door of gym and break Booster Club's hoop. While running a couple of laps around half court, take a lay-up when under the basket. Arrange into two lines, one on each side of court. Players in one line run to basket and make right and left-handed lay-ups. Short jump shots are next with same arrangement. Players shift to three lines for a few runs through the three man weave followed by individual shooting. No special formation used.

Following these steps carefully will not lead you to a pot of gold buried by Captain Kidd but a Panther basketball team that has just finished its pregame warm-up and is ready for the game.

Besides this brief practice before a game, the team practiced Monday-Thursday, two hours a day.

Scrimmages, laps, sprints and exercises were a player's nightmare in the afterschool hours. Instead of holding an afternoon job, the team ran, jumped and shot. They even sang the school song to help prepare themselves for the weekend contests.

Mental preparations are also made by players before a game.

Head Coach Ron Divjack explained, "I try to get them to understand the pride of accomplishment and the feeling that when a job is done well, it gives you that pride."

Individually players do different things to "psyche up." For senior John Galambos it's sleep. "I go home before a game and sleep two hours. All I think about is the opponent and then I'm ready."

Junior Homer Gatlin expressed a different opinion. "If you know you are playing someone good, it always fires me up, plus if I'm starting."

Mentally and physically players prepare for every game.

While fans sit watching the half time performance, J.V. coach Dave Price reviews strategic plays.

In order to win a game, a team needs to be mentally as well as physically prepared.

If you're puzzled over where to shop for stylish clothes, go to Highland Department Store. Sherry Fulkerson finds, "It's the place to go for brands you know."
— Highland Department Store, 2821 Highway, Highland, 838-1147.

Dairy Queen offers sundaes for everyday of the week. Stop by and try their shakes, parfaits and malts.
— Ridge Dairy Queen, 225 Ridge Road, Griffith, 838-3689.

Getting the ball past your opponent isn't the easiest job in basketball. Jeff Tuley takes the aerial route around his Calumet opponent with hopes of an eventual two points.

Positional technique is a necessity for controlling the tip. Ken Galik shows his form while outjumping his Munster opponent.

NEW MENTOR ASSUMES BASKETBALL HELM

1973-74 VARSITY BASKETBALL

	GHS	OPP.
Hammond Gavit	49	71
Michigan City Elston	45	56
Hammond Tech	57	58
Chesterton	44	53
Crown Point	43	46
Lowell	83	62
South Bend
Washington	63	87
Calumet Holiday Tourney
Calumet	55	61
Lake Central	52	50
Hammond High	43	79
River Forest	63	72
Calumet	51	65
East Gary	46	43
Lake Central	52	57
Highland	65	62
Portage	40	72
Merrillville	57	63
Hammond Clark	48	58
Sectionals
Lake Central	53	55

When a country elects a President, he inherits precedents left behind by previous office-holders to serve as guidelines for organization. Men who are at least vaguely familiar with the President's ideas are there to assist him. In this respect, a new basketball coach is similar to a president.

After Mr. Bob Heady moved on to another school, Mr. Ron Divjak was hired to replace him. The ex-Whiting coach faced a job not many coaches would envy. After last year's Sectional victory and 16-7 record, the starting five were all graduated, leaving behind a major rebuilding job.

"I was looking forward to the please turn to page 88" ➡

1974-75 VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM — back row: Head Coach Ron Divjak, John Cygan, John Galambos, Homer Gatlin, Jim Urbanik, Paul Bjelich, Dave Santay, Assistant Coach.

Dave Price; front row: manager Ken Rutledge, Jason Redden, Les Blythe, Jeff Tuley, Ken Galik, manager Fred Metcalf.

While awaiting their next teammate, John Galambos, Jeff Tuley, Ken Buzza and Bob Erickson keep momentum going during introductions.

PARKMOR DRIVE-IN

3950 Ridge Road

Highland

838-8020

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

1400 S. Broad

Griffith

865-9770

INEXPERIENCE HAMPERS TEAM; SQUAD FALLS TO 5-15 MARK exciting challenge," Coach Divjak said of his new job, "knowing it would be difficult because so few players (four) were returning."

Like the President, Coach Divjak's job is taking time. The cagers lost eight of their first 10 games, the first six in a row and finished with a record of 5-15, 3-4 in conference action.

"You can't be satisfied with our record," Coach Divjak said. "By record, yes, I'm disappointed. But when everybody comes to practice and gives what he believes is 100 per cent, it is a pleasure to work with

please turn to page 90 ➡

Basketball, considered by IHSAA to be a non-contact activity, can get rough, as Homer Gatlin and John Galambos realize as they battle under the boards.

You've heard of a barber shop quartet, wait until you see Jim and Carl's barber shop duet. They give you a shave and a haircut for only 6 bucks. — Jim & Carl's, 225 Broad, Griffith, 838-9708.

If we can't sell it, give it back to the Indians. Linda Norris views listings from teepees to typical homes.

— Scherer & Geiser, 237 N. Broad Street, Griffith, 838-4133.

Momentarily breaking away from his opponent, Lester Blythe drives the lane for a score in the Holiday Tourney. Calumet came out on top, 61-55.

In a conference tilt versus Calumet, sophomore Jim Urbanik moves in for the easy lay-up. The Panthers lost the game, however, 72-63.

BOOSTERS

Band

Booster Club

Cheerleaders

Choral Department

Robert A. Jasinski, D.D.S

Junior Class

Letterman's Club

John A. McAleer, D.D.S

News Bureau

Pantherettes

Panther Press

Student Council

Senior Class

Sophomore Class

TITLE HOPES SHORT-LIVED; CATS FALL TO INDIANS

them. That, this team did."

Sophomore Jim Urbanik, in his first year on the squad, led the scoring with 360 points in 21 games for a 17.1 points per game average.

The cagers dropped out of Sectional competition with a 55-53 first game loss to Lake Central after winning it all last year.

When calling instructions across the floor fails, Coach Divjak calls a time out to regroup his forces against rival Highland. The strategy meeting paid off as the Cats won 65-62.

The easy lay-up shot is the coach's dream when made or his nightmare when missed. Dave Santay spares Coach Divjak's dreams with a drive through the open lane for a score against Calumet.

1973-74 JR. VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM — back row: Guy Hochstetler, Jack Moorman, Don Baker, Carl Ramsey, Jeff Green, Tim Pickett, Jeff Chappell, Head Coach Dave

Price; front row: Kevin Troxel, Bob Ras-tovski, Jim Tedesco, Jeff Pierce, Rick Lundquist, Manager Joe Noecker.

Filling the role of sophomore starter on a varsity team, Jason Redden gains valuable experience for the future while competing against Highland.

"Hey, I'm tired of being a spectator, I think I'll go out for a sport. But . . .

But what? What's the problem?"

"Well, in case I'm not very good, I don't want anybody to know that I'm on the team."

"That's easy then; go out for wrestling."

Although this is a hypothetical situation, wrestling has often had to take a back seat in high school athletics in the eyes of spectators.

But for participants, wrestling became a way of life as they gave up a job or late-night activities.

Heading into the conference meet, the Panthers owned a 3-7 season mark, mostly due to the lack of upperclassmen on the squad. In the meet, the Cats placed seventh of eight teams, while Richard Pike turned in the best individual performance as he came in second.

Senior Gene Fountain, recipient of the Mat Point Trophy with 100 points, took third in the heavyweight class in conference action.

Again, lack of experience hurt as the grapplers finished seventh in Sectionals.

dieting, weightlifting, denote WRESTLERS

In an effort to gain wrestling experience and garner points for his team, freshman Pete Klovansh works to pin his opponent.

Some students think there is no strategy in wrestling. But Steve Ricks realizes one false move could cost him the match as he works for position.

Almost like two animals locked in a death struggle, Dave Hanson and his Calumet opponent fight for the two-point takedown.

1973-74 VARSITY WRESTLING

	GHS	OPP.
Whiting	48	18
East Gary	27	34
Calumet	18	34
Merrillville	14	41
River Forest	52	9
Crown Point	12	36
Highland	11	42
Lowell	30	20
Munster	30	31
Lake Central	15	33
Conference Meet	7th
Chesterton Tourney	5th
Hobart Tourney	6th
Sectionals	7th

In addition to being prepared physically, a wrestler must be ready mentally. Mark Spitz shuts out distractions while psyching himself up for the match.

Contrary to popular belief, wrestling is more than strength and stamina. Steve McNeil keeps this in mind as he plays a waiting game, hoping to find an opening in a foe's defense.

1973-74 WRESTLING TEAM — back row: Head Coach, Don Schmidt, Tony Mattingly, Tom Dellahan, Scott Hood, Steve McNeil, Gene Fountain, Rick Pike, Doug Ford, Scott Ramsey, Scott Thompson, Steve Ricks, Assistant Coach, Martin Kus, second row: Ken Borden, Tim Lovell, Bruce Hinchy, John

Stammis, Dave Blount, Dave Hanson, Mark Spitz, Brian Trueblood, Greg Callendar. front row: Gary Hinton, manager, Gene Bierman, Rich Ringer, Joe Rowgowski, Jeff Klien, Kerry King, Ted Jarmarkowicz, Larry Kilinsky, Mike Salima, John Broman.

PARTICIPATE IN 'BIG PUSH' PLACE THIRD IN SECTIONALS

What has red eyes, wrinkled skin and is wet all over? A sunburned prune rinsing itself off? A red-headed woodpecker crying because it got caught in the rain? No, it's a swimmer.

Not many people would rise for a 6 a.m. practice in a pool of chlorine but the swim team did. Under the watchful eyes of Head Coach Dan Leslie, an afternoon practice was also held to help the team prepare for an 11-4 record.

The longest practices came during the Big Push, the final drive before Sectionals and on to the State Finals.

After a half-hour on the weights, the team swam 3,000 yards before school. Afterwards it was back to the pool for a maximum of 7,000 more yards.

After finishing fourth out of five teams in the conference meet, the tankmen finished third out of 11 in Sectionals.

Providing moral support for his teammates and also looking for pointers for himself, Dave Hollowell studies strong points and defects of another swimmer's style.

1973-74 VARSITY SWIMMING TEAM — back row: Assistant Coach Bill Thon, Ron James, Dave Hollowell, Dave Fitzgerald, Vince Lawrence, Larry Perotti, Steve Trinks, Mark Walters, Greg Allman; second row: Dawn Malick, manager; Mike Rotz, Brian Toweson, Steve Lawrence, Randy Magiera, Dave Richards, Bill Mount, Marty Combs, Head Coach Dan Leslie; front row: Jackie Awo, Greg Weyhe, Scott Allman, Rick Miller, Brian Malick, Brian Mauger, Jesse Villalpando, Brian Rotz.

By scoring 5 points in the State Finals, the team finished 26th. Junior Dave Hollowell finished 12th in the 100 yd. freestyle for two points. The 400 yd. freestyle relay team of Hollowell, junior Steve Trinks, sophomore Brian Toweson and senior Greg Allman finished 11th for the other three points.

Voted Most Valuable Swimmer was Hollowell who was also High Point Man with 781 points. Also selected by their teammates were Toweson as Most Improved and Trinks for the Best Mental Attitude.

1973-74 VARSITY SWIM TEAM

	GHS	OPP.		GHS	OPP.
Merrillville	65	107	Benton Central	106	60
Portage	97	75	Hammond High	92	79
Valparaiso	115	55	Chesterton	102	69
Munster	72	100	Hammond Tech	104	63
Lowell	102	68	Gary Lew Wallace	93	79
Hammond Morton	93	72	Highland	80	92
Gary Wirt	116	50	Hammond Gavit	92	75
Bishop Noll	67	105	Conference	4th
Merrillville Invitational	4th		Sectionals	3rd
			State Finals	26th

As the pool begins to calm, Greg Allman pauses to re-swim the race in his mind, reflecting on that fraction of a second he lost in the turn.

Almost as important as the kick or pull, a good takeoff is necessary as swimmers shave seconds off their time with a full extension.

DROPS REIGN

OVER STICKMEN

PRECISION, HEALTH BEFRIEND TEAM, AID IN 11-3 LSC RECORD

VARSITY BASEBALL TEAM — back row: Leo Kalembo, manager, Coach Bob Heady, Paul Bjelich, Rick Lehmann, Tom Rivich, Bob Wagman, Randy Cieslak,
Coach Dave Price; second row:
Dick Chappell, Jeff Johnston,
Terry Jennings, Jeff Tuley, Ken Buzza, Tom Pauluske, John Cygan, Ken Rutledge, manager; front row: Ken Galick, Larry Chermak, Scott Heady, batboy, Dave Baran, Larry Hoffman.

"Keep it low and inside on this guy," Paul Bjelich has his coach's advice in mind as he tries to nail down another out.

With the inclement weather washing out games, Cat stickmen moved to the gym. Indoor practices proved necessary to keep the team in shape.

Something as insignificant as a blister can disrupt a pitcher's control and timing and find him riding the bench. An inch difference in a batting stance can fling a .350 hitter into a hapless slump. Precision — a baseball must.

Injuries can transform a champion team into a cellar club. Something as minor as a sprained ankle — usually a part of life — can hurt a fielder for weeks, turning a would-be out into a base hit. Health — a baseball must.

Head Coach Bob Heady's stickmen held their precision and health and came out winners. In addition to the team's 21-7 record, 11-3 in conference, the Cats collected a conference crown, a Sectional victory and the runner-up slot in Regionals.

Named Most Valuable Player, third baseman Dick Chappell showed precision batting with a .427 average and the lead in most offensive categories.

Coach Dave Price led the Junior Varsity stickmen on a similar trend with a 12-3 season record and 7-0 in conference.

From J.V. to the World Champion Oakland A's, precision and health are elements of victory.

Wary of being cut down at home plate, Terry Jennings glances back as he scampers round third base.

1973 VARSITY BASEBALL
	GHS	OPP.		GHS	OPP.
E. C. Washington	3	4	Lowell	6	3
Morton	4	0	Lake Central	0	2
Morton	1	0	Twin Lakes	3	1
Gavit	1	0	Twin Lakes	10	4
E. C. Roosevelt	1	2	Munster	5	1
Merrillville	1	0	Highland	8	3
Whiting	2	1	Calumet	0	1
Whiting	3	1	East Gary	1	4
Crown Point	5	1	East Gary	10	1
Lake Central	7	1	West Side	4	3
Hammond High	3	4
Munster	3	1	SECTIONALS
Lowell	3	0	Morton	5	3
Highland	5	1	E. C. Roosevelt	3	1
Calumet	5	3
Merrillville	6	5	REGIONALS
Valparaiso	5	1	Bishop Noll	3	2
Crown Point	0	1	Benton Central	4	5

Although a job offers the freedom of extra spending money, students find it limits other activities.

loser¹ (loo'z'ər) noun.
One who tries hard but never quite makes it.

loser² (loo'z'ər) noun.
Chronic joiner, belongs to everything but accomplishes nothing.

loser³ (loo'z'ər) noun.
Gives up without a fight, strong candidate for drop-out.

Everybody loves a loser but nobody wants to be one. In an atmosphere of competition where students fight for grades, popularity and prestige, some fall behind others. These are the losers, the unfortunates, the social misfits.

How do you spot a loser? Just as people have certain qualities that identify them, so do losers. With his goal being to succeed at something, Loser Number One always tries his best. As a sophomore he ran against the School Rah for class president, campaigned hard but lost by 10 votes.

Going out for the basketball team as a junior, the loser practiced at his garage hoop every night. But the coach turned him down because of his size and his friend who was one inch taller than cheating, part-time jobs, drugs lead to him obtained the position.

LOSING OUT

Lack of a date forced him to sit home Prom night with the "Mary Tyler Moore Show." His invitations had been met with trumped-up excuses and outright refusals.

During his senior year, the loser attempted to achieve the honor roll and missed it with a 2.9 average for his third consecutive year.

Three years of high school and nothing to show for it, only his name appeared beside his senior picture.

Opposite of Loser Number One, Loser Number Two belongs to every club in school.

Wherever a committee is forming, she is there. Need a volunteer? She'll do it.

Away from home six nights a week, the joiner exists on a diet of McDonald's hamburgers. Friends call but she is out organizing class floats, Prom themes, car washes.

Because the joiner devotes too little time to too many projects, she does nothing well.

Her friends desert her, tired of catching only fleeting glimpses of her in the halls.

Although she seems to possess anything she wants, the joiner is a loser. Missing out on the simple things in life, she wastes her time on superficial success like appearing in 28 yearbook pictures.

Loser Number Three's failure begins early. An under-achiever, he views teachers as enemies and school as a plot to make him miserable. Afraid to face up to mistakes, he gives up without trying.

F's mount up on assignment after assignment. Teachers threaten and cajole but the under-achiever pays no heed.

Each day, he counts the seconds ticking away toward 2:55 p.m. and his escape from classes where his lack of knowledge embarrasses him.

End result: he drops out of high school.

However, nothing is black and white and not everyone fits into rigid categories. We all carry a little bit of the loser within us.

From the person who studies for a test for five hours only to find out it was the wrong chapter to the one who buys a jean jacket just when everyone else is donating his to Good Will, losers come in many sizes and shapes.

Jobs provide kids with extra pocket money and an opportunity for missing out on school activities.

While some cheer themselves hoarse at the Friday night games, others scoop hundreds of ice cream cones at Baskin and Robbins. They are losing the little extras that make school more than homework and tests.

Cheating on a test and getting caught can transform a student into a loser when the zero he receives ruins his grade average.

Busted for drugs or picked up for shoplifting, a student can become a permanent loser when colleges won't accept him and employees won't hire him.

Brush strokes of frustration and disappointment on a canvas of failure. A portrait of a loser is easy to paint.

A well-paying job and night activities are often sacrificed by athletes vying for positions

Girls faced with Friday night and no date, resort to arranging a card game to combat boredom.

TRACKMEN MOUNT 5-3 RECORD, TAKE FOURTH

"What am I doing here? I ain't no Jesse Owens. That guy looks pretty fast. I wonder what it will feel like to finish last."

Bang!

"Hey, I got a good jump on the rest of those dudes. Now if I can only stay in front. I wonder what it will feel like to finish first for a change."

No matter what a person does, if he wants to be the best, he has to push himself to the limits of physical endurance, and participating in track is no exception.

Striving to be the best aided the Panthers in achieving a 5-3 record in regular meets, with a fourth place in the Lake Suburban Conference tilt.

Having completed the regular season, the Cats turned to the subject of yearly awards.

please turn to page 102 ➡

Hoping to capture a first place in the high jump and maybe set a school record, senior Mark Green limbers up and stretches his muscles in pre-game warm-ups.

To muster the strength and momentum required to hurl the discus, John Thomas experiences deep concentration and wind up to get as much distance as humanly possible.

Play it long and play it loud

Surround yourself, like Curtis Hunt with the now sound in music by listening to the fine stereo equipment from Hammond Electronics.
— Hammond Electronics, 139 Griffith Blvd., Griffith, 923-1550.

1973 VARSITY TRACK

OPP.

Chesterton
Highland Munster
Calumet
Crown Point
Lake Central Gary Andean Gary Mann

GHS

L
W
L
L
W
W
W
W

INVITATIONALS

Little Five	1st
Chesterton Relays	3rd
Hammond Relays	5th
Griffith Relays	3rd
Lake Suburban Conference Meet	4th
Sectionals	5th

VARSITY TRACK TEAM — back row: Barry Lanier, Luke Lovich, Mike Catchur, Bob Rucoba, Rick Konopasek, Bob Erickson, Jeff Chappell, Ed Wilcynski, Dan Hollowell, Rick Newland; third row: John Alumbaugh, John Hodal, Henry Schmell, Jan Helfen, Steve Freeman, Don Whitlock, John Thomas, Chuck

Racz, Dean Duncan. second row: Steve Dell, Dave Hollowell, Mark Gregory, Tim Lovich, Craig Collet, Kent Maynard, Mark Green, Kurt Sanders, Kevin Fleck; front row: Carol Ciorianu, manager, Gary Korzeniewski, Jeff Gordon, Les Blythe, Al Funk, Jeff Winston, Rick Lloyd, Dawn Malick, manager.

Sugar and spice is not always nice

ROY'S E-Z GO

8310 Calumet Avenue

Munster

836-9241

INDIANA FLOORS

2813 Jewett Street

Highland

923-5916

Nature provided 32 teeth but cookies and candy can easily rob you of them. Keep them intact with a regular check up at Dr. Dan Strapon. — Dr. Dan Strapon DDS, 144 Broad St., Griffith, 838-1345.

WHITLOCK TAPS 12TH IN STATE; FUNK COPS MVP

Outstanding Fieldman went to senior Don Whitlock, who served as co-captain for the squad along with senior Jeff Gordon. Most Valuable Player and Outstanding Dash Man went to senior Al Funk.

Head Coach Frank Burke guided the team to a fifth place Sectional standing, while qualifying Whitlock for pole vault and Funk for low hurdles in Regionals. Whitlock placed fourth, which qualified him for state, where he placed seventh.

"Come on, legs, only a hundred yards left, don't fail me now. Fifty yards left. Come on, pulling away. Break the string I win!

"I wonder if I can get the coach to paint 'J. Owens' on my locker."

Hands on hips, bowed head and a defeated look depict Tim Lovich's dejection after an unsuccessful attempt for a first.

Cool spring afternoons bring out the sweat suits for Victor Schmell and Bob Erickson as they prepare for their daily practice.

M-M-M GOOD!

STRACK & VAN

I scream, you scream, we all scream for ice cream. When Betty Konopasek wants something good to eat, she always fills up on Dairy Rich ice cream.

— Dairy Rich Ice Cream, 6510 Broadway, Gary, 887-9555.

Serving as one of the largest super markets in this area, Strack and Van Til provides groceries for almost 25,000 customers a day. — Strack and Van Til, 45th and Cline, Highland, 923-3931.

When your gas gauge and wallet both register empty, go to Texaco where employees like Jerry Tubbs will sell you gasoline that gives more mileage for your money.
— Tubbs Texaco, 245 Broad Street
Griffith, 839-7011.

LIL SUPER & PRODUCE MARKET

Sometimes a man's first romance is with his car. Fall in love with a reliable, economical, used car from Griffith Motors, — Griffith Motors, 110 Broad, Griffith, 923-3555.

BOISTEROUS

BOOSTER CLUB

ROUSES FANS; WINS, LOSSES STIR EMOTIONS OF MEMBERS

Fans scream wildly with cheers of triumph as the Panthers score another touchdown. A victorious Panther football team trots off the field. From the bleachers you hear a strong, steady melody to the tune "On Wisconsin." A group of 109 girls unite to sing their school song.

Whether in victory or loss, the Panthers were supported by the cheers and chants of Booster Club members. Tears of ecstasy and frowns of defeat portrayed the many moods and faces of loyal fans. Sore hands and hoarse voices plagued members while they boosted school spirit, under the leadership of cheerleaders at football and basketball games. Posters created by the club during once a week meetings

please turn to page 107 ➡

BOOSTER CLUB OFFICERS — back row: Cheryl Maglish, secretary; Emily Trgovich, sophomore rep.; Greta Longoria, junior rep.; Jeri Sanders, vice president; front row: Sue Jeremiah, president; Kim Koseike, treasurer; Chris Brown, senior rep.

CLOTHES SPIN

If you're getting dizzy running from store to store, stop at Ellis & Reed, like Larry Hoffman for fashions galore — Ellis & Reed, 3905 45th Ave., Highland, 923-7700.

For all hardware and houseware supplies, shop at Calumet Ace Hardware, where they have a knack for fixing all "nieks." Randy Mageria buys everything he can get his hands on, at this handy hardware store. — Calumet Ace Hardware, 8630 Kennedy Avenue, Highland, 835-8357.

"We're winning!" Senior Karen Smith shows the excitement of a Friday night basketball game as she backs her team to a Panther victory.

Hours spent by Booster Club members painting posters and creating hoops prove to be useful as senior Ken Galik burst through the hoop for a Panther victory.

If you can't bear your hair any longer, let Gwen's House of Beauty fix it like Sherry Jones', Barb Carter's or Cindy Dolan's. After just one visit you'll love your hair. — Gwen's House of Beauty, 646 N. Cline, Griffith, 838-0790.

GRIFFITH TV SALES & SERVICE

208 Main Street

838-0109

ROMANO'S DRIVE-INN

Ridge Rd. & Kleinman

838-1731

BOOSTER CLUB

SPARKS SPIRITS THROUGH TELEGRAMS PARTIES, POSTERS

added extra support to liven dull halls while balloons, signs and streamers adorned the team bus.

To make the booster block more visible to the opposition, Sweater Girls, chosen for their active club participation, were selected to spell out the word Panthers.

"And the Panthers have lost to the Bulldogs with the score 46-43." But the fans don't seem to realize they have. Once again a group of 109 girls unite to sing their school song.

With raised arms and thoughts of a Panther victory, Booster Club members and cheerleaders unite to back their team during a Friday night football game.

Time: Thursday afternoon. Place: East balcony. Project: Make 35 signs for tomorrow night's game. Result: Decorated gym symbolizing Panther spirit.

Test your Driving at Griffith License Bureau

PEPSTERS POSE AS PANTHER PUSHERS

Day: Friday. Time: Two minutes before halftime. Pantherettes are lined up, ready for their performance. Rookies stand at sidelines biting fingernails and running the routine through their heads one last time. Veterans, although seemingly calm, tolerate nervous knots in their stomachs.

Cheerleaders, breathless from 30 minutes of floor and sideline cheers, relax while waiting to exchange the "hello" cheer.

But performing in front of over 1,000 fans took hours of practice.

Cafeteria tables and dishes were pushed aside twice weekly for Pantherette drills. Shouts of "Step high, smile and arms straight" echoed as they tried to give hints to perfect the squad.

To prepare for the oncoming season of football and basketball, Varsity cheerleaders took their skills of clapping, yelling and tumbling to a Michigan camp to learn new techniques and arouse spirit from the Booster Club and fans to support the team.

Presented a 1st place ribbon in the floor cheer competition, spirit sparkers were judged according to voice, loudness, pep and appearance.

Cakes, tumblers and Panther Pusher buttons helped Pantherettes raise money to buy light-weight uniforms for summer practices and parades. As the halt whistle blows, Pantherettes rush to the sidelines, relieved that they have made it through the routine without any forgotten steps. Cheerleaders start the second half with renewed energy and a cascade of cheers.

Pom pons swaying to the beat of "Baby Elephant Walk" form a line of fluttering streamers at Pantherettes perform.

PANTHERETTES — back row: Hesta Smith, Harolene Willerman, Angie Hosler, Deanna Bjelich, Carolyn Hoshaw, Loretta Hurst, Judy Konopasek; fourth row: Terry Patton, Cheri Holme, Linda Rogowski, Jane Harmon, Carol Cioroianu, Nancy

Frailley, Denise Peglow; third row: Kathy Ballah, Carolyn Tzitz, Debbie Ponikvar, Sue Curry, Edie Baxter, Carrie Blythe, Lorene Murray; second row: Katie Hansen, Janice Dickens, Chris Donovan, Tootsie Davids, Cathy Marsh, Judy Hooks; front row: Tammy Muller, June Aldrin, pres.; Cathy Popovich, vice pres.; Kim Racz, sec-treas; Sherry Fulkerson, hist.; Theresa Benjamin.

Tuesday and Thursday practices help Kim Adams perfect her aerial backflips and at the same time...

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS — Karen Konopasek, Chris Barta, Cindy Jansen, Chris Patterson, captain; Kim Adams.

JUNIOR VARSITY CHEERLEADERS — Dianne Clark, Cindy Dolan, captain; Kim Oman, Rita Gerrity.

VOLLEYBALL

ENTHUSIASTS

SPIKE, SERVE, STRUGGLE THROUGH SEASON

"GAA, GIA. What's the difference? I just don't get it."

At the end of the 1973 season, the Girls Athletic Association was changed to the Girls Interscholastic Association causing much confusion. No certain number of points was required for participation as opposed to an average of 12 a month for GAA. Another difference was the program gave girls a chance to compete against girls from different schools while GAA was mostly an intramural program.

The volleyball team opened the season in late September. Practicing for six hours a week paid off. Please turn to Page 113. ➤

For the finest set of wheels in town go to Western Auto. Chelsa and Peggy Nowak find a fun way to conserve energy, by riding bikes. — Western Auto, 611 Main, Griffith, 838-4011.

Remember when you and your friends loved to do a little bit of home improvement? Look those days that Ben Franklin's Army's look those days with buys to fit your budget. — Ben Franklin Store, 2529 Highway, Highland, 838-1829.

1973-74
GIRL'S VARSITY VOLLEYBALL

Valparaiso
Highland
Gary Westside
Crown Point
Hammond Morton
East Gary
Calumet
Hammond Gavett
Hammond High
Lake Central Hanover Central

L
L
W
L
L
L
W
L
W
L
W

Thoughts of "Keep the ball in the air" run through junior Becky Randolph's mind as she desperately sprawls on the floor in an attempted dig.

Precise timing, correct form and a well executed jump combine for a successful spike as junior Lou Ann Gates returns the ball to her opponents.

Every day practices paid off in making snap decisions at interscholastic volleyball games as junior Sue Buikema and sophomore Fran Lanigan find.

1973-74 GIRL'S
VARSITY BASKETBALL

	GHS	OPP.
Calumet	36	20
Lake Central	43	34
Gary Westside	29	30
Hammond High	51	30
Hanover Central	54	37
Hammond Morton	47	63
Highland	57	46
Munster	56	33

Ready to block their opponent's pass, Donna Gillin and Betty Konopasek show the effort which lead to the team's 54-37 victory over Hanover Central.

"One, two, three, let's go!" Becky Randolph shouts the traditional yell in an attempt to fire up fellow team members.

Scoring 35 of the team's 54 points, Debbie Glass combines perseverance with accurate shooting to come up with the winning formula.

Although b-ballers suffer a loss against Gavitt, Julie Van Sickle still experiences the excitement of her first varsity game. ➡

CLUB ADOPTS

NEW NAME, RULES B-BALLERS FINISH WITH 6-2 SEASON

for some players as sophomore Betty Konopasek lead the "A" team in scoring. The girl's season closed 4-8 for the "A" team and 8-4 for the "B."

As winter approached, girls got out their basketballs and gymnastic slippers. B-ballers polished off their hook shots but gymnasts were disappointed when no team was formed. No gymnastics sponsor could be found.

The basketball team went on to a close season. Junior Debbie Glass lead the team in scoring and pushed the "A" basketball team to a 6-2 record. The "B" team concluded its season with a 4-4 record.

Pleasant View

Freshness never tasted so good to Linda Franz as she drinks delicious milk from Pleasant View. — Pleasant View Dairy, 2625 Highway, Highland, 838-0155.

tug of war, skits, cheers boost spirit

FIRED UP

In 776 B.C., the Greeks initiated the first recorded Olympics to let the great athletes of the world vie in a spirit of friendship and peace.

In 1973 A.D., Griffith offered its own version of the games when it initiated Activities Night as a part of Homecoming festivities. Although tricycle riding and tug-of-wars replaced chariot and marathon foot races, the purpose remained the same: to foster competition among rivals.

Opening the games, coaches and queen candidates reverted to their tricycle-riding days to test pedal power. Coach Larry Parker and Judy Konoposek finished first in their respective heats.

Despite rope burns and bruises, juniors won the tug-of-war against seniors while controversy clouded the contest between the sophomores and juniors when the rope kept splitting.

Providing entertainment between games, Pantherettes sang "The Nine Days of Practice," while the cheerleaders presented a skit mocking the River Forest Ingots.

Illustrating the clumsiness and confusion of a River Forest Ingot, cheerleader Dianne Clark fights to keep up her pants.

Participation, enthusiasm and unity. Sophomores combined an added touch to all three to win the Pep Flag.

Voicing support to boost the Panthers to a victory is Terry Patton parodying "The 12 Days of Christmas."

Queen candidates Kim Adams and Judy Konoposek restrain overzealous Jeri Sanders as she tries for a head-start.

Crackling flames amidst a pile of wood represents the seniors effort to top last year's bonfire.

Although John Galambos was bottled on his drive, the Ingots failed to stop the Panthers from winning 48-8.

To prevent overconfidence, Head Coach Barlett attempted to psyche his team up for the game against the Ingots.

Football Team

I think it would be a good idea if you just relaxed this week and didn't worry about winning - River has "Nothing" They haven't even won a game and we've already won "one" - I am not sure we will practice every night this week; no sense wasting time for such a weak team - and beside that ignore all the Homecoming Activities to think about 1173

River Forest 13
Guthrie 0

JOBS, CLUBS, ATHLETICS FILL STUDENTS' SPARE TIME

"Thank God, it's Friday," Al sighed. "I can't wait to get out. School is so boring."

Al rushed home and flung open the front door. Dashing into his room, he plopped on the bed and stared at the ceiling.

"What is there to do? This house is so boring," he declared.

Between 3 p.m. Friday and 8 a.m. Monday, 65 hours await 1,040 students with 1,040 different ways to fill this time.

Although some people like Al whittled away the hours watching old Clark Gable flicks and cartoons like "The New Scooby-Doo" and "Gooner and the Ghost", others used their free time for more substantial purposes.

Hobbies provided kids with opportunities to delve deeper into their special interests.

Learning karate and judo offered guys a means of protection and combatted "The Boredom Blues." From bottles to butterflies, collections cluttered rooms as students pursued that rare 14th century Egyptian stamp.

Sometimes a hobby proved economical when girls sewed their wardrobes and macramed purses or belts. Homemade items produced a feeling of accomplishment.

For the athletic-minded, spending the afternoon shooting baskets at the Broad Street courts and tackling a friend in a rigorous game of football furnished an outlet for tensions.

To those who participated on teams, weekends brought practice, practice and more practice and spare time was something that only their friends enjoyed.

Students discovered their free hours weren't their own when they devoted them to others.

Volunteers like candy-strippers worked in local hospitals while others cheered at the games, went bowling or cruised the streets.

Ardent club-joiners passed moments draping crepe paper from school ceilings, peddling pop

please turn to page 121 ➡

Bound by bills? Go to Mercantile

Taking into account all your financial needs, Mercantile will help with loans to fill any bill — The Mercantile National Bank, 200 Ridge Rd., Griffith, 538-1223.

MERCANTILE NATIONAL BANK

Vetoing the television or a night out with friends, Debbie Wampler spends her time profitably by earning extra money at a job.

Just as people's personalities differ, so do the ways they spend their free time. Dave Stokes relaxes through physical exercise.

Trade groceries for a little sweet health gratification. Debbie Wampler works at the Grand Island Food Store 424 Broad, 538-0600.

HIGHLAND KIDDIE SHOP

2706 Highway

Highland

838-1260

CALUMET PRESS

2939 Jewett St.

Highland

838-0717

Dance on down to LaFolle Studios where trained instructors teach classes in tap, jazz, ballet, acrobat and baton — LaFolle Talent Studio, 8715 Kennedy, 838-1390.

Enhancing your Dancing

1,040 STUDENTS COMBAT BOREDOM BLUES

corn for the band and battling chicken wire to build a class float.

Job-holders realized that earning money meant sacrificing idle moments as they forfeited extra hours to employers.

However, Al preferred to loaf than occupy himself by any of these methods. Sitting cross-legged in front of the television with a bowl of popcorn in front of him was his idea of whiling away the weekend.

As the movie ended, Al pushed the off button. "What is there to do now? I'm bored," he cried.

Released from the drudgery of school routine and homework, Valerie Mauger uses spare moments to practice a ballad on the piano.

Free time, although welcomed by many students as a chance to gather at local hangouts with friends, became a nuisance to area businessmen.

Sewing provided some girls with a chance to kill extra time while saving money by outfitting an inexpensive wardrobe at home.

It's your bag

Notice how your grocery bag gets smaller everytime you go shopping, even though you spend the same amount of money?

If your bag is trying to get the most for your money, shop at Wise Way — Wise Way Foods 6010 West Ridge Road, Griffith, 923-8107.

Strike one! Strike two! Strike three! Your out! But not in the game of bowling. Trying for a 300 game, Joyce Piercinski takes careful aim while bowling at Stardust — Stardust, Rt. 30, Merrillville, 769-3633.

STARDUST

AS ESCAPE FROM CLASS LECTURES, PROVIDE DIVERSIONS

Forging passes, ditching and phoney trips to the nurse were usual ways of escaping from class or postponing a test for some students. Others found that convocations served the same purpose, while keepin them out of trouble.

While the idea of cancelling a class pleases most students, others became annoyed. Sitar music was better than practicing mouth-to-mouth resuscitation in health, but others would rather have been dissecting a frog in biology. Though some missed a good movie in world history or were deprived an extra day of swimming in P.E., convocations such as the singing and dancing of the Singing Hoosiers from Indiana University made it worthwhile.

In a convocation concerning mind reading, Mr. O.J. Fitzgerald gave tips on memorizing long phone numbers and other devices to aid the memory. Demonstrating the art of concentration with the help of Mr. Bill Birk's 4th hour economics class, he learned over 20 names within 10 minutes and recited them a half hour later.

Discussing "The Atomic World of Energy," and listening to songs from the Showteens and tunes from the St. Olaf Band provided students with a legal escape from class.

Proving that all choruses don't just stand on bleachers and perform, Singing Hoosier members add a little action to the music.

Even Donald Duck, alias Pam Kubacki, didn't want to miss the presentation of Homecoming Queen candidates during Costume Day of Spirit Week.

Ignoring the whims and wishes of Teresa Reitz, Chuck Cole plays the part of Corp. Jester with the confidence of a professional actor

While singing the theme song, Little Mary Sunshine, Carolyn Tzitz strolls through a line of military mounties awaiting her arrival.

THE SHOW MUST GO ON IN SPIKE OF IT ALL

"Guess who's sick?"

"Who?"

"Chuck Cole, Pat Jarrard, Scott Greer and Tom Trinosky's getting there."

"Oh, no. What are we going to do?"

Cast members of Little Mary Sunshine panicked as days until their debut neared. Conquering problems of lines with and Indian dialogue, practicing for six weeks and rushing to create a teepee, campfire, rock and other parts of scenery, a set-back occurred in the play's production. Four days before opening night four of the actors with major leads came down with Laryngitis or some other throat irritation.

With outstretched arms, Captain Jim, Tom Trinosky pleads with Little Mary Sunshine, Carolyn Tzitz, for her hand in marriage.

As days passed and curtain time approached, panic grew.

"Are they coming to the play?"

"Who'll take their parts?"

"Does anyone else know the lines?"

Yet on Friday with the opening presentation only hours away, the foursome stumbled to school and managed to live through at least part of their classes.

Armed with cough drops and throat lozenges, the cast somehow made it to the play. Stifling coughs, they applied make-up and changed into costumes.

Little Mary Sunshine, foster child of the Indians remained her same prim and proper self while Forest Ranger captain "Big Jim" tried to woo her and her notorious half-brother Yellow Feather tried to destroy Mary. But with Big Jim appearing in the nick of time, Mary's half-brother reforms, closing the scene by waving an American flag.

As the curtain closed all of the past weeks problems disappeared along with the accolade of applause.

Talking in Indian was accomplished after eight weeks of practice. Big Chief Brown Bear, Scott Ferry speaks with a fork tongue to the mounties.

'You cute little thing'. Replies Uncle Oscar, portrayed by Scott Greer, to Debbie Kroslack, as he flirts with each of the chorus girls in turn.

Even in the late 1800's being defiant is popular. Chorus member, Fran Lanigan ventures to swing in the presence of an audience, an unheard act.

seniors come to rescue of deserted
TURNABOUT

Just as Orphan Annie, Jane Eyre and Oliver Twist were left without parents, the annual Girls Athletic Association dance was almost left without a sponsor. Due to the abolishment of GAA because of lack of interest, the dance became an orphan.

But the senior class, blessed with extra funds in their treasury and a desire to cling to the traditional dance, came to the rescue and adopted the turnabout.

For weeks after the proposal was accepted by the Senior Executive Council, timid and brave girls alike, gathered their courage and invited their dates.

Even in the flurry of last-minute preparations such as picking up flowers and meeting hair appointments, council members armed with tape, centerpieces and tables transformed

Please turn to page 129 ➡

Evening plans are what sophomore Esther Pena and junior Don Vickers agree on as both relax from the excitement of the Turnabout.

EINHORN'S TOWN & COUNTRY

6540 Indianapolis Blvd.

Hammond

844-1185

AUSTGEN'S ELECTRIC INC.

1010 Redar Road

Griffith

838-7528

Taste buds tingling for something good to eat? Follow the flashing Max & Ed's sign to fabulous food. Max & Ed's Drive-In, 405 Ridge Road, Griffith, 838-8400.

Steady shirts? Turnabout offers a chance to flaunt your own imagination as junior Kathie Ricks and Tom Kemp sport matching outfits.

Times maybe have changes for the better. Close dancing proves enjoyable as juniors Mary Pierce and Ken Callendar sway to soft music.

FAGEN-MILLER FUNERAL GARDENS INC.

2828 Highway

Highland

838-4818

We wish to thank our valued customers who have made us the area's largest Chrysler Plymouth dealership. We are deeply grateful for your continued confidence. Our aim is to continue to give you high quality service and consideration. Our facility is brand new and completely equipped for all of your automotive needs. These many conveniences combined with many years of experience and selection, make it easy for us to say with confidence "YOU ARE OUR CONCERN."

Abrahamson
CHRYSLER • PLYMOUTH • IMPERIAL • CRICKET

9850 Indianapolis Blvd., Highland, Indiana
Indiana 219/923-1002 • Illinois 312/765-8017

LUNCHEON Appetizers
Small Greek Salad	$1.00
Small Greek Salad	$1.00
Small Greek Salad	$1.00
Entrées
Roast Beef with Gravy	$1.00
Roast Beef with Gravy	$1.00
Roast Beef with Gravy	$1.00
Italia Specialties
Spaghetti with Meat Sauce	$1.00
Spaghetti with Meat Sauce	$1.00
Spaghetti with Meat Sauce	$1.00
Accompaniments
Small Greek Salad	$1.00
Small Greek Salad	$1.00
Small Greek Salad	$1.00

Salads
Small Greek Salad	$1.00
Small Greek Salad	$1.00
Small Greek Salad	$1.00
Sandwiches
Small Greek Salad	$1.00
Small Greek Salad	$1.00
Small Greek Salad	$1.00
Desserts
Small Greek Salad	$1.00
Small Greek Salad	$1.00
Small Greek Salad	$1.00

When Jack Frost starts nipping at your nose, call on Zimmerman to fix your furnace. Mary Popyk solves all her plumbing and heating problems at Zimmerman. — Zimmerman Plumbing & Heating, 2839 Highway, 838-1151.

If there's a couple of hungry jacks in your family take them to Mama Pontillo's. You'll find a menu full of fabulous foods to fit your needs. — Mama Pontillo's Restaurant, 3326 45th, Highland, 838-4441.

couples wash cars, spif up to prepare for EVENING OUT

the St. George Serbian Hall into the "Magic of Winter."

Amidst an atmosphere of snowflakes and candlelight, 117 couples listened to the music of the Crystal Tones. Couples found that dances such as the polka and hora which were popular in their parents day could be fun.

After the dance couples braved the icy roads and bitter cold as they headed to local restaurants. The more courageous bore the inclement weather and drove to Chicago. Dining on such delicacies as pheasant under glass and dancing once more to soft restaurant music, some wished the evening would never end.

Breaking away from the familiar slow step waltz, Juniors Theresa Benjamin and Karla Sharp revive the once popular polka step.

Later in life, memories captured in pictures will enable Lou Loomis and Rick Gragido to reminisce about their first Turnabout.

MAIN STREET BODY SHOP

213 Main Street

Griffith

838-1914

HIGHLAND CLINIC

2914 Highway Avenue

Highland

838-9333

While some students' personalities were reflected in the music they listened to, others used stylish clothes as their mode of expression.

V-neck tie-back tops offer a variation from baggy T-shirts and smock tops. Illustrating this are Kathy Doppler and her friends.

FASHIONS RUN GAMUT FROM HIGH WAISTS TO WEDGIES

It was already 7:30 a.m. and no time left for stalling. The girl glanced one last time in the full-length mirror and anxiously surveyed her plaid baggies and matching vest. She was wearing something entirely different from the blue jeans and T-shirts her peers were comfortable in and she wondered if they'd ridicule her. They didn't. They copied her. Soon, everyone was wearing baggies and starting new fads of their own.

Although faded, frayed blue jeans remained popular, new and more varied styles began to appear. Cuffs and high waists marked style in pants which appeared in plaids and solids, in everything from seersucker to wool. Accompanying them most often were blazers and short smocks and shrinks. Feet came back into style as they showed up in socks blazoned with checks and stripes and shoe styles that ranged from the revived saddle to two toned platforms and wedgies. Ranging from blueberry to black licorice, fingernail polish became a vogue among the more daring girls. Other fashionable accessories included skinny belts and the more expensive one of latigo leather purses that averaged around $15. The trend of long, free straight hair began to shift as some girls discovered theirs to be limp and split. Styles ranged from the shoulder-length bowl to the shorter Fonda.

To the girl's surprise and dissatisfaction, one day of wearing something other than the accepted blue jeans, of bucking the unwritten dress code of teens and trying something new, marked her as a leader. She was a trendsetter.

One year later, the girl sprawled on her bed, thinking. Yesterday, she looked around and found herself mirrored in every high school student. Everyone looked exactly alike.

"I'll have to do something entirely different that's never been done before. How about blue jeans and T-shirts?"

Bowl hair cuts and curls have replaced the long straight look, for Karen Smith who wears a short frosted shag.

Latigo leather purses with hand-painted designs accent any fashion from jeans to Sunday best.

Truck on down to Christenson's

Whether you go by truck or car, go in comfort with an automobile from Christenson's. Sue Bulkema and Paul Bielich get carried away with the sleek styling of a Chevy. — Christenson's Chevrolet, Route 41 and 45, Highland, 923-3344.

Don't be a party pooper! Get into the swing of things like Larry Briski, by stocking up with party supplies from Steve's Bar & Restaurant Supply. — Steve's Bar & Restaurant Supply, 131 Broad, Griffith, 838-6534.

You'll get swept off your feet with low priced equipment from Calumet Rentals. Mary Sufak finds she can rent everything from vacuum cleaners to antique cars. — Calumet Rentals, 8600 Kennedy, Highland, 838-4315.

Even though cold weather may hinder some, sophomore Tracy Jeremiah practices his stick handling before an upcoming hockey game.

Proving that all angels don't fly, Linda Longoria doesn't mind getting wet and cold as she stretches out on the ground making snow angels.

WINTER DRABS

REMEDIED BY: TOBOGGANING, HOCKEY, HOT-BUTTERED POPCORN

Problem: Winter drabs.

Solution: Winter fun.

Walking to school in ankle high snow, once in a while being unlucky and stepping in a puddle of slush, getting your newly purchased Mustang pushed into a five-foot snowdrift, and shoveling your sidewalk only to find it buried again the next morning. These and many other misfortunes were encountered by disgusted and frustrated students as they yielded to the popular winter drabs. But for every every problem there lies a solution.

Ice rinks and parks were dotted with silhouettes of classmates, avid kids flocked to Palos Hills with toboggan in

Please turn to page 135. ◆

Checking to see that everything is put in its proper place Bob Owensby shows how Thrift-T-Mart cares about the convenience of their customers. — Thrift-T-Mart, 110 Ridge, Griffith, 838-1305.

For picture-perfect snap shots stop at Ribordy's camera counter, employees like Paul Mageria will help you with anything you need. — Ribordy Drug Store, 9626 Cline Ave., Highland, 923-2700.

Purchase carpeting at Tinker's Den and plant your feet firmly on the ground, like Jeff Clemoff and Patti Smith. They won't pull the rug out from under you — Tinkers Den, 3317 45th, Highland, 923-5453.

Don't count your chickens before they're hatched, but always count on Colonel Sanders for finger liken' good chicken. — Chuck Wheeler Kentucky Fried Chicken 901 45th Street, Highland, 923-2510.

Temperatures below freezing sent some indoors. Switching from sledding and ice skating many occupy themselves playing cards.

After spending leisure hours frolicking in the park, Debbie Glass realizes that the facilities aren't just for children.

SNOW BRINGS WINTER FUN; STUDENTS FIND COLD WEATHER ISN'T SO BAD

hand and a thermos filled with piping hot chocolate. Yet other students took advantage of the winter season. Last minute shoppers rushed to River Oaks to purchase needed Christmas items. Girls cluttered kitchens with cooking utensils while experimenting with grandma's homemade recipe for snowman cookies. Fires provided warmth and added to the fun of roasting marshmallows.

Whether popping popcorn over a roaring fire or pelting peers with snowballs, students escaped from the winter drabs and found winter fun.

YOU CAN'T DO BETTER THAN ZAYRE

For tomorrow's fashion's today, go to Zayre for super styles at savings that can't be beat. Appliances, clothes, toys and shoes are a few of many reasons why Zayre is one of the largest discount stores in this area. It provides a huge selection of quality items at budget prices. — Zayre's Department Store, Ridge Road, and Calhoun St. Griffith, 923-8103.

Ready-Set-Hike! Karen Creighton and Jill Konopasek show how durable plastic football equipment from Zayre can be for all your playtime needs.

Time to throw those scuffy, old tennis shoes away and buy a new pair. Go to Zayre where they have brand name shoes at bargain prices.

The long and short of it — whether you are looking for a long midi coat or a short mini coat, go to Zavre, like Mel Rakatich and Vickie Hughes, where you'll find up-to-date fashions at down-to-earth prices

If you want to be a big wheel buy a bicycle from Zavre where they peddle all kinds of bikes

UNKNOWN: FAMILIAR JOBS MATCH UP WITH NOT-SO FAMILIAR FACES

School is a place with green chalkboards, gray lockers, a cafeteria that serves fish on Fridays and a library housing over 17,000 volumes.

Behind its outward facade, lurk the people that make school function. Who stacks those 17,000 library books neatly in rows? Who answers the office phone with "Good afternoon, Griffith High School"? Who are these unknowns?

As students arrive at school, eager to grab a last-minute study or catch a few second's gossip, they zip in the main entrance, oblivious to their surroundings, let alone aware of the flag flying in front of the building.

Yet, each morning at sunrise, Mr. Jim Bulva, custodian, runs the starred and striped cloth up the flagpole and every sunrise, Mr. Mike Bodnar, custodian, takes it down.

With the first few hours of class, the main office faces a barrage of mothers calling in absence excuses like "John won't be in school today. His sinus is acting up." As one of their responsibilities, office aids answer the telephone and can connect people with 30 different extensions.

"It's pretty hectic with three lines ringing at once," Sheryl Smiedzinski, office aid, stated.

Six guidance aides carry the means of escape from a boring lecture, the yellow guidance pass, to students, while 14 library assistants place approximately 150 books checked from the library daily, back on the shelves.

Lunchtime brings a surge of bodies packed into the short line offering nickels, dimes and quarters to Mrs. Yvonne Cronk, the short line cashier, in exchange for Twinkies and Taco Chips.

"You have to add fast," she said.

Besides keeping school running, unknowns add the extras to outside activities.

Pop corn, a traditional part of football and basketball games, provides three hours of popping 300 boxes full for Jan Helfen.

Using his talents at half-time, tuba-player Mike Trinks suffers sore shoulder muscles from his 25-pound instrument.

From the laundry woman who washes over 1,103 towels a day for gym classes, to the typing teacher who changes over 50 typewriter ribbons in a year, unknowns make things happen.

Drop one from French. Add one to shop. Students changing classes for semester swamped Sue Gall with schedules.

Unknowns' jobs yield tangible proof of their existence. Reams of paper shoot from the copier Debbie Borden runs.

"The J-Room? Line 84." Three lines buzzing at once jangle Pam Haight's nerves as she puts a caller on hold and answers the others.

"40 cents please," is a familiar plea of Mrs. M. Seberger as she collects money from students in the long line.

When special occasions call for special gifts, Maragret Barta and Dave Baran find flowers are the perfect present for anyone, anytime — Lamprecht Florist, 8941 Kleinman, Highland, 838-4754.

Glancing over the Shopper, Sue Gall finds it has much more than just advertising. Local and school news can also be found in this newspaper. — Griffith Advertising Agency, 142 Broad Street, Griffith, 838-1631

After hours of practice with the choreographer, Jo Marie Churilla executes a traditional Scottish dance on opening night.

Costume and make up are needed for the audience to visualize the characters portrayed. Tom Trinosky, Ben Foecke, Doug Brendel, Paula Kavadis, Cindy Valentine and Terese Rietz find all these factors necessary for a successful play.

Can you imagine your family dog portraying the role of a Scottish Highlander? Would you believe your mother? Although the idea seems absurd, pet dogs and family members alike were recruited to assist the Brigadoon cast in memorizing their lines for the Music Department's spring musical.

Adjusting to a hectic practice schedule of over 200 hours, cast members dashed home to await peanut butter and jelly sandwiches in order to arrive on time for rehearsals. To make up for lost homework time, students scribbled out yesterday's geometry assignment during a teacher's lecture.

As the curtain rose on opening night, problems such as boys wearing kilts, acquiring a Scottish accent and learning authentic dances were forgotten. Brigadoon, a story of two American hunters who wander aimlessly into an enchanted village that comes to life every 100 years, was transformed from grease paint and cardboard figures into reality.

CAST SURVIVES ON PEANUT BUTTER AND JELLY SANDWICHES apathy, high prices overshadow 'colour my world'

PROM OR NO?

In 1973, only 150 couples — 1/3 of the student body — attended the Prom, "Colour My World." About 15 percent of the Junior Class labored over 30 hours to transform the gym into a park-like scene. A wishing well, wall mural, revolving globe, and a 10-ft. gazebo highlighted the decorations. Over $1,000 from magazine sales went toward 250 rolls of crepe paper, and tie construction materials.

Roughly $40 to rent a tux, $20 for flowers, and $30 for Prom and Post Prom tickets ran the total cost of the evening into the $90-$100 range.

In earlier days schools felt they had to offer more than just classroom experiences. Social and cultural graces through extracurricular activities were sought. With the advent of T.V. and accessibility to cars students began to find their own entertainment.

The question then arises: Has Prom become obsolete? A boy who didn't attend stated, "I could take my girlfriend out a dozen times for the $100 it costs to go to Prom once."

A teacher commented, "Students always talk of change and how they want to be modern, but take their traditions away and watch them holler."

Amidst soft music and dimmed lights, Prom King Craig Collet, Queen Judy Hunt and her court Chris Patterson and Jeri Sanders anxiously await post Prom activities.

Donning a top hat, bow tie and ruffled shirt, Russ Melton exemplifies the not-so-typical Prom attire.

The traditional bud presented to each girl as she received her diploma symbolizes her new freedom and responsibility.

Emphasizing the mood inspired by the class motto, Debbie Krooswyk performs "Way Over Yonder" by Carole King.

Lori Adelsperger reflects upon the past accomplishments which led to the donning of her tassled cap.

NOTRE DAME, INLAND STEEL, U.S. MARINES LURE GRADUATES

*Join the Navy and see the world!
Learn to type in six easy lessons.
Become a top-paid secretary in months. Mount Ida
Junior College wants you.*

Almost from the beginning of their final year, seniors were bombarded with a myriad of decisions. Each week's mail brought news of dozens of colleges and technical schools ranging from Transylvania University to Mississippi State College for Women.

Like salesmen promoting a product, college representatives flooded Guidance Department with literature and scheduled appointments to orientate students with their schools.

Some faced the decision of whether to grab promising job opportunities or continue their education. Others compromised and enlisted in the Armed Forces, enabling themselves to both learn a trade and still earn money.

By June 1, most decisions had been made. Reassured by notices of college acceptance or confirmation of jobs, seniors' thoughts turned to leaving the security of familiar surroundings and bidding goodbye to old friends.

As strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" echoed through the auditorium, 297 graduates, robed in navy and light blue, slowly filed down the aisle to receive their diplomas.

Reviewing her class' history in the Senior Edition of the Panther Press, Beth Adams finds high school wasn't so bad after all.

A cumbersome cast won't prove a hindrance to Mark Kroll as he realizes he will be walking out of the school for the last time as a student.

"Maybe she won't see me if I duck when I go in the door." At the bell, students devise ways to sneak into class.

To make movement throughout the halls easier during class, forging passes became an art.

THE SYSTEM: BEATING IT IS A MAJOR PASTIME

Homework is due at 9:05 a.m. tomorrow, so you better be plastered to your seat when the bell rings with your blue slip ready for me to sign. By the way, you're tardy, go to detention study hall and don't forget to take your pass.

Scapegoat for student discontent, "the system" denotes AUTHORITY, POWER, RULES, INFLUENCE.

For every action there is an equal and opposite reaction. For each rule, a way exists to break it and not get caught.

Taking the easy way out. Escaping. Beating the system. Students master these arts as they simultaneously learn the three R's.

Creative writing from the cream of composition classes fail to top the originality some exercise when they weave tales of homework that disappears.

"My baby brother spit on it" and "it got run over by a Mazda on Pine Street" don't slip past a skeptical teacher.

When tricksters camouflage obvious deceptions, they are more successful.

"I didn't comprehend the situation; therefore, I didn't complete the assignment," boggles some teachers' minds.

Foiled again, the system loses a bout in its match against the students.

And the score is: Students 1, System 0.

Indiana law states that students attend 180 school days. Creating one's own holidays invites suspension.

However, the chronic ditcher who uses everything from Yom Kipur to Chinese New Year as an excuse to escape classes, bypasses this rule by convincing that's packaging!

Packaging Corporation of America

A Tenneco Company

300 WEST MAIN STREET • GRIFFITH, INDIANA 46319

his best friend whose voice is still changing to call the office and imitate his dad's bass.

With a little help from a handkerchief over the receiver, the ruse passes unnoticed.

Students 2, System 0.

Smoking in the restrooms is definitely taboo, except for those who manage to sample the forbidden fruit without being detected.

Stashed in the inner recesses of "the john," they station a look out inside the door to warn of foes approaching, just as Indians use smoke signals to indicate danger. In this case, the alarms put out the smoke.

Students 3, System 0.

"A decent and decorous coverage of the body is expected at all times," according to the revised dress code.

But when Mary dons her midriff top, she must escape discovery.

When authority glances in her direction, the midsection of Mary's body vanishes as she slouches to hide the evidence.

Mary eludes suspension and the system.

Chalk up another one for the students.

Students 4, System 0.

Pick a rule, any rule, no matter how ironclad it seems. Search out every loophole, then scheme, plot and concoct.

That's how to beat the system.

ADMINISTRATORS ADOPT NEW LUNCH POLICY

Besides informing the public on financial matters, Mr. Kenneth Manifold, assistant superintendent, attends to personnel problems.

Along with enforcing school policies, Mr. Robert Kurtz, superintendent, acts as the executive of School Board.

One of Mr. Tharen J. White's main goals as principal is to get to know students better through his open door policy.

A more pleasant job of Superintendent M. Robert Kurtz is handing out diplomas to elated graduates like Terry Bernardic.

Administration. The word is synonymous with the picture of ogres hunched over desks, ready to pounce on cowering students or worse — suspending them for laughing too loud in the halls. But really, the superintendent and other school officials work for students, not against them.

School Board members Mr. Richard Anderson, Dr. Charles Puntillo and Mr. Milford Christenson work together to hire faculty members, revise curriculum and create school policy. Aiding in this operation of the schools, Superintendent Robert Kurtz acts as executive for the Board and is in charge of seeing that school policy is enforced.

Fighting as it may sometimes seem, a visit to Principal T. J. White's or Assistant Principal Sam Cox's office for a personal conference isn't always for a disciplinary reason.

"I think I have an open door policy for both students and teachers," Mr. White said. "I like to spend time walking through the halls and visiting classrooms getting to know students better." Mr. White and Mr. Cox also supervised extra-curricular activities.

Administration. The people behind the word are usually thought of as demons who were placed on earth to hinder students' races to the lunch room or against the tardy bell. But they are whom students turn to when problems arise.

Besides arranging summer classes and the adult education program, assistant principal, Mr. Sam Cox regulates all extra-curricular activities.

School board members, Mr. Milford Christenson, Mr. Richard Anderson and Dr. Charles Puntillo, meet twice a month to discuss school policies.

Mrs. Leona Kane, school system treasurer, balances the bi-monthly payroll for the employees of the six Griffith schools.

The responsibilities of Mrs. Mary Farp, school nurse, covers a wide range from giving hearing and sight tests to bandaging cuts and bruises. She also sponsors Medical Careers Club.

Pupil personnel director, Mr. Charles O'Rourke's daily routine consists of writing out tardy passes and blue slips in addition to conducting detention sessions.

Under the direction of Mr. Art Ficus the audio-visual department supplies teachers with filmstrips, movies, records and mimeographed tests.

In her first year as a librarian, Mrs. Helene Gall becomes familiar with ordering magazines, checking out books and collecting overdue fines.

The library is kept up to date by Mrs. Dorothy Moehman, head librarian, whose job includes ordering new books, magazines and periodicals.

Students heavy load lightened by 'EXTRAS'

"I wouldn't have worked as pupil personnel director for 21 years if I didn't like the job. If I didn't like students, I'd be in an insane asylum by now . . ." — Mr. Charles O'Rourke.

So the story goes of the people who lighten the load of students and teachers. Keeping track of absentees and truancies, Mr. Charles O'Rourke scheduled conferences and issued student suspensions.

"What courses do I need for college?" and "How can I get financial aid?" are a few questions Mr. Jim Garretson, head guidance counselor, is asked by upperclassmen.

As head football coach and director of athletics and student activities, Mr. Jim Bartlett divided his time between scheduling events and checking club constitutions.

Copying classroom materials, Mr. Art Fiscus, A-V director, dispatched movies and records.

Biographies and fiction stories supplied by Head Librarian Dorothy Moehلمان provided entertainment and education for students. During the year stomach aches and headaches became familiar to Mrs. Mary Earp, school nurse.

Sophomore guidance counselor, Mrs. Pat Richardson devotes her time to sponsoring the cheerleaders and scheduling and counseling.

Taking time out from her regular obligations, junior guidance counselor, Miss Janet Oyler also sponsors Booster Club.

Besides scheduling school athletic events, Mr. Jim Bartlett, school activities and athletic director, is also head football coach.

EVERYTHING YOU ALWAYS WANTED TO KNOW ABOUT TEACHERS

Teachers. The connotation of the word leaves varied impressions on a student's mind, most vastly different from the dictionary version — "one who teaches or instructs."

In the students' book, there's the you-can-get-away-with-murder type, contrasted by the teacher who rules the class with an iron hand; adding just a dash of good old-fashioned sadism when assigning class projects.

Students rate teachers in other ways too. Evaluations of teacher personalities range from the "I didn't learn nothing from that English teacher, but I did have fun," to "She sure piled on the homework but at least I learned the material."

How do teachers view themselves? their job? the students in the school? The REFLECTOR questioned various teachers:

Do you have any goals you set for yourself as a teacher?

I'd like to have students enjoy learning the material as much as I enjoy teaching it.

— Mrs. Margaret Clark

I have certain goals I set for myself. My goal is to get the student to understand what I teach. I may not cover the whole book, but what I covered, the students will understand.

— Mrs. Connie Karlowitz

One of my goals is to try to interest every student in my class. Also, to give students the understanding that learning can be fun in addition to being work and that even hard work can be fun. — Mrs. Dorothy Blum

How difficult is it to keep your personal opinions of students out of his grades?

Personal opinions never enter into a student's grade.

— Mrs. Karlowitz.

You can't let the student's personality affect his grade. — Mr. Rick Talley

What are the rewards of teaching?

One reward is seeing a former student become successful and being able to think that maybe you've contributed something.

— Mrs. Blum

One of the greatest rewards of teaching is the realization that you've played a part in the development of a human being. Public schools are committed to the goal of preparing students to function as contributing members in the American society. In the end, one of the rewards of teaching is the realization that you've helped fulfill this goal.

Only scores from students and fans but from Mrs. J. L. Richardson, Mrs. Pat Richardson and Mrs. J. L. Richardson at half-time.

— Mrs. Clark

Most teachers expressed contentment with their job, "not wanting to get out of the excitement."

Contrary to popular belief the formula for creating a teacher does differ from that of a Frankenstein monster concoction.

In lieu of the olden times' teacher versus student roles and the paranoia of "she's out to get me," both parties have tried to adjust to work together.

"It's a bird, it's a plane, it's Mr. Ron Dujak!" Teachers as well as students take part in Costume Day.

A teacher's day often includes more than lesson plans. Mr. Terry Crowe's thoughts turn from the classroom to the field.

Instructing individuals as well as groups, Mr. Joe Glassford points out the parts of a lawn mower engine to Phil Britton.

faculty doubles as sponsors, coaches

TEACHERS

As the dismissal bell rings at 2:55 p.m. students dash to their lockers, grab their coats and books and leave for home. But the school is not completely empty. As some students stayed for play practice or swimming workouts teachers remained too.

"I never get a chance to leave till at least 4 p.m. One hour is insufficient time to complete labs, so I stay and help my students finish them," said a biology teacher. "The only trouble is my husband gets a little cranky waiting for his dinner."

Although teachers don't get paid for staying after, they still found time to help confused students with their algebra story problems or a Shakespeare quiz. Of the 50 faculty members, 18 sponsored clubs and activities ranging from magazine sales to graduation preparations, while seven coached teams.

Students often complained of having to stay up till midnight to finish an English composition titled, "My Most Memorable Summer," but teachers remained up to grade not only that one composition but 150 more.

Why do teachers stay after school? Mrs. Margaret Clark, English teacher said, I sponsor FTA because teaching is my ambition and I like to share my interest with the students.

Another teacher explained, "I enjoy being around kids."

First year teacher Mrs. Jeannie Babinec taught foods I, clothing I,II and preparation for adult living and sponsored Senior Class. Economics and government teacher Mr. Lee Baldwin sponsored Chess Club and Sophomore Class. During the summer he vacationed in Florida. A trip through the Smoky Mountains highlighted chemistry and biology teacher Mrs. Sandra Beahm's summer. Completing his second year at Griffith, Mr. Richard Beeson taught plane and solid geometry and consumer math.

Science department chairman, Mr. H.F. Besch taught chemistry, advanced chemistry and physics and still found time to sponsor Junior Class and Chess Club. Student Council sponsor, Mr. William Birk taught economics, cadet teaching and U.S. history. Traveling in Europe and to the French quarter of Canada took up most of French and English teacher Mrs. Dorothy Blum's summer. Mr. Frank Burke taught physical education and health and served as head track and assistant football coach.

Discovering muscles they never knew they had, coaches revert to their childhood days as they race for the finish line during the tricycle race on Homecoming Activities Night.

A sponsor to the Senior Class, Mrs. Ruth Carmichael taught general and advanced biology. Taking part in the new phase elective program, Mrs. Margaret Clark taught five mini-courses and sponsored FTA. Adviser to News Bureau, Panther Press and Reflector, Miss Pat Clark was president of the Indiana High School Press Association and also sponsored Quill and Scroll. Home economics and clothing teacher Mrs. Anita Crabtree's activities included traveling west and fishing with her family.

Mr. Noel Cross taught seventh grade, eighth grade and the high school concert band. During the summer months he enjoyed fishing and sightseeing in his travel trailer. Antique club sponsor Mr. Carl Dalton taught U.S. history, psychology and sociology. Physical education and health instructor Mr. Ron Divjak marked his first year as Griffith head basketball coach. Marriage highlighted the summer for physical education and health teacher Mrs. Cathy Eikenberry.

Mrs. Susie El Naggar who taught geometry and plane geometry, spent the summer finishing her graduate work and vacationing in the new phase elective program. Mrs. Judith Erickson taught five different English classes. First year teacher, Mr. David Fisher taught IPS and biology I, II and enjoys bowling and tennis in his leisure time. Physical education and health teacher, Miss Linda Fryer sponsored girl's volleyball, basketball and track. She spent her summer camping in Minnesota.

Speech Club sponsor and assistant golf coach, Mr. Glenn Gambel instructed four English mini-courses. In addition to teaching woods X, woods I, II and power mechanics. Mr. Joseph Glassford enjoys woodworking in his spare time. National Honor Society sponsor and senior English teacher Mr. Charles Harkin traveled extensively as he went to the British Isles during the summer. Politics, reading and bridge are Mrs. Betty Holmgren's hobbies, who also taught shorthand I, II, III, IV and secretarial practice.

Mrs. Connie Karlowicz, who was married this summer, taught algebra I, II, III, IV and sponsored Sophomore Class and Y-Teens. Work study teacher Mr. Alan Kastimpallis taught English, history, science and math. He also likes outdoor recreation and camping. Returning from a canoe trip into the Canadian wilderness, business department head Mr. Dick Koval taught accounting and business math.

Mr. Martin Kus taught world history and world geography during his first year. Traveling from the West Coast to the East with her family, Mrs. Suzanne Lamfalusi returned and taught U.S. history and sponsored Y-Teens. Serving as pool director and swimming coach, Mr. Dan Leslie taught woodshop. He enjoys making violins, swimming, jogging, fishing and hunting.

staff imparts gathered knowledge EDUCATORS

Mr. Harold Mack's chief hobbies are playing golf and playing ball with his grandson. Besides teaching world history, he taught health and safety in summer school. Camping enthusiast and math department head, Mr. James Mason taught calculus, trigonometry, analytic geometry and algebra. Sports, fishing and cars are machine shop teacher Mr. George McClure's hobbies. Restaurant management and traveling are the interests of sophomore English teacher Miss Sharon McLean.

Sophomore sponsor Mr. L.E. Owen taught world history. Sponsor of Senior Class and foods I,II teacher, Mrs. Pearson enjoys playing basketball and other outdoor activities. Business teacher Mrs. Kyra Perry taught typing I, II, III, IV and clerical practices. During the summer, physical education, health and safety instructor Mr. Dave Price played semi-pro baseball and enjoyed scuba diving and springboard diving.

Chinook fishing, hunting, and golfing are the outdoor hobbies of typing and data processing teacher Mr. Wayne Price. Scorer for football and basketball games, Mr. Donald Ray also instructed Government. Golf coach, Mr. Charles Ricks taught drawing, painting, arts and crafts and art appreciation. His interests include hunting, fishing, camping and guns. Sports minded drafting teacher, Mr. Dan Schroeder enjoys golf, softball and football.

Pantheretts sponsor and sophomore English teacher, Mrs. Cathie Sivulich spent her summer attending Northern Arizona University and boating and waterskiing. Instrumental teacher Mr. Robert Sohn also directs the high school symphonic, pep and dance bands. Interested in nightclub entertaining and summer musical theater is junior and senior high choral music director, Mr. Craig Spaulding. Drama sponsor, Mr. G.R. Spejewski taught English, speech and drama.

Sponsor of the Senior Class, Mr. Stephen Stanczak also taught U.S. history. During the summer he camped and fished. Besides sponsoring the Junior Class, math and business law teacher Mr. John Talley traveled from Florida to the Rockies. Mr. Ray Weaver, assistant drama director and foreign language department chairman, instructed Spanish I,II,IV. He enjoys foreign travel and taking part in the theatrical productions. Mr. Robert Witt taught arts and crafts, art appreciation, ceramics, sculpture and enjoys golf, bowling and fishing.

SECRETARIES, CUSTODIANS, COOKS YIELD SERVICES

Mention the word "musical" to most people and images of star performances of opening nights are brought to mind. But, hidden behind the scenes, escaping the audiences' notice, backstage workers keep the Play functioning.

Now mention the word "school." This time thoughts of teachers, principals or students are conjured up. But, just as a play has its backstage crew, the school has people working behind the scenes to keep the system operating.

Planning over 170 different menus for more than 83,900 junior and senior high students, cafeteria staffers strive to provide nourishing lunches in spite of spiralling food prices.

Maintenance workers acted as plumbers, electricians, and gardeners in addition to doubling as bus drivers.

Over 150 miles were added to the odometer each week as buses provided transportation for students living outside a one-mile radius of the school.

Secretaries coped not only with answering phones and checking bills but also with a myriad of students' questions ranging from "What class am I in?" to "Can I have a pass?"

Arriving early every morning to prepare lunches are, back row: Mrs. E. Drodz, Mrs. L. Seberger, Mrs. B. Santay, Mrs. M. Johnsen, Mrs. E. Willerman, Mrs. M. Sikes, front row: Mrs. B. Brill, Mrs. L. Schanlaub, Mrs. Y. Cronk, Mrs. A. Slaney.

A janitor's job is not only limited to cleaning and sweeping. Mr. Bill Bacon is also required to do various duties such as fueling tractors.

School mail and bills are sorted by main office secretary Mrs. Muriel Bell.

Secretary Mrs. Mary Ploegh files all records and tabulates club purchase orders.

Guidance secretary Pat Sanders writes out admission slips and records grades.

Distribution of equipment and films is arranged by Audio-Visual secretary Mrs. Linnel Szurgot.

Tasks like mimeographing worksheets are performed by Audio-Visual secretary Mrs. Donna Santini.

Running the Senior Class are officers, pres. John Lindsey; sec'y, Carolyn Tiltz; treas. Sue Jeremia, and v. pres. Bill Konopasek.

"Hello, Mom, I forgot my money for my _____

- graduation announcements
- senior pictures
- robe rental, and I need it today," a senior girl cries into the telephone at school. As students moved up in rank to upperclassmen, they found new money demands.

While many seniors' interests turned away from school activities, enough classmates combined their efforts in constructing a float for the Homecoming parade which won second place honors.

Contraverties involving the Homecoming bonfire caused many to seriously doubt it's existence. But with only four hours to collect wood, the Class of 1974 came through and built the much debated bonfire.

A new responsibility of the seniors was sponsoring the winter turnabout dance. Formerly set up by the Girls Athletic Association, the dance was in danger of being abolished due to lack of funds and interest. But class officers and sponsors took over and created the "Magic of Winter."

Mary Kimberly Adams — track 2; GAA 2; Booster Club 2-4; Cheerleader 2-4; Honor Society 3,4; REFLECTOR 4, subscriptions; Homecoming queen candidate; cheerleading camp 2-4. June Ann Aldrin — Booster Club 2-4; Executive Council 2-4; GAA 2,3; Pantherettes 2-4, treas. 3, pres. 4. Rick M. Alexander — track 2; cross country 2,3; Concert Choir 2,3; DECA 4. Theresa Karol Alexander — basketball 2,3; GAA 2-4; Y-Teens 3. Lony Dale Alger — Band 2-4; Honor Society 3,4.

Tyann Alger — Booster Club 2; GAA 2; REFLECTOR 3,4; business; journalism workshop 4. Bradford James Allen — track 3; tennis 4; drama 2; Executive Council 3,4; class pres. 2; Madrigals 3; Lettermen 4. Stephanie Kay Alley. Gregory Lee Allman — Swimming 2-4; Lettermen 3,4; Band 2; drama 2-4; Executive Council 3,4; Honor Society 3,4, sec. 4; photographer 2-4; Speech team 2,3; Boys' State alternate. Kim E. Anderson — Executive Council 2,3; Student Council 2.

Ron Aumiller. Debbie L. Baker — DECA 3. Sue M. Baker. Kathleen Ann Ballan — Booster Club 2-4; drama 2,4; GAA 2; Honor Society 4; Pantherettes 3,4; Y-Teens 2,4. Dad Allen Baran — football 2-4; All-Conference 4; Baseball 2-4; Lettermen 2-4; Honor Society 2-4.

Judith Ellen Barenie — basketball 2-4; track 3; GAA 2-4; Band 2-4; Booster Club 2-4; Executive Council 4; Y-Teens 3,4, treas. 4. Eugene Richard Barnard. Steve N. Barovich — Band 2-4. James A. Bathurst — drama 3,4; Science Club 2. John Bathurst.

Brad Lee Belush — golf 2; swimming 2,3; Student Council 2-4, pres. 4. Gary Eugene Bertsch. Lester Alan Blythe — basketball 2-4; football 2-4; track 2-4, captain 4; Lettermen 2-4, v. pres. 4; Honor Society 3,4. Prom King candidate. Linda Ann Bodnar — Y-Teens 2. Barry Dean Boose.

Deborah Lynn Borden — track timer 3; swimming timer 3,4; drama 2,3. Paul D. Boyce — football 2; baseball 2; DECA 3. Gall Marie Brasel, Lawrence J. Briski — Quill and Scroll 3,4; PANTHER PRESS 3,4, photographer. Nancy Ann Broertjes — Chess Club 2; Medical Careers 4.

Christina Diane Brown — Booster Club 2-4, senior rep., sweater girl; Executive Council 4; Student Council 3,4. Janice Rae Brown — Booster Club 2,3; Concert Choir 2,3; Executive Council 3; Girls' Glee 4. Daniel L. Buck, Bonnie Jane Butler — Booster Club 2; Medical Careers 3,4; Girls' State delegate. Ken Buzea — basketball 2-4; football 2-4; baseball 2-4, All-Conference 4; Lettermen 2-4.

Jane Ransom Campbell, Kent W. Campbell, Margie Ann Canham, Barbara Jean Carder — GAA 2; Girls' Glee 2-4. John Caron.

Barbara Ann Castel — Speech Team 2; Y-Teens 2,3. Diane Lorraine Cernia — Concert Choir 4; Girls' Glee 3. Edward James Cernia, Rory Cheffer, Grace L. Coduti.

Although just one member of the band, Debbie Oaker knows her contribution is an integral part of it's performance.

Brenda Ann Colburn — Booster Club 2-4; Executive Council 2,3. GAA 2; Student Council 3,2. Jeffrey Lee Colby — PANTHER PRESS 3, advertising.

Craig Norris Collet — track 2,3; cross country 2,3, — All-Conference 2,3; Lettermen 2,3; Prom King. Rena Annette Collier — DECA 3, reporter; GAA 2,3; Girls' Glee 2.

Wayne R. Collins, Sheila Rae Curnutt — Booster Club 2,3; Concert Choir 2,3; GAA 3; REFLECTOR 3,4, ass't. advertising 3, advertising photography 4.

Susan Lynn Curry — band 2-4; Pantherettes 3,4; Chess Club 3. Anne C. Cveticich — swimming timer 3,4; drama 3.

John Wayne Cygan — basketball 2-4; football 2; baseball 2-4, Honorable Mention 3; Lettermen 3,4; Executive Council 2,3. Jean Darnell.

Elizabeth Ann Davids — Booster Club 2,3; GAA 2,3; Pantherettes 3,4. Dan Steven Davis — DECA 3,4.

Camille Su Deets, Michelle Josephine Deja — Girls Glee 3,4.

Don L. DeLong — Concert Choir 3; drama 2,3. Susan Pearl DeReamer — volleyball 2; GAA 2-4; Booster Club 2-4.

Judy Lynn DeSantiago, Janice Elizabeth Dickens — Band 2; drama 2,4; GAA 2,3; Pantherettes 2-4.

Candi Dittrich, David Elmer Doctor — Science Club 2,3.

George M. Doppler, Kathleen Leona Doppler — Booster Club 2,3; Concert Choir 2; Executive Council 2; GAA 2; Girls' Glee 3,4.

Stretching like a rubber band Linda Franz, strives to reach the ball in order to score extra points during the volleyball game.

Seniors sponsor turnabout;
conjure up
'magic of winter'

SENIORS

Dean Alan Duncan — basketball 2; football 2-4; Most Improved Back 3; track 2.3; intramurals 3.4; Lettermen 3.4, pres. 4; Honor Society 3.4; Prom King candidate; Boys' State delegate. Edward LeGrande Eanes — Band 2-4; drama 2.3. Melody Ann Edwards, Muri David Eley, Patricia Lynn Evans — FTA 4, vice president 4.

Linda L. Farris — Booster Club 2-4; drama 2; FTA 3.4; GAA 2-4; Y-Teens 3.4. Pamela S. Fatter — Band 2-4; Booster Club 2; GAA 2; Girls' Glee 2.3. John Mark Feeny — tennis 3.4; co-captain 4; baseball 2.3; intramurals 2; Lettermen 3.4. Cathy Sue Ferguson — Booster Club 2; GAA 2. Scott Warren Ferry — football 2; drama 2.4.

John Joseph Fitzgerald — band 2.4, sec'y. 4; drama 2; Honor Society 3.4; PANTHER PRESS 4, cartoonist. Roger Lynn Ford — football 2-4; Lettermen 3 4; sec. 4; band 2-4, v. pres. 4; Executive Council 4; Student Council 3.4. Robert Wade Foster, Gene H. Fountain — football 2-4; track 3; wrestling 2-4. Jacqueline Marie Frailey — GAA 2; Girls' Glee 2; Student Council 2.

Linda Joan Franz — volleyball 2-4, captain 4; GAA 2-4; Booster Club 2-4; Girls' Glee 2.3; Pantherettes 2; class treas. 2. Steve Freeman — football 2-4; track 2-4; wrestling 2-4; Lettermen 4; Band 2.3. Beth Michelle Fulka — Booster Club 2.3; drama 2-4; GAA 2.3. Mark E. Fulgraf — track 2; cross country 2.3. John N. Galambos — football 2-4, All-Conference 4; basketball 2-4; Lettermen 2-4; Band 2-4; Student Council 2.

It only takes a few minutes to get a good deal on a watch at Griffith Jewelers. They have quality watches and other jewelry at reasonable prices. Don't let time run out on you. — Griffith Jeweler, 235 N. Broad St. Griffith, 838-3010.

When your car won't run, don't be out of luck, go to Marcus and rent-a-car or rent-a-truck. They have over 100 cars for you to choose from. — Marcus Rent-a-Car, 8840 Indianapolis Blvd., Highland, 838-0200.

Ken A. Galik — basketball 2-4; baseball 2-4; Lettermen 3,4. Susan Margaret Gali — Concert Choir 2,3; GAA 2,3; Y-Teens 4; Medical Careers 4. Barbara Lee George. Alan W. Giffin. Gary L. Glass.

Jeff Rinn Glass — football 2-4; Chess Club 4. Shella Marie Glover — track 3,4; GAA 2-4; Band 2-4; drama 2-4; Executive Council 4; FTA 2-4, sec'y. 3, pres. 4; Student Council 4; Medical Careers 3,4; Concert Choir 3. Charles Daniel Godfrey — intramurals 4; Chess Club 3, 4. Julie Ann Godlewski — drama 2; GAA 2. Anna Marie Ferrina Gomez.

Angela Gonda. Anna Marie Gonzales — track 2,3; GAA 2,3; Booster Club 2. Mark Alan Govert — golf 2-4; Lettermen 3,4. Linda Kay Graun — Band 2; Concert Choir 3; DECA 3,4, sec'y. 4; drama 2,3; Honor Society 3,4; Pantherettes 3; Student Council 3. Vern Harold Green — swimming 2; drama 2.

William Scott Greer — Concert Choir 3,4; drama 3,4; Madrigals 4. Constance Ann Griffin — Booster Club 2, 3; Executive Council 2; GAA 2. Becky Ruth Grimm — Booster Club 2; FTA 3,4. Michael Dean Guerrero — track 2-4; cross country 2-4. Julia Dawn Gunter.

Be another Shirley Temple and dance your way into the hearts of millions. Take lessons like these little girls at Jeanne's School of Dance — Jeanne's School of Dance — 1846 Clinic, 838-2813.

Pedaling frantically to the finish line, queen candidate Judy Konopasek takes the lead in the tricycle race, part of Homecoming activities.

SENIORS

Three majors, minors, 44 credit requirement keep seniors busy

Ione Celia Harris — Booster Club 2; Executive Council 3; GAA 2-4; Art Club 2-4. Louis Jan Helfen — track 2-4; cross country 2-4; Lettermen 3,4; Concert Choir 3; drama 2.

Jon Robert Hendrickson — track 2-4; cross country 2-4; Randy S. Hill — baseball 2.

Joseph John Hodor — swimming 2. Lawrence John Hoffman — baseball 2-4; Lettermen 4.

When sadness strikes your family or friends call on Kuiper, for funeral services that are fitting. — Kuiper Funeral Home, 9039 Kleinman, Highland, 923-7600.

Pizza is as easy as pie to Mr. Don Knotts owner of Luigi's. Pepperoni, sausage, cheese and mushrooms are just a few things found on these fantastic pizzas. — Luigi's Pizza, 106 S. Broad, Griffith, 923-3232.

The Twenty Horse Open Sleigh

Go dashing through the snow on a snowmobile from Terpstra's. Mark Edwards and Lee Ann Terpstra discover there is more than just great motorcycles at Terpstra's. — Terpstra's, 1235 45th Street, Griffith, 838-3600.

Mike J. Hoffman, Nena Hulzenga — Concert Choir 2,4; Girls' Glee 3,4. Rita Hulett — Booster Club 2; drama 2,4; GAA 2; Speech Team 2; Y-Teens 2,3. Linda Jean Humble — volleyball 2; Booster Club 2,3; Executive Council 3; Girls' Glee 2-4; Student Council 3. Robert Michael Humbert — golf 3.

Curtis Clark Hunt — football 4; golf 3,4; tennis 3; Lettermen 4; Band 2-4; Executive Council 4; Student Council 4. Jeff Hunt, Judy Hunt — basketball stat. 3; tennis mgr. 3; basketball 2,3; track 2,3; GAA 2,3; Executive Council 2,3; Quill and Scroll 3,4; Student Council 2,3; REFLECTOR 3,4; academics 3; layout 4; Prom Queen; journalism workshop 4. Loretta Jean Hurst — Booster Club 2-4; Concert Choir 2; GAA 2-4; Girls' Glee 3,4. Greg W. James — basketball 2,3; football 2,3.

Timothy Bruce Jamison — golf 2-4; Lettermen 2-4. Margaret E. Jansen — GAA 2. James Arthur Jarmakowicz — track 2; FTA 4. Patricia Ann Jarrard — Concert Choir 2,3; drama 2-4; Madrigals 3,4; Science Club 2,3; Speech Team 2; Y-Teens 4. Susan Elaine Jeremiah — volleyball 2-4; captain 4; GAA 2-4; Booster Club 2-4, sec'y 3, pres. 4; Girls' Glee 3; Quill and Scroll 3,4; Student Council 2-4; REFLECTOR 3,4; subscriptions 3; photography 4.

Kathy Jillson — Y-Teens 2. Daniel A. Johanson, Carol Jo Johnson — Concert Choir 2; drama 2,3; FTA 4; Honor Society 4; Madrigals 3; Girls' State delegate. Sherry Lynn Jones — track 2,3; GAA 2,3; Pantherettes 3,4. Jeff Jostes.

Tim Jostes, Ann Marie Jurevics — GAA 2, Leo Joseph Kalernba — baseball mgr. 3,4; Lettermen 4, Kathryn Louise Kapitan, Christy Lu Kasmak — Booster Club 2, 3; GAA 2,3.

Ken F. Keelen — DECA 3,4, Thomas Eugene Kemp, Kevin C. Kennedy, Cathy Jean Key — Band 2-4; Booster Club 2,3; GAA 2,3, Richard Eric Klein.

Sharon Kay Knobel, Patricia L. Kolarik — Booster Club 2,3, treas. 3; Honor Society 3,4; Quill and Scroll 3,4, v. pres. 4; Student Council 2-4; TIMES corres. 2; PANTHER PRESS 3,4, sports 3, editor 4; class v. pres. 3; journalism workshop 3,4, George Konopasek — basketball 2,3; football 2-4; baseball 2; Lettermen 4; Student Council 2, Judy K. Konopasek — basketball 2-4; GAA 2-4; Executive Council 2,3; Pantherettes 3,4; Homecoming queen candidate, Karen Jean Konopasek — Booster Club 2-4; cheerleader 2-4; GAA 2-4; Executive Council 2,3; Homecoming queen candidate; cheerleading camp 2-4.

William L. Konopasek — Executive Council 2; Student Council 2-4, sec. 4; class treas. 3; v. pres. 4, Linda Sue Kool — Band 2,3, Concert Choir 3; DECA 3,4; drama 2, 3; GAA 2,3, Kimberly L. Koseike — Booster Club 2-4; Executive Council 3,4; GAA 2,3; Student Council 3,4; Homecoming Queen, Michael C. Kovera, Jackie Ann Kozlica — Concert Choir 4; Girls' Glee 3,4.

Amidst dimmed lights and soft music, Barb George and her escort Bob Ditterline relax with quiet conversation while awaiting the Post-Prom activities.

SENIORS

First place float, unpredicted bonfire highlight memories

Pamela Diane Krum — Concert Choir 2-4; drama 2,3.
Kenneth Paul Kus — football 2-4; track 2; swimming 2,
 3; Lettermen 3,4; Student Council 2; PANTHER PRESS
 3,4, photographer.

Jeri Lynn Kussmaul — volleyball 3,4; Booster Club 3,4;
 GAA 2-4, sec. 3; swimming timer 3,4; track timer 3,4.
Mark Allen Lange — DECA 3,4; pres. 3.

Donna Jean LaRue — Booster Club 2; Honor Society 2-4; v. pres. 4; Quill and Scroll 3,4; treas. 4; Speech team
 3; Y-Teens 2; Medical Careers 2,3; Reflector 3,4; activities 3, copy 4; Purdue Speech Assembly 3; journalism workshop 4. Michael Lax.

Becky R. Lazar — Booster Club 2; GAA 2,3. Ann Lesniak.

SENIORS

Postema lets you paint what you think. Don't hide those dingy, spotted walls with old, bulky pictures, cover them with a coat of Postema paint. — Postema Paint and Floor Covering, 321 Ridge, Griffith, 838-2050.

There's no place like home!
 When you're ready to build that dream house let Highland Lumber supply the wood. — Highland Lumber, 2930 Ridge, 923-5056.

With a limit of four hours in which to collect wood, John Lindsey, Scott Ferry and John Fitzgerald pile up discarded cartons and boards to produce the traditional Homecoming bonfire.

John C. Lindsey — track 2; cross country 2; Most Improved 2; Lettermen 2; class pres. 4. Rick Lloyd.

Robin Denice Lloyd. Roberta Ann Loomis.

Carol Louise Lukacs — Booster Club 2; GAA 2.3. Lynn F. Lukmann — basketball 2-4; GAA 2-4; Booster Club 2-4; REFLECTOR 3, asst. subscriptions; journalism workshop 3.

Tim J. McClure — football 2.3. Tom McLean.

Luxury Living at a Low Cost

Cynthia J. McVey — Booster Club 2,3; GAA 2,3. Paul Henry Magiera — drama 2-4. Cheryl Louise Maglish — Booster Club 2-4, sec'y. 4; GAA 2,3. Diana Patricia Maglish — Honor Society 3,4; Y-Teens 2. Robert Allan Maglish — Art Club 3,4; v. pres. 3; pres. 4.

Edmund Patrick Malone — Boys' State delegate. Michael Anthony Markovich — football 4; golf 2-4; wrestling 2,3. Timothy James Mattozzi. Valerie Joan Mauger — Booster Club 2-4; Sweater Girl 4; drama 3; GAA 2; Girls' Glee 3,4; Medical Careers 4. Mary Lou Miller — basketball stat. 3; tennis mgr. 3; Booster Club 2; GAA 2; Student Council 2; News Bureau 2; TIMES corres.; PANTHER PRESS 3; News Editor; REFLECTOR 4; seniors; journalism workshop 3.

Tom Miller. John Michael Nelson — wrestling 2-4; Band 2,4; drama 3; Madrigals 3,4. Richard Patrick Newland — track 3; intramurals 2. Linda Norris. Judith Ann Northrup — Concert Choir 3.

Steve Novath. Chelsa Marie Nowak — Booster Club 2-4; rep 3; Concert Choir 4; drama 2-4; Executive Council 4; GAA 2,3; Student Council 4. David Wayne Palinca — wrestling 2; Band 2,3. Janet Ann Paluch — Band 2-4; Booster Club 3,4; GAA 2,3. Lynn Marie Paluch — Band 2-4; Booster Club 4.

Don James Parsons. Chris Ann Patterson — gymnastics 2; GAA 2,3; Booster Club 2-4; cheerleader 3,4, captain 4; drama 2; FTA 4; Madrigals 3; Honor Society 2-4; treas. 4; Quill and Scroll 3,4, sec. 4; Student Council 2; REFLECTOR 3,4; academics 3, editor 4; Prom queen candidate; journalism workshop 4; cheerleading camp 3,4. Thomas David Paulauski — baseball 2-4; intramurals 2-4; Lettermen 3,4. Tom Payton. Denise Ann Peglow — basketball 2; GAA 2-4; Booster Club 2-4; Panhorettes 3,4, Camp 3,4.

Ken Perez. Lawrence Edward Perotti — swimming 2-4; Lettermen 2-4. Timothy S. Pesut — tennis 2-4; Lettermen 4; Band 2,3; Student Council 4. Mary Gayle Ann Petrusic. Scott T. Pierce — DECA 3,4.

Mark William Pittman — Science Club 2; Chess Club 3. James Wade Polites — football 2; baseball 2. Debbie Ponikvar. George Mark Popovich — intramurals 3,4. Steve James Popovich — football 2,3; track 2; wrestling 2.

William Wesley Potts — track 2; tennis 2; band 2-4. Dave Allen Price. Nanelle Joan Price — GAA 2; Panhorettes 3,4; camp 3. Gerald Richard Purkey — baseball 2. Barbara Jean Rabatin.

If you weren't born with a green thumb, let Mary Ann's grow your garden. Roger Walters and John Hodal find all kinds of flowers and plants at Mary Ann's — Mary Ann's Garden Center, 3405 Ridge Rd., Highland, 538-0015.

Serving Indiana as one of the largest import car centers, Town & Country South sells Fiat's, Jaguar's, Triumph's and Volvo's. — Town & Country South, 9745 Spring, Highland, 538-3230.

SENIORS

Class breaks graduation tradition; all don same color robes

Rummaging through her mother's closet and digging into old trunks aided Cheisa Nowak in designing an effective costume to wear during Spirit Week.

Ton Ranta. Nick Rastovski.

Laurie Diand Redman — basketball 2; GAA 2,3, v. pres.
3. Rosalyn Reeves.

Diane Roberts. Ruben Rocha.

Brian Rotz — swimming 2-4; Deborah Kay Rowe — Booster Club 2-4; GAA 2-4; Edward Rubacha — wrestling 2; tennis; Lettermen 4; Barbara J. Rusk — GAA 2; Student Council 3; PANTHER PRESS 3; News Bureau 3; Kenneth Glenn Rutledge — basketball mgr. 2-4; basketball 2-4; Lettermen 2-4.

Joseph Stanley Rygas — tennis 3-4; Lettermen 3-4; band 3; Student Council 3-4, v. pres. 4; Carol Sue Sanders — drama 2; Chess Club 3; Jeri Elizabeth Sanders — Booster Club 2-4, v. pres. 4; Executive Council 3; GAA 2-3; Prom queen candidate; Homecoming queen candidate. Raymond Allen Sanders — tennis 2-3; Band 2-4; Lettermen 2-4; Chess club 3; Kathleen Ann Santay — basketball 2; Booster Club 2-4; GAA 2-4.

Jo Ann Scammerhorn, Mark Jeffrey Schaddt — Band 2-4; Medical Careers 2-4; Victor Schnell — Chess Club 4; Martin Schweitzer, Larry B. Scott.

Robert Keith Sexton — tennis 2-4; Lettermen 2-4; Debbie Darlene Sharp — drama 3; Girls' Glee 3-4; Lori Ann Shepkowski — Band 2-3; DECA 3-4, reporter 4; GAA 2, 3; Jon L. Shinabarger — basketball 4; gymnastics 3; GAA 2-4; band 2-4, treas. 3, pres. 4; Linda Louise Shores.

8201 Calumet Avenue Munster
Illinois 731-7900
Indiana 836-5555

YEAR ROUND SAVINGS AT CARPETLAND.

Located in Munster, 3 Blocks South of the Tri State, on Calumet Avenue.

Ken A. Shutts — football 2; William Joseph Slankard — Band 2-4; Chess club 3,4, treas. 4; Janice Marie Slupski — Executive Council 4; Honor Society 2-4; Quill and Scroll 3,4, pres. 4; Student Council 4; Y-Teens 2; PANTHER PRESS 2-4, feature editor 3, managing editor 4; journalism workshop 3,4. Sheryl Ann Smiedzinski — Booster Club 2,3; Concert Choir 2; Executive Council 2,4; GAA 2-4; Girls' Glee 4. Karen M. Smith — Booster Club 2,3; GAA 2; Girls' Glee 2,3, sec. 3.

Richard Alan Sohn — Band 2-4; Honor Society 3,4; Student Council 4. Steven Sporinsky — Band 2-4; Honor Society 3,4; Chess Club 2-4; Medical Careers 3,4, treas. 4. Daniel Joseph Stanish — band 2-4; Booster Club 2,3; drama 4; Science Club 3; drum major 3,4. Sharon Marie Stas — DECA 3,4, Gall Stinnett.

Deborah Kay Stokes — Concert Choir 2; GAA 2; Madrigals 3; Student Council 2,3; class sec'y. 3. Karen Dee Swets — Booster Club 2-4, sweater girl; Medical Careers 4. Pamela Jean Tapley — drama 3; Girls' Glee 4. Lee Ann Terpstra — Band 2,3; Executive Council 4; Student Council 4; News Bureau 3,4, chief 4. Karen Marie Thiel — basketball 2; GAA 2; Booster Club 2-4; drama 2.

Like many students looking for extra money or a profitable way to spend their spare hours, Roger Ford and Brad Allen discover that a part time job has many advantages.

SENIORS

Tempers flare; bonfire conflict rampages

SENIORS

Costumed and made-up to match their roles, Greg Allman and Scott Greer feel confident on stage during the presentation of Brigadoon.

Jack Eugene Thomas — Band 2-4; drama 2-4; Speech team 2; Student Council 4; National Merit commendation 4. Sherry A. Thompson — basketball 2; track 2; GAA 2-4. Michael Albert Trinks — swimming 2-4; Lettermen 2-4; Band 2-4; drama 3,4. Jeffrey Robert Tuley — basketball 2-4; baseball 2-4; Lettermen 4. Mark Allen Turner.

Carolyn Joy Tzitz — gymnastics 2,3; GAA 2,3; Band 2; Concert Choir 2; drama 2-4; Executive Council 2-4; Honor Society 2-4, pres. 4; Pantherettes 3,4; Student Council 3; Girls' State alternate; class sec'y. 4. Thomas A. Voss, Robert Dean Wagman — football 2-4; baseball 2-4; Lettermen 3,4. Debbi I. Walley — Booster Club 2; DECA 3,4, tres. 4; Y-Teens 2. Jaylene Ann Walton — Booster Club 2; FTA 3; GAA 2; Girls' Glee 3.

Deborah Lynn Wampler — FTA 4; GAA 2.3. Robert Wathen. Cheryl Ann Welch — GAA 2.3; Pantherettes 3. historian; Student Council 2; REFLECTOR 3.4; business 4. Patricia L. Welch — Booster Club 2; DECA 3.4; GAA 2. Richard Wilding.

Ernest August Wiilman. Dale Michael Wilson — Band 2. 3. Patricia Lee Winters — DECA 3.4; GAA 2.3. Robert Stephen Wright — Honor Society 3. Daniel Brent Wynn — tennis 2.4. Most Valuable Player 3.4; Lettermen 2.4; Concert Choir 3; drama 4; Madrigals 3.

Michael Joseph Yadron — Band 2.4; drama 2.4; Honor Society 3.4. Linda Darleen York. John Wayne Young — Concert Choir 3; drama 2.4; Science Club 2.3; Speech Team 2.4; Chess Club 3.4; National Merit commendation 4.

Performing chants, cheers and yells which encourage pep, spirit and sportsmanship, Karen Konopasek plays her part in supporting the team.

NOT PICTURED

Mike Anglin
Pam Bausser
Kathlann Bikos
Mark Bozetarnik
Rick Brookhart
Cathy Budkls
Ed Budney
Kathy Carlson
Rich Carlson
Dave Davis
Earl DeLong
Dan Donovan
Mark Edwards
Jesse Elder Bob Erickson
Ben Foecke
Chris Fox
Bill Fous
Randy Gatlin
Bob Gniffke
Bill Granter
Pam Height
Gary Hart
Fredna Holmgren
Rita Hooewerf
Steve Huber
Gary Kozlewski
Litsi Kounellis
Janice Lambe
Mark Lasher
Dave Lewnadowski
Doug McClusky
Tom Marshall
Fidencio Medina
Willard Mudd
Nick Nash
Nancy Newell
Debbie Oaker
Bob Owensby
Laura Patteson
Lois Sanchez
Jenny Sanders
Dave Schultz
Joan Scoville
Cletts Sharp
Jim Smith
Jerry Tubbs
Laurie Van Dyke
Flora Ward
Kathy Ward
Vern Weathers

Adams, Patricia Alton, Kevin Alumbaugh, John

Anderson, Brett
Armstrong, Sandy Arndt, Kathy

Art, Kim Baccino, Mark
Ballard, Phil

Baran, Beth Barenie, John Barrios, Vincent

Barta, Chris
Bartolini, Mary
Benjamin, Theresa
Bernotus, Susan Bjelich, Paul
Blount, David Blythe, Carrie Bokodi, David

Booker, Cindy Borchers, Rick Boris, Bryan
Botkin, Tricia
Bozetarnik, Karen Branson, Vickie
Britton, Phil
Brown, Lorraine

Brownd, Sue
Bryant, Karen Budkla, Candy
Bulkema, Susan Bulla, Laura Bullard, Mark
Bures, Karen
Burge, David

Callender, Ken
Carpenter, Dona
Carroll, Gina
Castillo, Sylvia Catchur, Sue
Chappeli, Jeff Clesco, Jeff
Clorianu, Carol

Colby, Pat
Cole, Charles Combs, Martin Conley, James Connery, Barb
Conyers, Robin
Creighton, Karen Cridler, Cindy

Selected by their fellow classmates to make major decisions are class officers Debbie Glass, president; Becky Randolph, vice president; Carolyn Hoshaw, secretary; Sherry Fulkerson, treasurer.

What does ham and cheese have in common with juniors? Both are caught in the middle — one between two pieces of bread and another amidst sophomores and seniors.

While sophomores adjusted to longer periods and unfamiliar surroundings, seniors dreamed of the day they would whistle "Pomp and Circumstance." Unconcerned with these experiences, juniors' thoughts centered around Homecoming and Prom.

Drenched jeans and soggy socks resulted as juniors washed cars to raise float funds. Because of an early Homecoming, they began construction only one week before the festivities but still grabbed first place with their float "Melt 'Em Down."

Posters, balloons and crepe paper helped juniors earn second place for their hall, while the tug-of-war signified another junior victory during Spirit Week.

Working to gain money for Prom, juniors badgered friends and relatives to buy magazine subscriptions. Even after extended sales time, they fell short of their $5,000 goal as profits totaled $4,269.

After the second planning meeting of Junior Executive Council, "Nights in White Satin" was chosen as the Prom theme.

Cuppett, Debra Daniels, Vern
Davis, Jan
Decker, Denise Deedrick, Don Deets, Barry
Dell, Steve Delnick, Mike

DeLong, Rose
Dembowski, Phil
Dapa, Dale
Dolan, Cindy
Donaldson, Bob Donovsky, Jeralyn
Dorin, Ben
Downing, Patty

Duney, Jackie Durbin, Donna
Eaton, Nancy Eichensehr, Deborah Ellis, Bryan
Embry, Trace
Eminhizer, Mark
Engle, Nancy

Evans, Connie
Farley, John Farmer, Gail Fitzgerald, Dave Fleck, Kevin Ford, Doug Forsberg, Jeff Fralley, Nancy

Fritz, Sherry
Frost, Tim Frye, Judy
Fulkerson, Sherry
Fuoss, Frank Gardenhire, Connie
Gardow, Richard Garvey, Jim

Gates, Lou Ann
Gatlin, Homer
Geary, Raine
George, Sarah Giers, Frank Giffin, Cinde
Glass, Debbie Godfrey, Chip

Gonda, John Good, Sandy Govert, Brad Granter, Mary
Griffin, Glenda
Grimmett, Mark
Hack, Andrea

Hall, Kathy Hall, Jim Hall, Valerie Hallowell, Dave Hansen, Kathie Hanson, Dave Hanson, Jerry Harmon, Jane

Hart, Mary Heggl, Dan Hess, George Hinton, Gary Hobbs, Crystal
Hochstetler, Guy
Hodal, John
Holme, Cherril

Holme, Tom Holmgren, Nancy Hooks, Judy
Hopp, Laurie
Horvat, John Hoshaw, Carolyn
Houchlin, Dale
Howard, Kathy

Huey, Heather
Hughes, Vickie
Hutchinson, Bill
Ingram, Debbie Ippolito, Marlene
Isaacs, Kim
Ivan, Nancy
James, Ron

Jandrich, Nada
Jansen, Cindy Johnson, Gerry Johnson, Mark Josval, Doug Kapitan, Karen
Kelemen, Mariann
Kelley, Sherry

HIGHLAND JEWELERS

8610 Kennedy

Highland

838-2630

INDIANA FLOORS

2813 Jewett St.

Highland

923-5916

"Melt 'Em Down" brings first place to the juniors as the giant Panther melts the Ingots in a boiling kettle.

JUNIORS

car wash raises float funds; 'Melt 'Em Down' ranks Number One

Key, Perry
King, Kerry

Kirk, Wanda Kleinfeidt, Robin

Klemoff, Jeff Kilmis, Bella

Konopasek, Jill
Koon, Pam

Korzeniewski, Leslie
Kocinski, Kathy

MINER DUNN

8940 Indianapolis

Highland

923-3311

GATLIN PLUMBING & HEATING

311 N. Broad

Griffith

838-6972

rs old his our outh of sports-

that dining room, carpeting, family room, attached garage. $27,900.

RICE

2815 Jewett St.

933-6200

GRIFFITH

INDIANA Street. Near Eldon Ready
School. New 3-bedroom tri-level, brick and aluminum siding, many extras, trades possible, $23,500

Buying or selling your house? Let Rice Realty do the searching. They'll find the perfect place to fit your family.

— Rice Realty, 2825 Jewett, Highland, 923-6700.

Kregel, Donna
Krokoskia, Cheryl Kubacki, Mark
Kuhnke, Kurt Kurzeja, Bob
Land, Mike
Laviolette, Cheryl

Lawrence, Vince
Leffel, John
Leistikow, Cindi Lenz, Laura Lewis, Donald Lieberman, Cindy
Little, Larry
Littrell, Larry

Long, Dianne Long, James
Longoria, Linda
Lyman, Dan
Magiera, Ed
Magiera, Randy
Maglish, Annette Malick, Dawn

Marren, Dan
Marsh, Cathy Massa, Denise

Mattingly, Jessica
Mattingly, Jody
Mattusz, Daryl

Mauck, Bob Maynard, Kent
McCabe, Ann

McFadden, John
McFarland, Michalene
Meny, Nancy

Metcalf, Brad
Miles, John Miller, Dennis

Miller, Mark
Minsker, Dave
Mote, Lynn

JUNIORS

Funds grow; magazine sales total $4,269

Left, 1988: Keep in step.
Nancy Fingle uses spare hours to practice baton twirling and show her skill at home football games with the boys.

Navar, Tim
Navarro, Joe Neil, Laura Nicol, Toni
Oman, Kim
Ortiz, Robert Parrish, Debi
Patton, Terry

Pavuk, David
Peacock, Clarnece
Pegg, Robert
Peters, James Petroski, Mike Piehl, Laura Pierce, Donald
Pierce, Mary

Pierce, Sharon
Piercinski, Joyce
Pikelus, Petra
Pilch, Linda
Popovich, Kathy
Popyk, Mary
Racz, Kim
Radinovic, Angela

Rahmstorf, Debbie
Raketich, Melanie
Ramirez, John Ramsey, Cari
Randolph, Becky
Rasberry, John Rastovski, Bob Reiss, Beth

Reitz, Terese
Reno, Randy Rhymer, Roger Richards, Dave
Ricks, Kathie
Rieder, Jill
Ringer, Joda
Roberts, Michelle

High School is a waste of time . . .

. . . unless you find a job that turns you on and makes good use of your education. Inland Steel wants only people who want to use everything they've learned in high school--and strongly desire to grow personally and in their chosen field.

Inland's future growth depends on the creativity and productivity of its people. If you want a really challenging opportunity to contribute--with the rewards and responsibilities that go with it--Inland wants to talk to you.

We need action-seeking graduates for opportunities in clerical . . . production . . . technical . . . and craft apprenticeship areas.

Think it over. If you have high aspirations and a good high school record, take time to find out about a career with us.

See: Your School Counselor or Employment Representatives of Inland's Personnel Department

INLAND STEEL COMPANY

Indiana Harbor Works - 3210 Watling Street
East Chicago, Indiana

An equal opportunity employer

Rogowski, Linda
Ruesken, Rose
Ruesken, Walter
Russell, Linda
St. Clair, Scott
Salina, Robin
Sanders, Kurt Sanders, Ray

Santay, Dave
Sawyer, Richard
Schaumberg, Renee
Schroeder, Jayne
Schwader, Dennis
Scott, Mary
Scurlock, Lori Seltzinger, Roger

Sexton, Robin
Sharp, Karla
Shea, Vicky
Short, Tina Shutte, Kim
Sims, Dave
Sipos, Peggy
Slankard, Sandy

Slusher, Pier
Smith, Hesta
Smith, Patti
Smith, Steve
Spitz, Mark
Stanczak, Mark
Starek, Bob
Stevenson, Debbie

Stull, Garry
Sufak, Mary Sunny, Allan
Surowiec, Bob Sweetzer, Greg Szafacz, Ardith
Terpatra, Jim Thomas, Jay

Wood With an Engineering Degree

Bring your building problems to Munster Lumber where they have everything to build with.
Your house will graduate with honors. — Munster Lumber Co., 330 Ridge,
Munster, 836-8600.

Thomas, Ken
Thomas, Susan
Thompson, Scott
Trinks, Stephanie Trinks, Steve Trinosky, Tom Troxel, Scott
Trueblood, Brian

Turner, Anna
Vargo, Barb
Valentine, Cindy
VanDoel, Vicki VanHorsen, Greg Voges, Craig
Voges, Dirk
Wagner, Don

Walters, Mark Walters, Roger Wease, Darlene
Webb, Jenny
Webster, Ruth
Welch, Nancy
Westerfield, Renee
Weyhe, Greg

Wilcox, Dave
Wilcoxson, Mike
Wilczynski, Ed
Wilkey, Tina
Wilkie, Lynn
Wilks, Patricia Willerman, Harolene
Williams, John

Wilson, Cheryl
Wilson, William
Wright, Dave
Young, Steve Zabio, Doris Zabrecky, Denice
Zenak, Sharon

As the rope splits, victory smiles pop on faces of juniors as they defeat sophomores in a tug-of-war.

JUNIORS

Executive Council organizes committees, constructs float, chooses 'Nights in White Satin' as Prom theme

NOT PICTURED

Becze, Jeff
Belew, Jim Bulita, Fred
Carlson, Fred
Carter, Bill
Churilla, Jo
Drudge, Kathy Evans, Cheryl Gilsinger, Mary Goeb, Bob
Howard, Sandy Juratic, Steve Kras, Joe Lopez, Randy
McCall, Jim
Matthews, David Medine, Lupe
Milausnic, Mitch
Murray, Jim Rafalski, Jim
Rogers, Denise
Saunders, Ray
Schmell, Henry
Solano, Joe
Towie, Gary
Vickers, Don
Wagner, Dave
Ward, Rick
Wilkin, Joe
Williams, Cinde
Williams, Dan

SOPHS

get late start on Homecoming preparations due to delayed election of officers

Countdown:

— 4 weeks till Homecoming
Condition: No class officers, no Executive Council.

— 3 weeks till Homecoming
Condition: No class officers, no Executive Council.

— 2 weeks till Homecoming
Condition: Novice class officers, and a green Executive Council.

— 1 week till Homecoming
Condition: Anxious sophomores and a float with a panther head slowly taking shape out of chicken wire.

The late election of class officers set sophomores off to a hectic start. As Homecoming approached sophomores rushed to complete their float which would symbolize 30 hours of molding chicken wire, twisting crepe paper and creating paper flowers. In the end sophomores rated third place for their effort, "Burn the Forest."

Sophomore Class officers are Emily Tgrovich, secretary; Missy Summers, president; Sue Galambos, vice president; Betty Konopasek, treasurer.

Spirit Week came and passed with the class of 1976 sporting the most participants on Costume Day, Dress Up Day, and Black and Gold Day. Borrowing money used for purchasing crepe paper, spray paint, cardboard and tissue paper from clubs, the class found themselves $58 in debt. Class dues and $32 obtained from bake sales lowered the deficit. Before 378 perplexed and slightly bewildered sophomores could adapt to unfamiliar halls and new schedules Homecoming concluded and sophomores settled down to routine classes and homework.

Agullon, Gary Alexander, Mickey Alley, Cynthia
Amos, Hank Artz, Karl Ashcraft, Carl Augustine, Brad Bacino, Greg

Baker, Mike
Balding, Karen Baldner, Chris Ballard, Mike Bandura, Steve Baran, John Barta, Margaret Baxten, Edie

Bernath, Sharon Besch, Bob Bierman, Gene Blvins, Paula Bjelich, Deanna
Black, Ruth Ann Bobos, Kent
Bodnar, Mike

Bogucki, Nancy Bokodl, Frank Bolla, Laura Bonilla, Jim Borden, Ken
Borkowski, Marty
Bradley, Kathy Brasel, Becky

Breen, Dennis Bright, Mitch
Brown, Brenna
Burgwald, Monica
Burriss, Roberta
Butterfield, Billy
Campbell, Kathy
Carlson, Belinda

Carter, Dave Cassoday, Mike
 Castellance, Tammy Catchur, Mike
 Chambers, Tim Ciesiak, Cindy Clesco, Tim Clanton, Barry

Clark, Dianne Clark, Robert Coddington, Kevin Coddington, Terry
 Coffey, Paul Cole, Penny
 Cook, Bill
 Cothren, Bob

Cottingham, Julie Crook, Diane Csopka, Dale Daniels, Richard Darnell, Tom Deckard, Terri
 Demeter, Vanessa
 Dewees, Tim

Dixon, Mark
 Dobosz, Anajean
 Donovan, Chris Douthit, Dan
 Dudek, Barb
 Duke, Jeff
 Dunlap, Bob Dunnire, Michelle

Eaton, Steve Ely, Perry
 Evans, Jeff Fetia, Jeff Fortner, Judy
 Foust, Frank Freeman, Julie Galambos, Sue

Galich, Danny Galich, Mary Garastik, Pam Gardow, Dave Garmon, Karen Gerrity, Rita
 Giliand, Debbie Gills, Jeanne

Gilmore, Jeff
 Glover, Melissa
 Godfrey, Michele
 Govert, Jeff Govert, Martin
 Govert, Pat
 Gragido, Gerri
 Gragido, Rick

Graun, Debbie Green, Jeff
 Greer, Sherry
 Gregory, Mark
 Grugel, Holly
 Haight, Phil
 Haley, Wendy Hall, Allen

Hall, Patricia Hamilton, Joann
 Hansen, Tom Hardin, Cathy Harding, Beth Hart, Jim Hatmaker, Linda Healy, Tom

Henderson, Betty Hernandez, Gasper
Hilbrich, Mike

Hill, Denise
Hillman, Mike
Hochstetler, Debbie

Hodor, George Hoffman, George Holevinsky, Kathy

Holevinsky, Ken Holley, Roy
Holme, Jeff

Holom, Maribeth
Hood, Scott
Hooks, Jerry

Hoshaw, Steve Hosler, Angie
Howard, Rick

Howard, Roddy
Huber, Jeff Huber, Rocky Hultzenga, Audrey
Hunt, John Hunter, Dave
Idukovich, Nancy Imre, Karen

Ippolito, Terry
Jacobs, Jim Jansen, Holly
Jarmakowicz, Ted
Jeremiah, Tracy
Jergens, Sara
Jillson, Christy
Johnson, David

Johnston, Greg Jones, Julie Joyce, Nancy Kalemba, Debbie Kane, Laura Kasmark, Ray Kasper, Don Kasper, Mary Ann

SOPHS

Voices, decorations, participants yield Pep Flag

Sporting the uniform of a cheerleader, sophomore Rick Konopasek leads chants at the Powder
Puff football game.

Keelen, Kathy Kegebein, Ed
Kellogg, Melanie
Kennedy, Doug Kime, Elizabeth
King, Sheila Knobel, Judy Knopl, Laura

Kondrat, Rebecca
Konopasek, Betty
Konopasek, Rick
Koselke, Brenda Kovera, Diane
Kowalsyn, Nanette
Kraus, Ken Kroslack, Debbie

Kroslack, Karyn
Krupinski, John
Labarge, Darrell
Lamprecht, Linda
Land, Tina
Lanigan, Fran
LaRue, David
Latondress, Robbi

Laudeman, Richard
Ledger, Kevin
Leffel, James Lenard, Jeff
Leytem, Lauralyn
Lieberman, Kathy
Long, Jim
Long, Linda

Longoria, Art
Loomis, Adeline
Loudember, Terry
Lovich, Luke
Lundquist, Rick
McCarthy, Tom
McCarty, Don McCaw, Mickey

After the excitement of Friday night football game drive up to Dog and Suds for something good to eat. Employees like Janet and Lynn Paluch work their tails off to give you the best service possible.
- Dog and Suds, 600 Ridge Rd., Griffith, 838-9555.

SHELL GAS STATION

102 E. Ridge Rd.,

Griffith

838-6629

SPITZ & MILLER INSURANCE AGENCY

144 N. Broad St.

Griffith

838-7124

McClusky, Jane McEffresh, Bob McGee, Sheila McNeill, Steve McVey, Becky
Maddox, Dave
Maglish, Dave Mahns, Becky

Malone, Lora
Mang, Garry
Marsh, Jim
Marsh, Rosemary
Marshall, Judy
Marlin, Joan
Martinez, Mary
Matusz, Cynthia

Maxberry, Mark
Meadows, Ron
Medina, Frank Medaker, Cindy
Metcalf, Nelson
Mihalich, Paul
Mikovetz, Maria
Miller, Chris

Miller, Dale
Miller, Eileen
Miller, Larry
Miller, Rex
Miller, Rich
Moore, Ed
Moorman, Jack Moranski, Harry

Morris, John
Mount, Bill
Muha, Bill
Muller, Tammy
Mulligan, Laurene
Murray, Lorene
Musgrave, Patty Musial, Sue

MICHAEL'S BEAUTY SALON

109 N. Broad St.

Griffith

838-4733

LADD REALTY

9735 Fran-Lin

Highland

838-0011

SOPH'S

In hopes of winning the Pep Flag sophomore Maribeth Holm contributes to her class' spirit by participating in Costume Day during the Spirit Week activities.

Nance, Grace
Nelson, Mark
Newland, Beth Noecker, Joe Novath, Glenn

Nowak, Peggy
Oaker, Jack
Oppman, Doug
Ortiz, Al
Osborn, Jackie

Pacurar, Kim Pavelka, Don Pavuk, Mark
Pena, Ester
Peters, Kathy

Petersen, Regina
Pierce, Cary
Pierce, Jerry
Piet, Jim Pike Richard

Pinkstaff, Mark
Pinkston, Woody
Pittman, Mitch
Pondo, Jim Press, Chuck
Quasney, Dave
Randall, Kathy
Randhan, Jill

Come and get it! When hunger pains strike, silence them like L.A.M. Larkman with the fine food found at Magna — Magna Restaurant,
101 North Broad Street,
Griffith, 923-6454.

ARCO STATION

903 N. Cline Avenue

Griffith

923-3888

GRIFFITH WALGREEN AGENCY

120 N. Broad Street

Griffith

838-6970

Raschke, Barb Rash, Mickey Redden, Jason
Richard, Ron Richwalski, Jane
Riddle, Brenda Rigot, Barb
Roark, Sue

Roberts, Sharon
Rogers, John
Rogowski, Joe
Ross, Cindy
Ross, Mike
Rubacha, Alice Rucoba, Bob
Russell, John

Sanders, Barb
Sanders, Julie
Schaadt, Patricia Schanlaub, Steve Schmidt, Kathy
Schultz, Tina
Sharp, Kelly
Shelton, Ron

Shlnabarger, Rob
Short, Ken Simones, Joe Slurek, Pat
Staney, Debbie
Smith, Debbie
Smith, Jeff
Smith, Trudy

Snow, Jeff
Spitz, Bill
Spitz, Cyndie
Spoerner, Sheryl Spoljoric, Chris Stack, Jerry
Stammis, Cheryl
Sterling, Steve

Holy Doughnuts! Zap! Mike Kover stacks the racks full of Dunkin' Donuts. Pow! Made fresh every four hours. Wham! America's favorite pastry. — Dunkin' Donuts, 6060 W. Ridge Rd.,
Griffith, 636-1518.

Delicious Doughnut's in minutes

Stevens, Eddie
Stevens, Scott
Stewart, Dianne Stivers, Lori
Stokes, Dave
Stout, Janet
Stripe, James
Sullivan, Mike

Summers, Melissa
Sunny, Karen
Swihart, Bill
Szafarz, Richard Tedesco, Jim Textor, Patti
Thomas, Suzanne
Thompson, Scott

Tiende, Tony Toczek, Guy
Towson, Brian
Travis, Kathy
Trgovich, Emily
Trinajstic, John Troxel, Kevin
Urbanik, Jim

Van Sickle, Julie
Vickers, Peggy
Villars, Scott
Voss, Tim
Walker, Brad
Walker, Ryan
Walter, Jody
Ward, Jeff

Watanabe, Keith
Wegrzyn, Karol
Welch, Bob
Whitehead, Sharon Wilcoxon, Dave Wilczynski, Laurie
Williams, Betsy
Willis, Pam

Willson, Terie
Wise, Pam Wood, Carol

Yadrin, Rick
York, Gene
Young, Dave

SOPHS Class dues, bake sale funds
lower $58 debt

Scoring a touchdown is the only thing sophomore Betty Henderson has in mind as she fights her way through the defensive line at the Powder Puff game.

Not Pictured Allsby, Jackie Dykstra, Mark
Gonzales, Val
Guerrero, Chuck
Holland, Jim Klemmoff, Bob Krucowski, Tim Lapkovitch, Phil
Luth, Randy
Matlock, Bill
Medina, Carlos
Miller, Vicki
Pickett, Tim

Ransom, Randy
Rutherford, Celeste
Selander, Kurt
Todd, Ilene
Weathers, Debbie
Winebrenner, Ann

图 1-1-10 41—42 号 80 号

ANCE, 104, 158
GE, 44
NCIL, 3
7, 155
6 176
5
TEN, 734

"Our Boys Will Shine" sings the Booster Club as band members accompany them during the Highland game. As he plays his tuba, Rob Shinsabager wonders about the game's results.

Klimis, Bella, 64, 177
Klovanish, Pete, 92
Knobler, Judy, 47, 64, 185
Knobler, Sharon, 169
Kolnick, Trish, 13, 27, 31, 165
Kolarik, Laura, 12, 13, 185
Kondrat, Rebecca, 385
Konopake, Betty, 12, 102, 110, 112, 182, 185
Konopake, Bill, 13, 16, 158, 165
Konopake, Connor, 73, 165
Konopake, Jill, 18, 136, 177
Konopake, Judy, 108, 114, 115, 117, 163, 185
Konopake, Karen, 51, 109, 117, 163, 173
Konopake, Rick, 30, 77, 101, 184, 185
Koon, Pam, 177
Korzeniewski, Gary, 30, 76, 77, 101, 167, 173
Korzeniewski, Leslie, 177
Koselke, Brenda, 47, 69, 185
Kosniel, Kim, 13, 104, 117, 165
Kosinski, Kathy, 37
Koushko, Lisa, 173
Koval, Mr. Dick, 355
Kovera, Diane, 185
Kovera, Mike, 165, 188
Kowalyn, Nune, 185
Kozlica, Jackie, 64, 165
Kozlowski, John, 38, 181
Kraus, Kim, 73, 185
Kriegel, Donna, 69, 178
Krokowski, Cheryl, 178
Krook, Mark, 145
Krowinski, Debbie, 67, 185
Kronack, Debbie, 67, 185
Kronack, Kayn, 64, 125, 185
Krum, Pam, 65, 67, 186
Kucinski, Kim, 189
Krupinski, John, 185
Kubacki, Pam, 47, 178
Kubacki, Mark, 123, 178
Kunkert, Kurt, 178
KUPPER FUNERAL HOME, 163
Kurtz, Mr. Robert, 19, 148
Kurze, Bob, 69, 178
Kurze, John, 185
Kurze, Kenneth, 37, 165
Kurze, Mr. Dennis, 73
Kusmal, Jeri, 166

L

Labarge, Darrell, 73, 185
LADDER, 178
LAFOUL TALENTS STUDIO, 120
Lambe, Janice, 173
Lambert, Mr. Suzanne, 47, 155
LAMPRECHT FLOREST, 148
Lamprecht, Linda, 185
Land, Mike, 178
Land, Tina, 69, 185
Lange, Mark, 30, 166
Lanier, Barry, 101
Langen, Fran, 67, 111, 125, 185
Lapovich, Phil, 189
LaRue, David, 47, 185
LaRue, Donna, 24, 31, 166
Lashier, Mark, 47, 69, 173
Latondres, Bobbi, 185
Laudeman, Richard, 68, 185
Laviolette, Cheryl, 67, 178
Lawrence, Kevin, 94
Lawrence, Vince, 30, 94, 178
Laz, Mike, 166
Lazar, Becky, 166
Leahman, Rick, 96
Ledger, Kevin, 185
LEDGERS, 46
Leffel, James, 69, 185
Leffel, John, 47, 69, 178
Leffler, Mr. Dick, 47, 185
Leffler, Laura, 178
Leif, Mr. Dan, 155
Leinuk, Ann, 38, 166
Lesik, Mr. Cindi, 13, 178
LEWISMAN'S CLUB, 30
Lewandowski, Dave, 173
Lewy, Donald, 26, 29, 69, 178
Leytem, Laura, 69, 185
Lieberman, Cindy, 178
Lieberman, Kathy, 185
Lindsey, John, 13, 158, 167
Little, Larry, 478
Littrill, Larry, 69, 178
Lloyd, Rick, 30, 31, 69, 77, 101, 167
Lloyd, Robin, 167
Long, Dan, 178
Long, James, 38, 178
Long, Jim, 47, 73, 185
Long, Linda, 185
Longoria, Art, 73, 185
Longoria, Linda, 13, 104, 133, 178
Long, Mr. Dennis, 12, 16, 129, 185
Loomis, Roberta, 67

M

Mac, Mr. Harold, 5, 156
Maddox, Dave, 68, 186
MADRACIA, 46
MAGNETER LUMBER CO., 180
Murray, Jim, 166
Mageria, Randy, 30, 64, 94, 178
Majlich, Annette, 38, 56, 78
Majlich, Cheryl, 166
Majlich, Dave, 67, 186
Majlich, Diana, 104, 166
Majlich, Robert, 166
MAGMA, 187
Mahn, Becky, 186
MAHNS STREET BODY SHOP, 79
Malick, Brian, 94
Malick, David, 13, 69, 94, 101, 178
Malone, Lore, 47, 186
Malone, Patrick, 50, 168
Mang, Gary, 96
Manion, Mr. Kenneth, 148
MANSARD'S, 167
MANSARD'S RENT-A-CAR, 167
Markovich, Mike, 168
Markovich, Steve, 82, 83
Marren, Dan, 13, 24, 31, 64, 78
Marsh, Cathy, 108, 178
Marsh, Jim, 166
Marsh, Rosemary, 166
Marshall, Judy, 64, 166
Marshall, John, 166
Martin, Joan, 64, 106
Martinez, Mary, 64, 106
MARY ANN'S GARDEN CENTER, 169
Mason, Mr. James, 156
Masie, Denise, 178
Mason, Doug, 167
Matlock, Bill, 189
Matthews, David, 181
Matz, John, 185
Mattingly, Judy, 68, 178

Mattozzi, Tim, 168
Matz, Cynthia, 186
Matz, David, 178
Mauk, Bob, 178
Mauger, Brian, 94
Mauger, Valerie, 64, 168
MAX & EDS, 126
Maxberry, Mark, 186
Maynard, Ken, 68, 73, 101, 178
Mc Cabe, Ann, 13, 30, 178
McCall, Jim, 181
McCarthy, Tom, 185
McCarthy, Don, 185
McClure, Mickey, 185
McClure, Mr. George, 156
McClure, Tom, 185
McCluskey, Doug, 82, 83, 173
McCluskey, Jane, 186
McDONALDS, 74
McElfresh, Bob, 73, 186
McElfresh, John, 178
McFarland, Nicholas, 38, 178
McGhee, Sheila, 47, 186
McLean, Miss Sharon, 156
McLean, Tom, 187
McNeil, Steve, 73, 93, 166
McVey, Becky, 186
McVey, Cindy, 168
Meadows, Ron, 186
Medical Building, 45
MEDICAL CAREERS CLUB, 47
Medina, Carlos, 185
Medina, Fidencia, 102
Medina, Frank, 186
Medina, Luke, 181
Medler, Cindy, 57, 186
Melton, Russ, 143, 178
Merry, Nancy, 38, 178
MERCHANT NATIONAL BANK, 118
Metcal, Fred, 47, 73, 178
Metcal, Nelson, 64, 69, 189
MICHAEL'S BEAUTY SALON, 186
Mihalich, Paul, 186
Miles, John, 178
Milicic, Mitch, 181
Miller, Chris, 186
Miller, Dale, 73, 186
Miller, Dennis, 178
Miller, Eileen, 186
Miller, Larry, 73, 186
Miller, Mark, 69, 178
Miller, Mary, 48, 168
Miller, Rex, 186
Miller, Rich, 34, 186
Miller, Tom, 178
Miller, Vicki, 189
MINER D/D, 177
MINER D/D, 177
Minkler, Dave, 178
Moffman, Miss Dorothy, 150
Mok, Mr. 186
Moorman, Jack, 185
Moran, Harry, 186
Morrin, John, 186
Mote, Lynn, 69, 178
Mout, Bill, 94, 186
Mudd, Willard, 173
Muha, Billy, 186
Muller, Tammy, 52, 67, 108, 186
Mulligan, Lauren, 180
MUNSTER LUMBER CO., 180
Murray, Jim, 166
Murray, Lorene, 13, 67, 108, 186
Murray, Patty, 186
Mussa, Steve, 69, 186

N

Nagar, Tim, 67, 186
Nancy, Grace, 47, 69, 181
Nash, Nick, 173
Navarro, Joe, 179
Neil, Laura, 47, 178
Nelson, John, 64, 69, 168
Nelson, Mark, 187
Newell, Nancy, 64, 173
Newland, Beth, 67, 186
Newland, Richard, 101, 168
NEWSBRIEF, 167
NICOLSON DRIVE-IN, 106
NICK, Chuck, 161
Nicks, Kim, 29, 108, 179
Radwin, Angela, 179
Rafal, Jim, 185
Rahmstorf, Debbie, 47, 69, 178
Rahmstorf, Melane, 137, 179
Ramirez, John, 38, 179
Ramey, Carl, 179
Randall, Kathy, 187
Randall, Jim, 187
Randolph, Becky, 13, 111, 114, 179

O

Oaker, Debra, 159, 173
Oaker, Jack, 187
Oman, Kim, 67, 109, 179
Oppman, Doug, 167
O'Rourke, Mr. Charles, 19, 150
Ortiz, Al, 73, 187
Ortiz, Barbara, 186
Osborn, Jackie, 168

Owen, Mr. Larry, 156
Owen, Bob, 133, 173
Owley, Miss Janet, 157, 152
P
Pacur, Kim, 187
Palma, Dave, 168
Paluch, Janet, 69, 168, 185
Paluch, Lynn, 69, 168, 185
PANTHERIES, 108
PANTHER PRESS, 26
Parker, Mr. Larry, 71, 75, 174
Parrish, Debbie, 38, 179
Parker, Don, 186
Patterson, Chira, 24, 25, 31, 51, 52, 109, 142, 166
Patterson, Laura, 173
Patterson, Terry, 25, 108, 115, 179
Pauls, Tom, 30, 96, 168
Pavak, David, 13, 47, 173
Pavak, Don, 187
Pavak, Tom, 187
Pavon, Clarence, 179
Pearson, Terry, 156
PELAYO OOD MART, 34
Pegg, Robert, 179
Penglow, Denise, 108, 168
Pena, Esmer, 67, 126, 187
Perk, Ken, 166
PEPSI, 22
Perotti, Lawrence, 30, 94, 168
Perry, Mr. Kira, 156
Perrin, Tom, 186
Peterson, Regina, 187
Petrowski, Mike, 73, 78, 179
Petrowski, Mike, 186
PHYSICAL EDUCATION, 69
Pickel, Tom, 189
Pickett, Laura, 25, 47, 69, 179
Pierce, Cary, 187
Pierce, Donald, 179
Pierce, Jerry, 187
Pierce, Mary, 127, 179
Pierce, Sharon, 179
Pierce, Scott, 38
Piercinski, Joyce, 13, 21, 26, 179
Pier, Jim, 187
Pie, Richard, 187
Pietra, Peter, 179
Plich, Linda
Pinkstaff, Mark, 187
Pinkston, Woody, 73, 187
Pittman, Mark, 186
Pittman, Mitch, 187
Pond, Mrs. Mary, 157
Polter, Jim, 186
Polong, Jim, 73, 187
Ponk, Mary, 186
Popovich, George, 168
Popovich, Kathy, 108, 179
Popovich, Steve, 186
Poppy, Mary, 26, 31, 38, 47, 69, 128, 179
POSTMA'S, 166
Post, Bill, 68, 186
Powell, Mr. Terry, 80
Press, Chuck, 187
Price, Mr. Dave, 85, 96, 97, 186
Price, David, 13, 47, 168
Price, Nan, 108, 168
Price, Mr. Wayne, 156
Punello, Mr. Charles, 149
Purcell, Dr. Richard, 1, 61
Purkey, Rock, 186

Q

Quaney, Dwe, 187
Quill and Scroll, 31
R Rabin, Barb, 186
Rabe, Dr. Gerald, 79
RACONS DRIVE-IN, 106
Rack, Chuck, 161
Rack, Kim, 29, 108, 179
Radwin, Angela, 179
Rafal, Jim, 185
Rahmstorf, Debbie, 47, 69, 178
Rahmstorf, Melane, 137, 179
Ramirez, John, 38, 179
Ramey, Carl, 179
Randall, Kathy, 187
Randall, Jim, 187
Randolph, Becky, 13, 111, 114, 179

Rendon, Jason, 188
Reidman, Laurie, 169
Reese, Ronald, 38, 169
REFLECTOR, 24
Reis, Elizabeth, 47, 64, 179
Reis, Therese, 13, 21, 31, 64, 125, 141, 179
Reno, Randy, 179
Reno, Randy, 76, 77, 179
RHODEY'S DRUGSTORE, 133
RICE REALTY, 177
Richard, Ron
Richards, Dave, 13, 21, 26, 47, 179
Richardson, Mrs. Pat, 150, 152
Richwood, Jane, 47, 186
Rick, Mr. Chuck, 18, 156
Ricks, Kathie, 127, 179
Rick, Steve, 92
Riddle, Brenda, 188
RIDGE DUTY QUEEN, 85
RIDGE PLAZA CHINESE, 179
Rieder, Jill, 29, 47, 64, 179
Riggs, Debbie, 23, 67
Rign, Barb, 47, 69, 188
Ringer, Joda, 60, 188
Rivich, Tom, 96
Roark, Susan, 188
Roberts, Dave, 38, 169
Roberts, Michelle, 64, 179
Roberts, Sharon, 188
Rocha, Robert, 58, 169
Rogers, Denise, 181
Rogers, John, 188
Rogowski, Joe, 30, 188
Rogowski, Linda, 26, 27, 31, 51, 108, 180
ROKITA F.O.D.S., 74
ROCKY PHOTOGRAPHERS, 28
Ross, Cindy, 60, 188
Ross, Mike, 188
Rote, Barbara, 94, 179
Roiz, Mike, 94
Roiz, Debbie, 57, 179
ROYCE F.C.O., 101
ROYCE FUNERAL HOME, 16
Rubacha, Alice, 188
Rubacha, Ed, 60, 179
Rueckelsh, Bob, 77, 101, 188
Ruesken, Rose, 38, 64, 180
Ruesken, Walter, 180
Rusk, Barb, 48, 179
Russell, John, 188
Russett, Linda, 180
Rutherford, Celeste, 64, 189
Rutledge, Ken, 30, 96, 180
Rygas, Jon, 13, 79, 80, 179

S

Salma, Robin, 176, 180
Sanchez, Laura, 173
Sanders, Barb, 67, 188
Sanders, Carol, 178
Sanders, Jennifer, 173
Sanders, Jeri, 30, 104, 115, 117, 142, 179
Sanders, Julie, 47, 188
Sanders, John, 21, 30, 101, 180
Santana, Mrs. Pat, 157
Santana, Ray, 47, 68, 178
Santana, Ray, 26, 31, 38, 180
Santana, Ray, 8, 157
Santana, Dave, 84, 180
Santana, Mrs. Donna, 157
SANTO, Kathy, 173
Saurer, Raymond, 181
Sawyer, Richard, 180
Schamhorn, Jo Ann, 170
Schmidt, Mark, 41, 68, 178
Schmidt, Pat, 34, 68, 69, 188
Schmidt, Peter, 13, 47, 168
Schmida, Steve, 18, 157
Schmida, Renee, 68, 69, 180, 47
Schmida, Henry, 73, 101, 181
Schmida, Vee, 53, 102, 179
Schmidt, Kathy, 186
Schneider, Mr. Dan, 156
Schneider, Jayne, 180
Schultz, Dave, 173
Schultz, Tina, 187
Schuader, Dennis, 59, 180
Schweitzer, Mary, 178
SCIENCE, 34
Scott, Larry, 170
Scott, Mary, 180
Scoville, John, 38, 173
Scoville, John, 68, 179
Seiberg, Mr. L., 139, 157
Seitzinger, Roger, 38, 68, 180
Selander, Kurt, 77, 189
SENIOR EXECUTIVE COUNCIL, 13
Sexton, Bob, 30, 79, 80, 180
Sexton, Robin, 180
SHAWEL & PHARMACY, 44
Sharp, Cline, 47
Sharp, Debbie, 64, 72, 170
Sharp, Karl, 128, 180
Sharp, Kelly, 180
Sharp, Vicki, 188
SHELLEY CASH STATION, 185
Shelton, Ron, 73, 188
Shopski, Lori, 23, 38, 178
Shinsabager, John, 68, 179
Shinsabager, Roger, 47, 68, 188
Shopski, Linda, 170
Shopski, Kim, 188
Short, Tina, 47, 64, 180

Shultz, Ken, 171
Shultz, Ken, 30, 180
Sikes, Mrs. M., 157
Simmons, Joe, 168
Sims, Dave, 180
Sipos, Peggy, 47, 180
Slovak, Pat, 188
Soudich, Mrs. Cathie, 152, 156
Stanley, Mrs. A., 157
Stanley, Debbie, 47, 188
Stankard, Sandy, 47, 180
Stankard, William, 47, 69, 171
STAMBER SHOP, 32
Slupski, Janice, 13, 25, 27, 31, 171
Slusher, Pier, 47, 67, 180
Smiedzinski, Sheryl, 13, 64, 171
Smith, Debbie, 188
Smith, Hesta, 13, 108, 180
Smith, Jeff, 188
Smith, Jim, 68, 178
Smith, Karen, 64, 105, 131, 171
Smith, Patti, 38, 134, 180
Smith, Steve, 180
Smith, Tudy, 69, 188
Snow, Jeff, 188
SOCIAL STUDIES, 12
Sohn, Dick, 13, 31, 68, 171
Sohn, Mr. Robert, 68, 156
Solano, Joe, 181
SOPHOMORE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL, 12
Spaulding, Mr. Craig, 64, 67, 156
SPEECH CLUB, 21
Sprowski, Mr. Gerald, 156
SPITZ & MILLER, 185
Spitz, Bill, 188
Spitz, Candice, 188
Spitz, Mark, 30, 36, 73, 93, 180
Spornier, Sheryl, 188
Sporkins, Chris, 188
Sporkins, Steve, 31, 47, 69, 171
Stack, Jerry, 188
Stammis, Cheryl, 188
Stanczak, Mark, 180
Stanczak, Mr. Steve, 156
Stanish, Dan, 68, 171
Starek, Bob, 180
Stas, Sharon, 38, 171
St. Clair, Scott, 180
Sterling, Steve, 188
Stevens, Eddie, 189
Stevens, Scott, 189
Stevenson, Debbie, 180
STIVE'S BAR & RESTAURANT
SUPPLIES, 132
Stewart, Diana, 60, 189
Stinet, Cull, 171
Stivers, Lori, 189
Stokes, Dave, 119, 189
Stokes, Debbie, 171
STOP & SHOP, 36
Stout, Janet, 189
STRACK AND VAN TIL, 102, 103
Strapon, Dr. Dan D.S.S., 101
Stripe, James, 189
STUDENT COUNCIL, 13
Stull, Carry, 180
Sullivan, Mary, 25, 26, 47, 51, 132, 180
Sullivan, Mike, 189
Summers, Melissa, 12, 68, 182, 189
Sunny, Allen, 59, 189
Sunny, Karen, 47, 69, 189
Surovich, Bob, 67, 180
Sweetzer, Greg, 180
Swets, Karen, 47, 171
Swihart, Bill, 189
SWIM TEAM, 94
Szalaz, Ardith, 47, 180
Szalaz, Richard, 47, 189
Szarog, Mrs. Linnell, 157
T
Talley, Mr. John, 156
Tapley, Pam, 64, 171
Tederco, Jim, 189
TEBEL'S, 17
TENNIS TEAM, 80
Terpstra, Jim, 29, 180
Terpstra, Lee Ann, 13, 31, 164, 171
TERPSTRA'S, 164
Tetrat, Paul, 47, 189
Thief, Karen, 65, 171
Thomas, Jack, 13, 47, 68, 172
Thomas, Joe, 59, 180
Thomas, John, 189
Thomas, Susan, 47, 64, 69, 181
Thomas, Suzanne, 189
Thompson, Scott, 68, 181
Thompson, Scott, 73, 189
Thompson, Sherry, 172
Thon, Bill, 94
THRU-T-MART, 133
Tiemly, Tony, 189
TINKER'S DEN, 134
TODD, Irene, 64, 189
TODD'S PIZZAZZ, 44
Toczka, Jay, 58, 189
Towson, Brian, 94, 189
Towle, Gary, 181
TOWNE & COUNTRY SOUTH, 169
TRACAK, 46, 101
Travis, Kathy, 189
Trinajack, John, 189
Trinks, Mike, 30, 68, 172
Trinks, Stephanie, 47, 69, 181
Trinks, Steve, 30, 66, 94, 95, 181
Trogovich, Emily, 12, 104, 182, 189
Tronko, Tom, 13, 64, 125, 141, 181
Troxel, Kevin, 189
Trott, Scott, 181
Trueblood, Brian, 67, 73, 181
71 885 724-ACCO, 103
Tubbs, Jerry, 31, 46, 103, 173
Tulley, Jeff, 30, 96, 172
Turner, Anna Mae, 181
Turner, Mark, 172
Tutiz, Carolyn, 13, 31, 64, 108, 125, 156, 172
U
Urbanik, James, 189
V
Valentine, Cindy, 21, 47, 67, 141, 181
Van Doel, Vikki, 181
Van Dyke, Laurie, 31, 173
Van Horren, Greg, 181
Van Sickle, Julie, 132, 189
Vargo, Barb, 35, 181
Vickers, Don, 126, 181
Vickers, Peggy, 189
Villapando, Jesse, 94
Villars, Scott, 189
VOGUE CLEANERS, 48
Vogues, Craig, 181
Vogues, Dirk, 181
Voss, Tim, 189
Voss, Tom, 172
VFWPOST 9982, 60
W
Wagman, Bob, 30, 73, 96, 172
Wagner, Dave, 181
Wagner, Don, 181
Walker, Brad, 73, 189
Walker, Ryan, 189
Walley, Debbie, 38, 172
Walters, Jody, 189
Walton, Mark, 94, 95, 181
Walters, Roger, 189, 181
Walton, Jaylene, 163
Wampler, Debbie, 52, 119, 173
Ward, Flora, 173
Ward, Jeff, 68, 189
Ward, Jim, 81, 82, 83
Ward, Kathy, 52, 173
Ward, Rick, 38, 181
Watanabe, Keith, 189
Watham, Bob, 173
Wease, Darlene, 38, 181
Weathers, Debbie, 189
Weathers, Vern, 173
Weaver, Mr. Ray, 33, 156
WEBB FORD, 78
Webb, Jenny, 181
Webster, Ruth, 181
Wegzyn, Carol, 13, 35, 181
Welch, Bob, 68, 189
Welch, Cheryl, 25, 173
Welch, Nancy, 181
Welch, Patty, 173
Westerfield, Renee, 181
Weyhe, Greg, 94, 181
White, Alan, 189
White, Mr. T.J., 98, 148
Whitehead, Sharon, 47, 69, 189
Whitlock, Don, 181, 182
Wilcox, Dave, 47, 73, 74, 181
Wilkinson, Dave, 189
Wilkinson, Mike, 181
Wilczynski, Ed, 68, 101, 181
Wilczynski, Laurie, 64, 189
Wilding, Richard, 173
Wilke, Patricia, 181
Wilkey, Tina, 38, 181
Wilkie, Lynn, 181
Wilkie, Joe, 181
Williamson, Mrs. E., 157
Williamson, Harolene, 13, 26, 27, 51, 108, 181
Williams, Betty, 189
Williams, Cindy, 38, 64, 181
Williams, Dan, 181
Williams, John, 181
Willis, Pam, 189
Willson, Ernie
Wilson, Cheryl, 38, 181
Wilson, Dale, 173
Wilson, Terie, 68, 69, 189
Wilson, William, 181
Winebrenner, Ann, 189
Winston, Jeff, 101
Winters, Patty, 38, 167, 173
Witt, Robert, 156
Wisner, Pam, 189
WISWAY FOODS, 121
Wood, Carol, 189
WRESTLING TEAM, 93
Wright, Bob, 31, 173
Wright, Dave, 73, 181
Wynn, Dan, 80
Y
Yadrick, Darf, 47, 189
Yadrick, Mike, 69, 173
York, Richard, 173
York, Gene, 189
Young, Dave, 67, 189
Young, John, 21, 47, 181
Young, Steve, 181
Y-TEENS, 46
Z
Zablos, Doris, 69, 181
Zabloski, Denise, 181
ZANDSTRAS'S, 35
Zenak, Sharon, 67, 181
ZAY, 36, 137
ZIMMERMAN PLUMBING, 128

STAFFERS DROP THEME, ADOPT MAGAZINE STYLE

1974 REFLECTOR STAFF

Editor-in-Chief
Copy Editor
Art & Layout Editor
Photography Editor
Advertising Editor
Opening Editor
In-Depth Reporter
Academics

Activities Organizations

Sports
Seniors
Underclass
Index
Business Manager
Advertising Manager Subscriptions
Staff:
Contributing Editors

Adviser

Chris Patterson
Donna LaRue
Judy Hunt
Sue Jeremiah
Sheila Curnutt
Dan Marren
Janice Slupski
Pam Garastik
Laura Bolla
Jeanne Gillis
Nancy Idukovich
Nancy Joyce
Ray Sanders Lou Miller
Mary Sukaf
Brenna Brown
Tyann Alger
Cheryl Welch
Kim Adams
Denise Hill
Nancy Idukovich
Dan Marren
Linda Rogowski
Miss Pat Clark

With the help of Mr. Ed Hackleman and Mr. Mike Hackleman, sales representatives and Mr. Bruce Morton, plant correspondent, 1,000 copies of the 1974 Reflector materialized at American Yearbook Co. of Topeka, Kansas. A major overhaul of the book was undertaken resulting in three major sections with modified magazine style. Staffers followed five basic layout patterns using 80-pound dull enamel paper. A complex type chart consisting of 10 pt. Century Schoolbook, 12 pt. News Gothic Condensed, 10 pt. Optima, and 10 pt. News Gothic for body copy; 8 pt. Century Schoolbook italic, 8 pt. Optima Italic, 8 pt. News Gothic Bold for captions and idents; and 24 pt. News Gothic Bold, 14 pt. News Gothic Bold, 24 pt. Century Schoolbook Italic, 24 pt. Palatino Bold, 60 pt. Laurel Bold, and 18 pt. News Gothic Bold Condensed for heads. With the elimination of the theme, the opening and closing sections of the book were extended to the end sheets which were tinted 30% brown with 100% brown type. Thanks is extended to student photographers and especially to Root Studios. We could have never made it without the help of Jim Courtwright for his knowledge of art, Mrs. Lela Dressel for taking an interest in our X's, Mrs. Natalie LaRue for fantastic pizza, chicken and other home-cooked meals and Trish Kolarik for ripping off the border tape. We appreciate the cooperation of Superintendent Robert Kurtz, Principal T.J. White, the entire faculty and parents. Thanks also to Miss Pat Clark, adviser, for supplying us with nourishing breakfasts. Their support was vital to the making of the 1974 Reflector.

INSIDE OUTSIDE INSIDE OUTS

COMING UP SHORT

I wasn't too concerned about the fuel shortage, even when the government last October taking about gas rationing. I woke up to the anxiety when I drove into a service station and the attendant wouldn't sell me 10 gallons until I gave him 100 trading stamps and a check to win $10,000,* and a year from the station I'd be broke.

And with many students abiding their lifestyles by the (gas) book.

Some wanted their gasoline (plus 10 Muck) B's, making gasoline that, so often, is reserved for.

Swimmers became prevalent as lawmakers were asked down to comply with the President's request.

The supply of some foodstuffs accounted for doing food and not to waste doing more, especially.

In the face of the gas shortage, students had to decide what they were willing to pay for the privilege of driving.

"I decided to give this car to the garage and run the fuel to school," committed and some driver.

Another student noted, "I wish I could sell my driving books to all the law students who are making good by which the paper companies could get their stamps, please."

As the gas shortage worsened, many students began to ration their gas, using trading stamps to buy fuel.

Some students even began to barter, trading their gas for other goods and services.

'MS. HUBBARD' UPDATED

Old Mother Hubbard
Went to the cupboard,
To fetch her poor dog a bone.
But when she got there,
The cupboard was bare,
So...

As she ate the dog,
By Dropped the dog out on Feder Road.

As she ate the dog,
check and took the dog to McDonald's for lunch.

Do Supply your own driver.

A CLOCKWISE GUIDE TO OPTIONAL EQUIPMENT

As the gas shortage worsened, many students began to ration their gas, using trading stamps to buy fuel.

Some students even began to barter, trading their gas for other goods and services.

As the gas shortage worsened, many students began to ration their gas, using trading stamps to buy fuel.

Some students even began to barter, trading their gas for other goods and services.

As the gas shortage worsened, many students began to ration their gas, using trading stamps to buy fuel.

Some students even began to barter, trading their gas for other goods and services.

As the gas shortage worsened, many students began to ration their gas, using trading stamps to buy fuel.

Some students even began to barter, trading their gas for other goods and services.

EINSIDE OUTSIDE EINSIDE OUT

ECONOMY MODEL WITH ACCESSORIES

